THE HOUSE MAD

Judge Egan's Action Regarding the Coal Combine's Books Arouses the Ire of the Legislature.

Threats to Impeach Him. If He Lays a Finger on a Legislator or Employee.

An Officer Sent From the House to the Court and Seized Walsh and Smout.

Donnelly Roasts Egan to a Turn as a Disolute Judge Elected By the St. Paul Slums.

ST. PAUL, March 20.—[Special to The Herald.]—There was a warm time in the house this morning over the detention of the sergeant-at-arms by the Ramsey county district court. The house did not have a quorum and no sergeant-at-arms to get a quorum present, and then the fun commenced. To say that the house was mad was putting it mildly. Hiler Horton thought articles of impeachment should be prepared against Judge Egan who had brought the sergeant-at-arms and R. A. Walsh, one of the members, before his court to testify as to the whereabouts of coal combine's books.

A joint resolution was offered instructing Walsh to retain the books which passed both houses. Wilson of Red Wing offered resolution appointing a committee to go to the court and demand that R. A. Walsh and Sergeant-at-arms Smout be released.

A new sergeant-at-arms was finally elected and instructions given him to go at once to the court and demand the release of Walsh under proceedings of call of the house and to take his person by force from the custody of the court if necessary.

Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms Wells proceeded to the court and took Walsh off from the witness stand where he was being cross-examined and brought him to the house without objection on the part of the court. The sergeant-at-arms was also released by the court.

Frequent threats were made by the legislators that they would pass a law repealing the act under which the Ramsey district court had brought Egan and Walsh before it, unless such court ceased interference in legislative matters.

It was recited in the house that the sheriff was given power by Judge Egan last Friday to proceed to the capitol and break down the doors of the treasury vault where the book was kept, if necessary to get possession of it. It was also said that the sheriff was given to understand that the coal barons would defend him in any action brought against him to take the book.

A mass indignation meeting of citizens will be held Wednesday in St. Paul to roost the coal combine and to applaud and endorse the legislature for its stand upon the subject.

There was a very slim attendance in the senate this forenoon. The morning session of the legislature was opened with a resolution of Senator Sanborn to take back the whole proceeding against the coal combine and have the legislature surrender to the courts of Ramsey county the right to decide the legal questions involved.

Sanborn's resolution was introduced as a substitute for a resolution which passed the house instructing Judge Egan to hold on to the books taken from J. J. Rhodes. Sanborn justified his resolution on the ground that he did not want to see a law making "body become a law breaking body."

Donnelly roared the whole outfit and said in course of his remarks that if the beggarly court of Ramsey county elected by the slums of St. Paul, laid a hand upon the employees of the house, and proceeded against the legislature, the common people, God help them, "hope to see," said the speaker, "this disolute man Egan brought before the senate by the house and impeached, if he lays a finger upon an officer of either house."

The debate was a long one. Donnelly read from the old English common law to show that the legislature had not transcended its powers and that no officer of the legislature could be arrested or touched by the judicial power.

On a final vote, Sanborn's substitute was voted down, 35 to 3, and the joint resolution instructing Walsh to retain the books was carried by a vote of 41 to 3.

In court this morning Walsh refused to testify or state where the letter impression book was secreted. Judge Egan has taken the question of whether or not he can compel Walsh to testify and will decide the question this afternoon.

Later—This afternoon Judge Egan filed a decision, dismissing Representative Walsh and upholding the legislature in the position taken in taking possession of the books of the coal company. It is a clear victory for the legislature and the investigation of the alleged coal combination will now be proceeded with.

The Duluth tunnel bill passed the house on Saturday afternoon under suspension of rules and was signed by the governor today.

A bill has been reported by the house committee on tax and laws requiring that the state treasurer shall pay to each county in which there are untaxed railroad lands a sum equal to 2 cents per acre on all of said railroad lands each year. The amount is to be paid from the money received from the gross earnings tax and the bill is a substitute for the Boggs bill providing for the distribution of the gross earnings tax among the counties of the state.

IS SENTENCED TO DEATH.

Carlyle Harris, the Wife Murderer, to be Executed on May 8.

NEW YORK, March 20.—Rarely if ever has there been so much excitement around the court of the general sessions building as there was this morning. Carlyle Harris, after having exhausted every possible means to escape the penalty for the murder of his wife, was to be finally re-sentenced by Recorder Smythe.

Notwithstanding the fact that no one was allowed to enter the court room except newspaper men who were authenticated and persons bearing tickets of admission by the district attorney, the room was crowded before 10 o'clock and a dense crowd surrounded the building on all sides.

Shortly before 10 o'clock, Harris entered the court room and sat down in a remote corner closely guarded by the sheriff. He looked very pale and sank back in his chair as if utterly exhausted.

At 10 o'clock Recorder Smythe took the bench and, amid silence so deep that every sound could be distinctly heard, said: "Carlyle W. Harris to the bar."

Harris arose with a start and walked unsteadily through the rows of spectators to the rail. District Attorney Nicoll in a low voice made the usual motion that the sentence be passed. There was silence for a moment when the attorney sat down. Then the recorder, somewhat huskily, said: "Carlyle W. Harris, have you anything to say why the sentence of the court should not be passed upon you?"

Harris leaned with his left hand on the rail and with effective gestures waved his right arm, but although the spectators kept absolutely silent and craned their necks to hear, not one could catch a syllable of what the prisoner was saying. Among the spectators was Mr. Potts, the father of the girl whom Harris married and murdered.

Harris was evidently very weak. He swayed backward and forward as he spoke, and at times seized convulsively the rail to save himself from falling. After the first ten minutes he grew stronger and his voice could be heard by those in his immediate vicinity.

The spectators could only gather that Harris was speaking of the affidavits, which were presented by the defense for the motion for a new trial.

The first time that Harris' accents rang out clear and strong was when he spoke of Dilworth Choate. With a suddenness that startled everyone came the words: "There is one man for whom I have been looking around this court room and I do not see him. He is Dilworth Choate, sneak and perjurer, newspaper outcast, the district attorney's tool."

Harris continued to exhort Choate until his voice failed. It was this way all through Harris' most remarkable speech. For moments at a time his voice was so low that no one could hear. Then as suddenly as before his voice would sink to a husky whisper, his whole form seemed to collapse and he leaned heavily on the rail.

Harris devoted considerable attention to Assistant District Attorney Wellman who was prosecuting in the first trial. While he was talking about Wellman, saying that Harris married in 1882, Harris suddenly hissed, "And I know, and Wellman knows, that Wellman lied." A few minutes later Wellman, who had been sitting alongside Mr. Nicoll, arose and abruptly left the court room. "He had better have gone before," remarked Harris.

A most affecting scene occurred when Harris turned to Mr. Howe and in broken accents said: "Mr. Howe, I let you know what a poor man I am, that I have not and cannot repay your devotion. I want you to take this, my dearest possession, and keep it ever." As he spoke he drew an envelope from his pocket and handed it to Mr. Howe with these words: "Take it, Mr. Howe; it was Helen's last gift to me. Take it with her love."

As he turned his face toward the recorder again Harris sobbed twice convulsively and tears ran down his cheeks. After addressing a few impressive words to the recorder, Harris finished the remarkable speech by turning again to Mr. Howe and handing him some letters. Harris had spoken for an hour and forty minutes.

The recorder then proceeded to review the facts of the case very briefly. He spoke particularly of the application for a new trial, and said he had given the application his consideration, with a very full sense of the responsibility that a human life depended upon his decision. Twice Harris interrupted the recorder to speak of points in the case that he had forgotten before. The recorder heard him patiently.

"You are not here to have the sentence of death pronounced upon you," said the recorder. "That has already been done. The previous sentence has merely to be reaffirmed and the date fixed. The order of the court is that the previous sentence is to be carried out during the week beginning May 8."

Harris made no sign as he heard the date of his death. He already pallid face could be no paler. The envelop which Harris handed to Mr. Howe laid in a pair of gold link cuff buttons.

REFUSED THE PETITION.
The Sentence of Denney, the Homestead Poisoner, Will Stand.

PHILADELPHIA, March 20.—The supreme court today refused to grant the petition to admit to bail and allow a special allocution to Hugh B. Denney, who stands under conviction and sentence in the court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny county on the charge of feloniously murdering assault and battery for an alleged attempt to poison the workmen at Homestead.

The court made no comment on the case. The same tribunal also made a similar order in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Robert Healy on an appeal from the court of quarter sessions of Allegheny county.

A DANGEROUS BLAZE

Car Works at West Duluth Came Very Near Getting a Severe Scorching Yesterday Morning.

Blacksmith Shop Was Gunned, But the Machinery Was Not Badly Damaged—Loss Not Large.

A Report That the Merchants' Bank Will Be the City Depository Under the Martin Administration.

There was a fire at the car works yesterday morning, but fortunately it was well handled and but little damage was done either to the building or machinery. Soon after the alarm was given three streams were playing on the flames, one by the city department and two by the company's private system. The fire broke out in the southeast corner of the blacksmith shop, and with the assistance of the draft caused by the cupola at the top of the structure, traveled with great rapidity.

The shop is located at the south end of the roller mill, and only prompt action on the part of the firemen saved the latter department from destruction. The scorched building is composed of wooden frame work covered with corrugated iron. Most of the timbers are charred and blackened, and as the shafting is hung upon them, some at least will have to be replaced. The estimated loss is about $10,000, but a critical examination will be necessary to determine just how badly the timbers are injured.

This is the second time the blacksmith shop has suffered from fire, it being entirely destroyed together with the roller mill during the winter of '85-86. The machinery was not injured to any great extent and if there is no delay in the adjustment of insurance the damage will be shortly repaired with but little loss of time.

West Duluth Briefs.
Miss Lizzie Kirkwood, of Ontario, Can., is visiting her brother, James A. Kirkwood.

It is currently reported that the village depository will be in the hands of the bank during the Martin administration. Up to the present time the Manufacturers' bank has had full control of the village money.

The car company paid off $25,000 last Saturday evening. The pay roll for the month amounted to over $12,000.

President Matthews, of the car works, spent Saturday in Chicago.

Gospel meetings will be held this week in the Presbyterian church beginning Tuesday evening with a service for young people.

E. V. Huntington, of Minneapolis, is in the city and will bring his family here to reside.

C. Erickson is moving a stock of goods, furnishing goods into the store formerly occupied by Elston Ross.

The family of John Reardon arrived Saturday night from Marquette, Mich., and will take up their residence here in the future.

All officers and men of companies G and H are requested to assemble at Hoy's hall at 8 p. m., Thursday, March 23, to meet Col. J. C. Schaeffer on important military business.

E. W. MARKELL,

Opposed to a Tunnel.
To the Editor of the Herald:
As West Duluth is soon to become a part of your city, we are naturally keeping an eye out upon your movements. We notice in your paper's message that he recommends the tunnel project even at a cost of $1,000,000, claiming as a reason that in the heart of your city manufacturing sites and dock fronts are expensive.

Now as a matter of fact, there is no necessity as yet of running in debt for this enterprise until all along our line front from Duluth to New Duluth is occupied with docks and manufacturing plants. Better not meddle with the canal, contrary to the wishes of the government, for fear in some way you interfere with navigation, for then you may wake up some morning and find our neighbors across the bay have cut another canal across this narrow strip of land opposite their place and we be made to play second fiddle instead of first. This is the sentiment of a majority of the people of West Duluth.

Yours, S. SCHNEIDER.

The German Reichstag.
BERLIN, March 20.—The Reichstag, sitting in the Reichstag building, has today passed a bill authorizing the government to raise a loan of 100,000,000 marks for the purpose of financing the construction of the new Reichstag building.

Duisenberg.
This is not a world's fair puzzle, but the old French way of spelling the name of what is now one of the best states in the Union—Wisconsin. The French explorers named the territory from the river which rises in the northern part of the state, runs due south for 120 miles and then turns westward to the Mississippi. The word means "wild, moving river." It is a rather singular fact that three separate parties of early explorers, in their routes, marked out nearly the boundaries of the present state. One started from the mouth of La Pointe, on the south shore of Lake Superior, went to the head of the lake, where it is now, then came to the site of St. Paul. A second party came from Green Bay, along the Fox and Wisconsin rivers, to the Mississippi. The third party, the Braddock's expedition, when George Washington saw his first battle, Prairie du Chien was for a time held by the British in the war of 1812 and the victory takes its name from the battle which closed the Black Hawk war of 1832. Indian mounds, containing many strange and curious remains, are numerous in the western part of the state, easily accessible to the tourist by the Burlington route, which whisks the traveler through lovely scenery, and past the location of many a romantic legend. ## FOR WORLD'S FAIR ATHLETICS.

Chicago's Fitting Arena for the Meeting of the Champions.

The eyes of all athletes will be turned toward Chicago this year, for many notable contests will occur there. Most of them will be held at the magnificent new grounds of the Chicago Athletic association on Westworth avenue between Thirty-third and Thirty-fifth streets. The grounds, which are the property of the Chicago Base ball club, are the largest and most perfectly appointed in the United States.

They are so large that there is room for a half mile track of clay, a basketball court and seats for 4,000 spectators. The annual games of the Amateur Athletic union, the international races of the League of American Wheelmen and other notable meetings between the premier athletes of the world will be held there.

It is rumored that Emma-Juch will next season be at the head of an organization which will present "The Girl" and "The Girl" and "The Girl" on an adequate but not elaborate scale.

Neil Burgess has been elected a member of the Theatrical Mechanics' association. He is said to be the only actor thus distinguished.

Little Irene Franklin was recently presented at Atlanta with a fine diamond ring by Carmichael, the Spanish dancer.

Amie Fiskley will close her tour May 13 at Chicago and sail for Europe the following week to spend the summer at Carlsbad. She will also have a play next season entitled "Her Honor the Mayor."

W. H. Chisholm, manager of "Our Irish Neighbors," was married at Ypsilanti, Mich., to Dorothy L. Holliday, leading lady of the company.

Maurice Gran, who has been in Europe for some time, has engaged Mme. Melia, Emma Fames, Mimi, Calve, Jean de Resque and 21. Lasse her to sing at Chicago during the world's fair.

Edgar Schlen, the author-actor, who was recently elected to the American Dramaticists' club, has retired from the stage, and for the future will give his attention to the writing of plays.

London's Wrestling Lion.
Prince is the name of a magnificent African lion that wrestles with his trainer nightly at the Oxford inside lion, London. Prince is a pure lion and is as good natured a lion as ever glared through the bars of a cage. Alexander Amosen, a Danish West Indian, has been training Prince for two years and has such perfect control over the king of beasts that he boldly enters his cage, compels him to jump on his back and wrestles with him. The lion is more partial to raw beef than he is to wrestling, but he does very well and quite frequently throws his opponents. Prince also has great control and cuddles up on the floor of the cage with his trainer.

The Bicycle in Time of War.
Captain Howard A. Giddings of the Connecticut national guard is a very enthusiastic military cyclist and has great confidence in the practicability of the use of the wheel in time of war.

He declares that infantry can be mounted on bicycles and cross country riding is a country at remarkable speed and with a steady and which cavalry is a stranger. A safety wheel, he asserts, can go nearly as fast as a horse, and it is not only required in food and rest, but it also never gets sick or exhausted. He points to the Chicago-New York relay race, which was ridden not long ago over the roughest roads and through driving rain to show that the wheel is not a fair weather and asphalt machine. Railroad tracks were used by many of the riders and one of them covered six miles in 21 minutes, although compelled to dismount eight times to cross the tracks.

The Connecticut national guard has a fully equipped bicycle signal corps that has already proved its efficiency. In August, 1892, the corps covered 60 miles in 12 hours, although equipped in regulation heavy marching order.

A Girl Baseball Schedule Maker.
A young woman who never saw a baseball game recently drew the schedule of the Southern league. Her name is Miss Mayne Flatz, and she resides at Piqua, O. The league is a 12-club organization, and the task of so arranging the dates of the teams that no team travels more than 100 miles as possible is far from being an easy one. The first woman who ever performed the work, and her schedule is far better than those prepared by the managers of the Southern league.

Miss Flatz is a big Chicago printing establishment when President C. H. Genslinger of the New Orleans club called to have a schedule printed that he had been wrestling with. He was dissatisfied with his work, and Miss Flatz, who had often planned railroad schedules, volunteered to help him. She kept her word so well that an acceptable schedule was ready in a few hours. She is only 24 years old. Every club in the league will send her a souvenir upon a token of appreciation.

Indians' Self Torture.

It is the custom of the Indians to inflict upon themselves a severe punishment for any crime committed by them. They do this by cutting themselves with sharp knives or by burning themselves with fire.

The Indians of the Northwest are particularly fond of this custom. They will cut themselves with sharp knives or burn themselves with fire for the slightest offense.

This custom is a relic of a barbaric past. It is a punishment that is both cruel and unnecessary. It is a punishment that is inflicted upon the innocent as well as the guilty.

The Indians of the Northwest are a brave and noble people. They are a people who are proud of their customs and traditions. They are a people who are proud of their strength and courage.

ANOTHER SCHOOL SITE

The School Board Decides to Purchase Property for a New Building at West Park.

The Subject of Securing Official School Architects Was Discussed But Not Acted Upon.

Health Officer Goffe Urges Upon the Board the Necessity of Having All Children Vaccinated.

At the regular meeting of the school board Saturday night, the special committee appointed for that purpose, reported that for the new West Park school they had selected a part of two blocks which would cost $12,000. The committee's recommendation that the lots be purchased was adopted.

Health Officer Goffe sent in a communication announcing that the city ordinance with reference to the vaccination of school children was not being enforced rigidly enough. He further announced that he had a nice lot of virus on hand which physicians may obtain upon application, and that parents who are too poor to pay to have their children vaccinated, may have it done gratis by calling at the office of the city physician Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. He also recommended that Superintendent Denfield see that his teachers do all that is possible to secure the vaccination of all their pupils before the opening of the fall term.

Arrangements were made for the purchase of new diplomas upon which will be engraved the Central High school. It was also agreed to name the new school at Park Point the Whittier school.

The matter of retaining in regular and steady service some reliable firm of architects was discussed, the customary plan of competition having some objections. No definite action was taken. The Senior class also had in a request for a commencement orator.

FROM DULUTH TO SUPERIOR.

How the Street Car Companies Will Transfer Passengers.

The method adopted by the Duluth and Superior street car companies for transferring their passengers from Rice's Point to Connor's point and vice versa does not embrace the actual transportation of the street cars from shore to shore on ferry boats.

On either side the street car tracks will stop close to the water's edge. At their ends will be piers. These piers and the termini of the tracks will be surrounded by fences. Patrons of street cars for Duluth will be carried on the cars in Superior and on the ferry to Rice's Point for one fare. They then may continue their journey on foot or may ride anywhere in the city of Duluth for another fare. The same plan will be adopted on the Superior side. Nobody but patrons of the street cars will be permitted to ride on the ferry boats.

Thus a person may ride from South Superior, the steel plant or East Superior to any part of Duluth for 10 cents. The same will be true with passengers from the Duluth side.

The announcement that this system of transferring will be put into effect with the opening of navigation will cause a great deal of rejoicing amongst those who fought to have a wagon and street car bridge erected between Duluth and Superior.

OBJECT LESSON IN MINING.

A Complete Model of the Chandler Mine Goes to the World's Fair.

Every school boy has written his "composition" on iron and its extreme usefulness and told in strongest terms what a calamity to the human race it would be to do without it. Few of the outside world, however, says the Ely Times, have any conception of the modus operandi of getting the ore out of the bowels of the earth where nature has put it.

For the purpose of giving the general public a better idea of what iron mining really is and to inform the world at large of the great wealth of the Vermilion range of Northern Minnesota by an object lesson, General Superintendent John Pennington of the Chandler mine has resorted to a novel scheme. For the last two weeks or more he has had a gang of men at work making a complete model of the mine, including the shaft, the levels, the crosscuts, the sub-levels, cross-cuts and drifts, for exhibition at the world's fair.

Ole Friedberg has charge of the mechanical part of the construction of this model, which is complete in every detail, even to the men with their shovels and picks and the timekeeper keeping track of them. It is 6 feet long, 5 feet high and 5 feet wide, and represents a great block of the mine 648 feet long, 350 feet deep and 360 feet wide, just as though a block of that size had been carved out and set upon a platform.

It shows the contour of the surface, the shaft houses and trainways, the stock piles and rock dumps, shafts, cables, cages, levels, sublevels, drifts, cross-cuts, shutes, ladders and all that in any way pertains to the mine, in miniature. On one side is a compartment left where a lamp can be placed so as to light up the drifts and levels enabling one at a glance to take it all in. This compartment will be lighted with an electric light when the model reaches Chicago. It will be understood that this model is only a fac simile of a portion of the mine including shafts one and two as stated above.

In connection with this model and to be sent with it to Chicago for exhibition, Allen D. Bell, civil and mining engineer, has prepared a large map showing a sectional cross-cut view of the same portion of the mine. It shows eight levels and about twenty sub levels, being much comprehensive than it were possible to make the model.

OPENING OF NAVIGATION.

Vessel Owners Are Not Anxious for an Early Opening.

"Just as soon as the straits are open," That is the answer the reporter got from every person whom he asked as to when the big freight carriers would make their first trips up the lakes. But the strait of Mackinac are frozen fast and dispatches from the Soo say that the ice there is fully two feet thick and that teams are constantly driving across the frozen fields. No sudden intelligence could be borne to the hundreds of men who have long since been "broke," and who have looked forward to the opening of navigation as the sole means of keeping the wolf away, says the Buffalo Courier.

Vessel owners are not anxious for an early season. "There is just so much amount of freight to be carried," they say, "and if we can carry it all during a short season we can make more money because our expenses are lighter, and if the shippers are at all anxious to move the freight they are willing to pay better rates."

It is the general opinion of experienced lake men that the lakes will not be clear of ice before May 1 at the very earliest, and some of them place the date about ten days later. Last year the first boats left this port April 7, and ran until late in December. It was an unusually long season and a disastrous one so far as accidents were concerned. The insurance companies suffered extensively, and at a convention held in Detroit this winter adopted resolutions providing for the inspection of all craft, at the expense of the owners, before they will be rated in the inland Lloyd's register.

Speaking of this action of the underwriters, a prominent vessel owner and broker said that the scheme was meeting with considerable opposition from vessel men. "They purpose," he said "to charge one cent a ton for such inspection. In making up the register they will not dare to give the boat a rating unless it has been inspected. In many cases they are inspecting the boats without having had any application from the owners. They do this with the expectation that in time all the owners will file applications to place their vessels inspected, when they will at once insert the rating in the registry book, without having to make the inspection at an inconvenient time. But I shall not apply to them, and I know of many others who will not. When the proper time comes they will want to insure our boats and will be willing to give a rating at their own expense."

"This calls to mind another unpleasant feature of the insurance business. The companies appoint a board of arbitration to adjust the general average of lake losses, and their decision is supposed to be final. On the contrary the insurance company itself is the arbitrator in many cases. If the decision of the board is satisfactory to the company it is the loss, and if it is not satisfactory it denies the authority of the board and refuses to pay the loss. Many insurance underwriters

The prospects for high opening rates are good. Many vessels at Chicago are loaded with grain, under contract to sail as soon as the season opens. The rates on wheat are 4 cents and on corn 3 1/2 cents. It is expected these rates will decline after the first trip, but there is a great quantity of grain to be moved, and vessel men hope for good rates all the season. They believe that the rate to Chicago and Milwaukee will open at 70 or 80 cents a ton, and the Duluth rates at 40 cents. Coal is nearly cleaned up in the West, and it is thought the movement will be brisk all summer. The big line boats will carry the bulk of ore from Duluth, and that, it is thought, will keep up the coal rates for independent boats.

THE PATRONAGE DIVIDED.

Baldwin, Hall and Doran to Manage Affairs in Minnesota.

A Washington special says: It is rumored that Representative Hall, in the Third district, and Representative Baldwin, in the Sixth district, will manage the patronage in those districts and appoint whom they desire. In the other districts, it is claimed, Mr. Doran's opinion will be most weighty.

Doran does not give this out himself, but a very close friend in Washington says that is about the way things will go, and that the best thing Hall and Baldwin can do is to accept this arrangement. Defeated representatives for congress, it is said, are not to be considered, and they also have been advised by this same friend to let matters rest at that.

This information has caused consternation in the Minnesota Democratic camp here. If all that has been said could be published it would show a nice state of affairs existing among the Democrats who hope to distribute and receive appointments. It is understood that Doran has had an intimation from the White House that anything he says goes. While this talk is going on Doran sits serenely at the Arlington and seems to feel better than anybody.

John McDonald, of Virginia, was brought down last Saturday evening by Marshal Ross and was taken to the county jail. He is charged with mayhem and was held to answer to the grand jury with bail fixed at $5000. He is accused of biting off one of Michael Keating's ears and it is said to have been done without provocation.

CATARRH IN CHILDREN

For over two years my little girl's life was made miserable by a case of Catarrh. The discharge from the nose was large, constant and very offensive. Her eyes became inflamed, the lids swollen and very painful. After trying various remedies, I gave her SSS. The first bottle seemed to SSS aggravate the disease, but the symptoms soon abated, and in a short time she was cured.

AT THE PAVILION.

A Great Crowd Present at the Band Concert Yesterday.

The popularity of the pavilion was fully illustrated yesterday afternoon at the second city band concert of the year. There were about 5000 visitors to the big house on the hilltop and the auditorium on the second floor, the roof promenade and the lookout tower were thronged with people from an early hour after dinner to well along to 6 o'clock. There was only one complaint about the band concert and that was the shortness of the musical program. Had the band been an inferior one it would have been long enough, but the people could not get too much of such excellent music as was furnished yesterday. Every number was applauded but no encores were given.

The concerts will be continued every Sunday afternoon hereafter and "special request" pieces will be given provided the requests reach Professor Meier, the leader, early in order that they may be thoroughly practiced before being performed. The three hours have not come out of their hibernating quarters yet, although the big black one shoved his nose through the snow yesterday afternoon, but withdrew it again. The herd of deer attracted a great deal of attention as did the other animals.

About 1500 people visited the new district of Highland Park and all were surprised at the big showing of building that has sprung up since last fall. About 120 houses are now erected or in various stages of construction.

Board of Trade Site.

The board of trade met Saturday afternoon and discussed the site propositions. The sentiment was almost entirely favorable to the First street site, Messrs. Spencer, Hartmann, Forbes and many others speaking in its favor. The opinion was also unanimous that a new building should be erected. Another meeting will be held Wednesday and the vote on the questions taken.

No doubt it surprises many how Hulberg Bros., the jewelers at 180 West Superior street, can sell so many of those finely adjusted railroad watches at such very low prices. But they believe in small profits and quick sales. If you need a watch come and see us. Can save you money.

Got Hurt Himself.
J. H. Whitney was stabbed Saturday afternoon at Superior by James McWalters. Whitney runs one of the pile drivers at work at the East end and had a quarrel with Walters, who is one of his workmen, over a question of wages. Walters claimed he was not receiving all that was due him, and threw away his check and used his knife quite freely on Whitney's face and arms. He has not been arrested and it is thought he has left town. Whitney is not badly injured. Whitney is the same man who attacked Sam Fullerton at the Hartman Electric company's new building some time ago breaking his nose and otherwise injuring him.

Transferred Some Grades.
So as not to impede the movements of the workmen who will construct the addition of the Jackson school, four departments were transferred to the Central High school this morning. Miss Martin retains her classes, those in the fourth grade, while the pupils in the third, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades have been moved into corresponding grades in the Central building.

Remember the Perry concert at the Congregational church Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Union Skating Rink
Will close after Saturday, March 25th. This is your last chance to skate on a good rink to good music. Wednesday and Saturday evenings. Come everybody.

BAD EXPLOSION.

The Immense Keeler Flouring Mill at Litchfield, Ill., Was Blown to Fragments This Morning.Terrific Explosion Caused by Coal Dust While Employes and Firemen Were Fighting a Fire.One Man Was Instantly Killed, Several Were Seriously Injured and Much Property Badly Destroyed.Another Explosion in Rome Caused by a Dynamite Bomb, the Second Within a Week.LITCHFIELD, Ill., March 21.—At 3:30 o'clock this morning fire was discovered in the big Keeler flouring mill in this place, and despite the efforts of the employes it quickly spread throughout the building. In less than twenty minutes the flames were beyond control. While the employes and firemen were fighting the flames a terrific explosion, caused by flour dust, occurred and the immense structure was blown to fragments.John Cowie, the head millwright living at Waterloo, N. Y., was instantly killed and several employes were seriously injured. The explosion wrecked nearly every business place in the village. Many people were hurt by flying bricks and falling timbers. The damage to the mill alone will reach $100,000 and other property was damaged over $150,000.The shock was felt in the adjoining villages of Clyde, Butler, Gillespie and Hillsboro. In many of these places the conclusion was so great that plate glass windows were broken. When the fire started, the citizens of this town were awakened by the ringing of fire bells, and before many of them could dress they were stunned by the terrific shock of the explosion and the next moment found the walls of their homes falling upon them. It is not yet known how the fire originated.Those already known to be badly impaired by rheumatism and other ailments were Mrs. R. Richardson, Mrs. P. Lynch, John Donohue, Joseph Neutler, John Kavanney. Their injuries are severe, but will not prove fatal.The fire was discovered by the night watchman in the rear room of the mill.
He ran to a living room and called out did not work properly, and in an instant the flames spread to adjoining rooms. In less than two minutes the flames reached the four rolling rooms and an explosion of dust followed. The night watchman was hurled through a window and badly injured. Millwright John Cowie was struck by the shock and fell to the ground and was killed.The immense building tottered for a second and fell in a heap of blazing timbers. The flames leaped across a small passageway and ignited two large grain elevators. In the elevators were stored 20,000 barrels of flour and 500,000 bushels of wheat. The firemen were driven back by the intense heat, and in less than half an hour the elevators and their contents were a total loss. Several small buildings adjacent to the elevators were burned.The shock of the explosion, was heard twenty-five miles away and windows were broken and chimneys blown down in towns ten miles distant. Nearly every house in a radius of two blocks from the mill was badly wrecked. All the plate glass in the stores on Main street and State street was blown out.The flour mills and elevators were owned by Keeler Bros. of St. Louis, and their loss is estimated at $500,000. This is partially covered by insurance. About forty small dwellings, houses were wrecked and many others slightly damaged. The Wabash railway tracks run between the flour mill and elevators and are covered with debris for a distance of 100 feet. The company will only suffer slight inconvenience, as they will use the tracks of other roads at this point.

ANOTHER BOMB EXPLOSION.

Outrage at the Residence of the Grand Marshal of the Papal Court.ROME, March 21.—A short time after the explosion last night of a bomb at the Marignoli palace, in the suburbs of Rome, another explosion occurred in the city, being the second outrage of the kind within the city proper in less than a week, the first having occurred on Friday last at the Ancini Mattei palace, the residence of the Hon. William Porter, the United States minister.Last night's outrage was perpetrated at the residence of the Marquis Sac-chetti, grand marshal of the papal court, and has caused a feeling of great anxiety in Vatican circles, in view of the fact that the efforts of the dynamites seem in a measure to be directed against the attaches of the pope's court.On Saturday morning last an attempt was made to blow up with a bomb the Palazzo Altieri, the headquarters of the papal guardia nobili, but was frustrated by a boy who discovered the bomb with burning fuse attached. The boldness of the authors of these outrages is evidenced by the fact that the Palazzo Altieri is situated close to the Via Nazionale, one of the principal streets of the city, along which people are constantly passing.The bomb which exploded last night had been within the entrance of the missionary Sacchetti's residence and the noise of the explosion was heard for a great distance. The only material damage was the smashing of many windows of the palace, though the walls in some places bore the marks of the explosion.This affair caused the police to be more than usually vigilant and during the night another bomb was found on the staircase of a house in the Via Deelli Quattro Fontane. A lighted fuse was at-tached to this bomb and it was discovered just in time to prevent an explosion.
The police have no clue to the authors of the outrages, though they firmly believe that they are anarchists who are trying to intimidate the authorities and thus prevent the punishment of a number of their friends who were recently arrested. This theory is not generally accepted, however, as the outrages have been directed as much against the vatican officers as against the government.

JOHN MACKAY IS WORSE.

Peritonitis Has Set in and His Condition is Dangerous.SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Millionaire John W. Mackay has had a change for the worse and is taken to be in a dangerous condition. Something has lodged in the vermiform appendix and peritonitis has set in. An operation is necessary and this in Mr. Mackay's weakened condition will be dangerous.
He was delirious Sunday night and was under the influence of opiates, but yesterday was a trifle better. He knows his condition and has calmed his wife and son. The latter leaves Liverpool today.

GUILTY OF CORRUPTION.

Charles De Lessops, Balthaut and Blondin Convicted in the Panama Case, the Others Being Acquitted.PARIS, March 21.—Today M. Mange, who appeared for Antoine Proust, presented his reasons why Proust should not be convicted under the indictment for corruption in connection with the Panama affairs found against him.
He made an able presentation of his case endeavoring to show the jury that Proust's actions showed no guilt on his part. Upon the conclusion of M. de Mange's address the cases were given to the jury, who retired to consider their verdict.Later—Charles De Lessops, accused of corrupting ex-Minister of Public Works Balthaut to support the Panama lottery bonds bill, has just been found guilty by the jury. Balthaut, who confessed his guilt in open court, has also been found guilty and Blondin, who acted as a go-between in the bribery of Balthaut, has also been found guilty.All the other prisoners are acquitted.
These are: Marquis Fontaine, Panama canal director; M. Sans-Leroy, ex-deputy who was charged with changing his vote in connection with the Panama bill as the result of bribery; Senator Beral, accused of being bribed by Baron Reinach, and Deputy de la Faurie, who was accused of corruption.

HAS SAILED FOR HAWAII.

President Cleveland's Envoy Has Started for Honolulu.SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Ex-Congressman Blount and party boarded the Rush immediately on their arrival here yesterday afternoon. The Rush then started on her voyage to Honolulu.Mr. Blount was until March 4 the Democratic father of the house of representatives. Upon that date he retired after twenty years' uninterrupted service as a member. He was at the time chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, where he gained a knowledge of the international relations of the United States that especially fits him for the position to which he has been chosen.Mr. Blount is a native of Macon, Ga., where he was born Sept. 12, 1837.
He made his first appearance in public life in 1872, when he was elected to congress from the Sixth district of Georgia.Since that time he has been continuously re-elected. At the time of his last election he had a hard fight against the Farmers' alliance, but came out successfully, although six of his colleagues went down before the new element. When Mr.
Blount entered congress James G. Blaine was serving his third and last term as speaker. Since then six other speakers
—Kerr, Randall, Keiser, Carlisle, Reed and Cyprian—have presided.At the beginning of his second term Mr. Blount was appointed a member of the committee on appropriations. He was chosen by Speaker Keiser to succeed
Mr. Randall on the committee on rules.
Mr. Blount retired from the house because he declined to take a re-nomination last fall.

A GRAND ARMY ROW.

Opposition Among Indiana Veterans to the National Encampment.INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 21.—The opposition among the local members of Grand Army posts to the holding of the national encampment in this city has taken definite shape in a movement to adopt resolutions at the state encampment, declaring that the veterans of Indiana deem it inexpedient for the national encampment to be held in Indiana this year.For a month past the matter has been quietly canvassed in the several posts of this city, and in one having 350 members a vote was taken and it was unanimous in the opposition to the holding of the national encampment here.The state encampment meets at Evansville in April and it is proposed to draft resolutions, reciting the fact that the monument commission has Mexi-canized the soldiers and sailors monument; that it is no longer a monument to honor the heroes of the late war, and that it is the sentiment of the posts that as an organization should not participate in the dedication exercises.Pursuing the Rebels.
New York, March 21.—The Herald's Valparaiso special says: The Herald's correspondent at Rivera telegraphs that Gen. Portugal's cavalry regiment of 500 men have charged on the city of Santa Ana. The government general, Isidore Fandez, with 1,000 troops, is in hot pursuit of the rebels, who are fleeing toward Bago. The revolutionists in Catamarca are destroying houses and vineyards. They are being pursued by the national guard.

REVISING RATES.

Senator March Wants the Railroad Commissioners to Revise all the Freight and Terminal Rates.Bill Introduced for a Survey of the Duluth & Iron Range Respecting its Land
Grant.Donnelly Has the Duluth Elevator Bill Placed Ahead of the Capitol Bill in the Senate.The Joint Resolution Reserving Supposed Coal Lands From Sale Killed in the House Today.ST. PAUL, March 21.—[Special to The Herald.]—Petitions were received in the senate this morning against the extension of the powers of the railroad and warehouse commission. Senator March introduced a joint resolution authorizing the board of railroad and warehouse commissioners to revise the freight and terminal rates on the different railroads, because the same have not been revised for several years.Mr. Little introduced a bill relating to elections of street commissioners of villages incorporated under special acts.
Mr. Wood introduced a bill for letting certain railway grants as follows: Grants of the Minneapolis & St. Cloud, Mankato & St. Cloud, St. Cloud, Mankato & Austin, and Duluth, St. Cloud, Mankato & Southern and their successors.A big fight occurred this morning over the committee's report in favor of the capitol bill passing the senate. Senators Davis and Donnelly opposed the report and Donnelly succeeded in getting the elevator bill at Duluth just ahead of the capitol bill on general orders.Senator Leavitt introduced a bill authorizing the land commissioner of the state to cause a survey of the Duluth & Iron Range road to ascertain if the same has been built according to the law providing therefor. The bill is now in the committee on land. The bill is longer than it should be, only so much land shall be granted as the shortest and most feasible route would call for under the act mentioned. An appor-tionation of $1,000 is made to carry out the provisions of the act.In the house today T. Cole called up the senate joint resolution with reference to the sale or lease of land believed to contain coal in St. Louis county. Mr.
Cotton moved to amend that in the event that the legislature passed no law relating thereto this resolution shall not operate beyond the end of the session. He spoke earnestly in favor of the resolution as amended and said he would like to have a chance to vote for a bill to allow the leasing of any coal lands there may be in the state. Mr. Boggs also spoke against the resolution. Bob Dunn withdrew his support from the measure and it was indefinitely postponed. The Minneapolis delegation stood solidly by Duluth.Mr. Cotton moved to read house file 744 a second time and place in on the calendar. It legalizes the acts of Park Point village on the street railway franchise. The motion prevailed.The state normal school committee of the house this morning reported back the bill for a state normal school at Duluth without recommendations as to passage and recommended that it be referred to the committee on appropriations and it was so referred.The woman's municipal suffrage bill passed the senate this morning by a vote of 31 to 19.

THE RICHMOND TERMINAL.

Reorganization of the System Now an Assured Fact.NEW YORK, March 21.—The Herald says: The reorganization of the big Richmond Terminal system of more than 6,000 miles by Drexel, Morgan & Co. may now be said to be assured. The plan is about ready and it may be announced any day.One of the first steps towards restoring order out of chaos will be the appointment of a receiver for the Richmond &
Danville road who will represent Drexel, Morgan & Co. and be entirely independent of either faction in the company.
Samuel Spencer, who is connected with the banking firm, will be selected for the position.It is understood that Receiver Reuben Foster will be the one to retire. Receiver Huidekoper will remain, but he will act in harmony with the proposed scheme of reorganization. Drexel, Morgan & Co. will thus have complete access to the books and all the necessary legal steps can be taken without interruption.

WAS NOT A STRANGER

Superintendent Myers, of the Reformatory, Found an Old Offender in Al Yarrington.

He Served a Term of Fourteen Months in the Reformatory Under the Name of Ryan.

Was Formerly Sent up From Minneapolis for Stealing a Lot of Machinery and Selling it.

Superintendent Myers, of the state reformatory at St. Cloud, was in the city this morning and made a call on Sheriff Sharkey to notify that official that he would be in readiness upon his return from Grand Rapids next Thursday to take the prisoners who have been sentenced to that institution down with him. He went into the jail and the four prisoners were pointed out to him. They are Yarrington, Nelson, Gilmore and Engen.

As soon as the superintendent stepped up to Yarrington's cell he cried out to the prisoner: "Hallo! are you coming to stay with me again, Ryan?" and the old but young offender laughed and said: "Yes, I guess so." Superintendent Myers turned to the jail officers and said: "Why, that man served fourteen months with me and was discharged only a short time ago. He stole a lot of machinery and sold it for scrap iron in Minneapolis. He was committed under the name of Ryan."

It is not improbable that Judge Ensign may, in view of this discovery, sentence Yarrington to the penitentiary instead of the reformatory.

Floods in California. SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Heavy rains have caused the San Joaquin river to overflow its banks in many places. Stockton and Merced are under water today and other towns are threatened. The Sacramento and tributary rivers are also rising rapidly.

IS IN A QUANDARY. Professor Meier is Placed in an Embarrassing Position Regarding His Band.

Professor Meier, the leader and organizer of the city band, is in a quandary. When he received an offer from Buffalo last fall, the citizens raised a fund to keep him here and enable him to increase the membership to twenty-five men. This he did and during the winter purchased a large amount of high class music. The band rehearsed and the magnificent improvement, both in the quality of music and in the band, was manifest to everyone who heard it at the Pavilion concert of last Sunday and the Sunday previous.

The Street Railway company desires to hire the band for the summer, but claims that it cannot afford to pay for more than seventeen men, the same number as last year. If Professor Meier were to accept this he cannot give anything other than the same music which he played last summer. The orchestra of this new music is all for twenty-five pieces, and none of it can be rendered by seventeen men. Then if he should accept and present the same music—"diseased chestnutty pieces" as he says—the people who subscribed for his benefit will ask what they got for their money.

Prof. Meier says that the people who gave toward the band have a right to expect something better than last year and he is prepared to give it but if he must play with seventeen men he can give no better.

PURCHASED A BOAT. The Smith-Feo Company Has Bought the Steam Barge Otego.

The Smith-Feo company has purchased the small steam barge Otego, formerly owned and documented at Marquette but now wintering at Buffalo. She will be fitted out immediately and brought up here as soon as the ice will permit. She will be placed on the Duluth-south shore-Portage Lake route. She was built in 1874 at Port Robinson, Ont. and was formerly known as the British steamer City of St. Catharines. She became an American bottom some years ago and will hereafter hail from Duluth. She has some good passenger accommodations. Her dimensions are: Gross tonnage, 334.50; net tonnage, 228.28; length, 139 feet; breadth, 25.9 feet; depth, 13.7 feet.

The Best System of Fortification Is that adopted by people in precarious health who wisely fortify their system against disease with that acceptable and effectual barrier against its inroads—Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Precautionary measures, when the health is but slightly impaired are as physicians well know, worth any amount of medication afterward. A premonitory malarial chill, a fit of indigestion, increasing irregularity of the bowels, a warning rheumatic twinge, inactivity of the kidneys, slight at first, bilious sallowness accompanied with furred tongue—these are appeals to the sense of self-protection which no person of common judgment will disregard. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters preserves those who take it from malaria, dyspepsia, chronic constipation, rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble, and liver complaint. Nervous invalids, persons troubled with infirmities incident to advanced years, ladies in delicate health and convalescents derive infinite benefit from the Bitters.

The North Galveston Brick Plant. The kiln of red pressed brick that was opened a few days ago at North Galveston, Tex., revealed a quality of material which was pronounced by experts as fully equal in density, durability and color to the best St. Louis pressed brick. The North Galveston Brick company is a pretty big concern. The machines, buildings, yards and general capacity equals some of the best plants in the country. More factories being built, a steady increase in population and an abundant influx of capital seems to be the present record of this thrifty young city. For particulars call or address Holwick & Youngblood, 327 West Superior street, Duluth, Minn., the local agent, or address the North Galveston association, box 663, Minneapolis, Minn.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE. Committee Appointed to Investigate the Canal Tunnel.

At the chamber of commerce this morning a committee consisting of D. G. Cash, A. T. Crossley, R. C. Mitchell, J. W. Miller and Beriah Magoffin was appointed to investigate and report to the chamber the manner in which the construction of the tunnel will be carried on under the bill passed by the legislature. This report is to include the plan of assessment and the issue of bonds and in effect to explain everything connected with the problem of building the tunnel.

The payment of a bill of $60 for 1000 copies of Proctor Knott's speech was authorized. A report from the legislative committee was to the effect that the Tawney double taxation bill and another objectionable bill will not pass.

Was Driven Insane. TOLEDO, O., March 21.—Joseph Flynn, who owned the two buildings that were crushed to the earth last night by the falling walls of the Wheeler Opera house, that had been standing since the late fire, became insane this morning on account of the loss of the buildings, as he had not a cent of insurance upon them. He raved and became so violent that he was placed in the padded cell at the police station.

THE MUNICIPAL COURT.

The Usual Assortment of Vags and Drunkards up This Morning.

In municipal court this morning Thomas Clark was again up on the charge of vagrancy and begging on the streets. He told such a plausible story of a prospective job and a burning desire to go out and labor that his honor a second time with Thomas suspended sentence.

Carl Olaf Aase, James Campbell, John Friesberg and Ed. Murphy were all found guilty of intoxication and given the regular penalty. N. Gweden charged with drunkenness failed to appear, whereupon $5 deposited as bail was declared forfeited.

Joseph Laughlin denied that he was guilty on the charge of disorderly conduct and indecent exposure of person. His trial was set for 2 p. m. in this afternoon.

DECIDEDLY AMUSING.

Two Small Boys Quarreled Over Some Playthings and the Matter Was Taken Into Court.

The Father of One Boy Charged the Other With the Theft of His Son's Knife.

Wanted Him to Give Bonds to Keep the Peace in Future—The Case Dismissed.

"The State of Minnesota vs. Geo. West, robbery in the third degree," was the title of a case before Judge Winje yesterday afternoon. An inspection of the complaint showed that it had been sworn out by Maj. Clinton B. Sears, who alleged that on March 1, "one George West then and there being, did, wrongfully, unlawfully and feloniously make an assault upon Marion S. Sears, and one pocket knife of the value of 50 cents, and one horse-shoe magnet of the value of 25 cents, said knife and said magnet being the personal property of the said Marion S. Sears, from his person against his will and by means of putting him in fear of immediate injury to his person, unlawfully and feloniously did steal take and carry away with intent here and then to appropriate said knife and magnet to the use of him, the said George West."

A visit to the court room found the major sitting with dignified men amidst the witnesses for the prosecution, Marion S. Sears, aged 8 years; Lincoln Blackwell, aged 8, and "Nina" Ebenezer Magfinner, aged 7 years. "Nina" Ebenezer three short weeks ago wore Little Lord Fauntleroy curls, but since then he has been shorn only too well. Hard by sat George Washington West, the defendant, flanked by his father and a younger brother who had come to see how a dose of justice is administered.

County Attorney C. C. Tear had been summoned to prosecute the amateur Dick Turpin. When once that official had appeared the doubtful major arose, cleared his throat, and with a manner that was the envy of every young attorney in the room, stated that his boy had been thrown into great mental distress and nervous excitement by this assault and robbery, but that he would withdraw his complaint if the culprit's father would give bonds for his proper behavior. Judge Winje, who barely would keep a smile from curling out and over his judicial ermine whiskers, had not called the case that and no one had been sworn. He called upon Mr. West to state what he knew of the matter.

The father of the alleged highwayman said that his son had the articles in his possession and had stated that young Marion had given them to him to play with. He also stated that since the alleged robbery, his boy had called to Sears jr., to come and get the playthings and that despite this, major's allegation to that effect, he did not think

Marion was in much bodily or mental fear, for he had played in his yard with a young son of the defendant. Mr. West further said that Maj. Sears had not condescended to speak to him about the matter, but had he done so, full efforts would have been made to correct any wrong doing.

The major said: "Your honor, all that is exparte and secondary testimony." The judge faintly and tearfully glared at that unwarranted and old hand use of legal terms sacred to the use of full-fledged lawyers.

Judge Winje said that he would dismiss the case. Then Major Sears and the witnesses for the state, Marion S. Sears, Abraham Lincoln Blackwell, and "Nina" Ebenezer Magfinner trooped into the clerk's office and drew their witness fees, $5.50 in all, then headed by the major who preferred to impose an expense of ten or fifteen dollars on the taxpayers instead of talking five minutes with Mr. West. Major Sears, Abraham Lincoln Blackwell and "Nina" Ebenezer Magfinner, the 8-year-old witnesses for the state, trooped out again.

BOTH LEGS TAKEN OFF.

A St. Paul & Duluth Brakeman Meets With a Terrible Accident.

Peter Gallagher, an old employee of the St. Paul & Duluth road, was seriously injured yesterday morning. He was working as brakeman for Conductor Welch and was switching cars at the time of the accident. He fell in front of some advancing cars and both legs were cut off close to the knees and his body was otherwise bruised and mangled so that recovery is extremely doubtful. He is a married man and has a large circle of friends.

ONLY ONE CONFIRMED.

The Council Approves the Appointment of A. H. Crassweller as Assistant City Attorney.

The Committee to Whom the Mayor's Appointments Were Referred Made No Report Last Evening.

Chairman Cox, of the Committee, Resigned Because the Council Confirmed Mr. Crassweller Without a Report.

Standing room only was the state of affairs at the council chamber last evening. A large crowd of patriots was out to see a lot of expected fun in connection with the action of the council on the three appointments made by the mayor one week ago. Things poked along without incident until the report of the committee on public officers and offices was called.

"No report" said Chairman Cox with a gentle smile.

Then the crowd caught on or thought it did. It at once jumped to the conclusion that the council would never refuse to confirm his honor's appointment for the simple reason that they would be smothered by the committee.

The wheels made a few turns when Alderman Myers raised his voice and shield his castor in the ring. He demanded why the committee on public officers and offices had not reported upon the appointment of assistant city attorney. Mr. Myers stated that this was a matter which in justice and courtesy to both the city attorney and his assistant, no delay was proper. He then moved that the appointment of A. H. Crassweller be confirmed. That was duly seconded. Alderman Cox raised objections to the matter being taken from his committee in that matter and stated that he had done his best to get a report ready but that circumstances over which he had no control had forbidden. The question was then put and the following vote resulted:

Aye—Dingwall, Getty, Hugo, Helm, Howard, Myers, Nelson, Thomas and Spencer.

Nays—Cox, Sorensen, Oie, Absent—Quinby and Wilson.

At the close of the meeting Alderman Cox resigned the chairmanship of the above committee.

A resolution was placed authorizing the purchase of the site for the new fire engine house on First street at a price of $16,500.

Alderman Hugo in a resolution stated that now, as by legislation, all the legal difficulties in the way of the proposed tunnel were removed; that it was the sense of the council that the matter should be pushed. The resolution, which was passed, requires the board of public works to submit a report showing how the assessment is to be made, whether or not property can be found benefited sufficiently to meet the cost and plans for the improvement. An application from the city engineer's office, asking for one insurance map and five pair of snow shoes was denied. The city engineer's plans for the proposed Garfield viaduct were approved.

The reports of the city treasurer, comptroller and city clerk were received. The clerk's report showed license receipts for the past year as follows:

Liquor	$97,700 00
Hack and dray	288 01
Amusement and exhibition	441 00

MAY REMOVE TO DULUTH.

Another Planing Mill and Box Factory May Come From Saginaw.

The Saginaw correspondent of the Northwestern Lumberman says that there is an unconfirmed rumor floating that O'Donnell & Spencer, of that city have been offered a bonus of $2,000 to remove their planing mill and box factory plant to Duluth.

On account of the stormy weather it is believed by some of the lumbermen that the log supply will be 30 per cent short this year and Surveyor General Ash figures on a 33 per cent shortage but his estimate is considered rather high. It is true that in a few instances loggers who started out to put in, say, 2,000,000 feet have not banked 500,000 feet, but such cases are rare. The heaviest loggers are four-fifths through with their winter's work, and some of them have entirely cleaned up and sent their crews in.

Besides, the railway facilities are fairly good and there will be a greater amount of summer logging than usual or than had been figured on.

Bradley & Hanford, who had a nine-mile haul, have finished their work, putting in 6,000,000 feet. They are still in the woods, however, and will log until the final break-up. The Boeing estate, logging on the St. Louis, has put in 10,000,000 feet and is about through for the winter.

The Saginaw Lumber company is doubling its dock room at its mill in West Duluth, and will soon after the opening of navigation have one and one-half miles of dock front on the two slips. The new dock is 2700 feet long and 93 feet wide and will carry 15,000,000 feet of lumber. Over 5000 piles are being driven for the foundation. When this dock is finished the company, together with Mitchell & McClure, adjoining, will have three miles of dock frontage, with capacity for over 50,000,000 feet.

The box factory of J. G. Conderman, located near the Saginaw Lumber company's mill, has begun operations. He starts off with a big trade already established, as he began business at the west end about a year ago. He ships boxes largely to Minneapolis and St. Paul, and as far west as Montana.

Piling timber is growing very scarce in the Duluth market. There is plenty of small Norway and other suitable timber in the streams and banked, but much of it will not be available until later in the season. In the meantime, there is some lively skirmishing on the part of contractors for piling to be put into work now under way. Something like 5,000 piles have been driven for the Mesaba ore docks, and the work of piling is not half done. A score of other contracts calling for similar amounts are being handled, and small Norway is at a premium.

The English Gaiety Girls.

Turner's English Gaiety Girls will present the sensational burlesque "Cleopatra" at the Temple this evening. They have been playing with good success throughout the East. The Baltimore Sun says of them:

"There was a large-sized audience at the Academy last evening to enjoy the production of 'Cleopatra,' as given by the English Girls of Mr. Turner's popular company. The burlesque was heard to considerable advantage, as it had the benefit of a particularly strong cast, including Miss Nellie Russell and George H. Turner. The 'serpentine dance,' as rendered by Misses Fleming, Hazel, Russell and Rose Mountain, received well merited applause. The funny business of Fred Barth and C. Dunn evoked great fun. These principles made up an ensemble that was pleasantly effective while chorus and orchestra did meritorious work. The audience showed unmistakably that they appreciated the performance."

Next Week Attractions.

On Monday and Tuesday "The White Squadron" one of the greatest dramatic productions of the year will be at the Temple. On Wednesday Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company will appear and on Friday and Saturday Lewis Morrison will be seen in "Faust" and "Richard III."

At the Lyceum Field's minstrels, which is spoken of as one of the best minstrel organizations now before the public, will be seen at the Lyceum, Marshall P. Wilder will read on Wednesday evening and with him Miss Lotta Gilman. On Saturday evening the Cornell boys will give a concert.

Professor Perry's Recital.

This evening Edward Baxter Perry, the pianist, the announcement of whose appearance was hailed with delight by music lovers, will appear at the Lyceum Congregational church. Mr. Perry is a lecture as well as piano recital. He combines with the rendition of his selections a short lecture before each number explaining it and calling attention to its particular style and characteristics as well as those of the composer. Mr. Perry appears under the auspices of the Cecilia society and will be assisted by Mrs. Wardwell and Mrs. Kirkland.

STATE ARMORIES

The Bill Appropriating $150,000 for Their Maintenance Has Been Recommended for Indefinite Postponement.

General Orders in Both the House and Senate Are Crowded With Bills Awaiting Consideration.

The Law Against Combines Likely to be Amended for the Benefit of Manager Rhodes.

Senator Daugherty Secures the Passage of the Bill Closing Up the Business of Lakeside.

ST. PAUL, March 22.—[Special to The Herald.]—There are over 230 bills on general orders in the house and about 120 in the senate. The house committee on appropriations has decided to recommend for passage house bill 785, to provide for reindexing the records of the office of the secretary of state, House bill 300, providing $100,000 for state armories, was recommended for indefinite postponement. The Red River drainage bill, appropriating $100,000, will be reported back to the house without recommendation. The pension bill to appropriate $500 to aid the Minneapolis Burial association to build a soldiers' monument at Lakeside cemetery was by the subcommittee recommended for indefinite postponement, on the ground that another bill was pending to appropriate $2000 for the same.

House bill 648, relating to completion of business at Lakeside and of clearing up affairs after the village became a part of Duluth, passed the senate on motion of Senator Daugherty, under suspension of the rules. In the house today Mr. Williams introduced a joint resolution calling upon congress to appropriate a quarter of a million dollars to make a survey with view of establishing a national system of the drying of the lakes and water courses and also of floods, and that a system of drainage reservoirs would soon be a necessity.

The special committee appointed yesterday to consider and draft a bill regulating the sale of state lands containing deposits of coal reported an amendment to the present state mineral land lease law, so as to include coal lands, and the committee consisted of Fletcher, Cotton and McGrath. Mr. Lee introduced a bill to amend the bill relating to judgment satisfactions.

Mr. Fletcher introduced a bill relating to the support of fire departments. A bill was introduced this morning which amended the law relating to pools and trusts and combinations so as to make the penalty imprisonment from one year to ten. This amendment is proposed for the benefit of Rhodes of the coal combine.

Mr. Cotton introduced a bill this morning regulating the salary of the county attorneys. Counties having less than 5000 population shall pay a salary of from $500 to $1200. The bill was designed to cure a defect in house bill 80 which provided for the salaries of county attorneys in larger counties, also introduced by him.

A largely signed call for a mass meeting was issued this afternoon. The call reads as follows: "Whereas, the legislature now in session has shown a disposition to relieve the people from the oppression and extortion of the coal trust, and have proceeded in such a manner as to indicate to their constituents that they intend, if within their power, to effectually crush the monster combine, whose fangs to the extent of $2 on every ton of coal have entered in every home in this state; and

Whereas, it is proper that the people should show not only their appreciation of the efforts of the legislature in the direction indicated, but that the legislature should be strengthened by public sentiment to take such other and further proceeding as may be proper and necessary to attain the desired end;

Now therefore, we, the undersigned citizens of the state of Minnesota, do hereby call a mass meeting of the people of this city and state to be held at Market hall, in the city of St. Paul, on Thursday evening, March 23, at 8 o'clock sharp, at which meeting Hon. W. W. Erwin, Col. C. H. Davidson, Hon. E. G. Rogers, Hon. Ignatius Donnelly, Hon. John Day Smith, Hon. E. A. Walsh, Hon. James McHale, Hon. Joseph A. Cotton, of Duluth, Judge S. A. Abbott, of Fairbault, and others will speak.

There is some talk of calling a caucus of Republican members of the house to consider whether or not there ought to be an investigation of the charges that are being made by Minneapolis lumbermen and owners against certain members of the logs and lumber committee relative to the disposition of the scaling bill. Mr. Turrell, chairman of the Republican steering committee, said that there had been some talk of a meeting but that it had not yet been called. He did not know when it would be called or, indeed, whether it would be called at all or not. The matter is all talk at present, and may end in talk, in which event it will not be necessary for action. But if the affair is to be pushed the Republican majority in the house, in view of the fact that the logs and lumber committee is made up wholly of Republicans, desires to agree upon a plan of procedure.

A bill will, in a few days, be introduced in the legislature providing for the establishment by the larger cities of a combined public school and reformatory to be known as parental schools. The bill is being drawn by City Attorney Simpson, of Minneapolis, and his assistant, M. D. Purdy, from ideas furnished by Miss Maria L. Sanford and others interested in this branch of educational work. The bill permits any city to erect and maintain a school where unruly or abandoned children may be confined, disciplined and instructed in various trades, and otherwise educated. Everything will be done to remove, as much as possible, the stigma that is attached to a reformatory school, and the institution will not be maintained for the punishment of those found guilty of actual crime.

In a measure it will be very similar to the state public school at Owatonna, as it will furnish a refuge for boys or girls who have been deserted by their parents and guardians or whose home surroundings are such as to contaminate their minds and lead them to become criminals. If the parent or guardian feels aggrieved over the commitment of any child under his care to the school, an appeal can be taken to the court for an order to show cause why the child was so committed.

Any child between the ages of 6 and 14 years who has been entrusted to the probate or municipal court may be committed to the institution. Again, parents whose children are incorrigible or uncontrollable may voluntarily surrender them to the officers of the institution for any length of time they may see fit. The control of the parental school will be vested in a board consisting of the mayor of the city, the president of the council, the president of the board of education and the superintendent of schools. It will virtually be a part of the school system of the city, and to which all the unruly youngsters can be sent. It is also expected that the little vagrants now running around the streets growing up in idleness and vice can be kept in the institution. In addition to the board there will be appointed three commissioners, whose duties will be to receive into every case brought to their notice and report whether the candidate is eligible to admission.

FOR BAKER AND HAWKINS. Representatives Baldwin, Hall and Daniel W. Lawler Called on the President Today to Urge Appointments.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—[Special to The Herald.]—Representative Baldwin, accompanied by Representative Hall and Dan W. Lawler, of St. Paul, called at the White House today to urge the president to appoint Editor Baker to some foreign mission.

They also urged the president to give Harry H. Hawkins the Alaska governorship. Mr. Baldwin is of the opinion that both these men will be appointed. Later Mr. Baldwin called at the interior department to see the secretary of the interior, Mr. Thompson, to see what could be done for the candidates for appointment under this department.

RUNNING IN GOOD SHAPE. Freight and Passenger Trains on the Ann Arbor Road Running.

TOLEDO, O., March 22.—The non-union men are running the Ann Arbor road in good shape. Trains, both freight and passenger, are now running on time. The proceedings in court are giving the new employees time to get used to the ropes un molested. As General Manager Ashley of the Ann Arbor says: "Our road is now out of trouble; this matter in the United States court is entirely a Lake Shore affair."

The hearing of the Lake Shore engineers and firemen who refused to handle Ann Arbor freight continues in the United States circuit court today. The testimony of the various officials and under officers showed that the order of Judge Ricks was not shown to the men until after they had said that they would not handle the Ann Arbor cars. The officials intended that the order should be the last resort after persuasion had failed.

The testimony brings out the fact, however, that the men, before they said they would not handle the cars, had said: "We quit the service of the company." The engineers, Mr. Southern, saw in this a good point and dwelt upon it in his cross examination. Questioning Superintendent Sheldon on the point he asked: "You showed the men the order after they said that they had quit?" "Yes," answered Mr. Sheldon. "Had you re-engaged them, when you showed them the order of the court?" "No."

At this point Attorney Potter, of the Lake Shore, placed evidence a rule of the company to the effect that the men must look at the bulletin board before they take out their trains. On the night in question the order of the court was posted on the board.

General Superintendent Caniff, of the Lake Shore, testified that he had received a telegram from J. W. Watson, a Lake Shore engineer, saying: "We ask you in the interest of peace and harmony not to ask Lake Shore engineers to handle Ann Arbor freight." He answered that the request could not be granted, inasmuch as the business of the Ann Arbor, when turned over to them, was their business also, and as common carriers, they were obliged to handle it by law. Later he received a telegram from Mr. Watson stating that the strike could not be settled honorably and that the laws of the Brotherhood would be enforced.

J. W. Watson was then placed on the stand and asked in accordance with what rule of the Brotherhood he sent such a notice. He could not produce the rule and could not remember it, not even the substance. Finally, after being hard pressed, he stated that the rule he had in mind was to the effect that Brotherhood men must not handle the freight of any road on which the Brotherhood men are out on a strike.

"Why did you send certain telegrams to the Lake Shore officials relative to the action the union would take?" "By the authority vested in me by the action of the engineers."

Mr. Watson was told at the close of the morning session to bring the rules of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers into court when he returned in the afternoon.

FORGERY AND FRAUDS.

Two Englishmen Were Convicted Today of Defrauding the Members of a London Building Society.

Hobbs & Co.'s Business Was Financed by the Liberator Society and Large Sums Were Advanced.

Securities Held by the Society Only Three Charges on the Firm and Nearly Worthless.

LONDON, March 22.—James William Hobbs, of the firm of J. W. Hobbs & Co. (limited), and Henry Granville Wright, solicitor, were convicted today of forgery and fraud in connection with the Liberator Building Society. The charges were forgery and uttering bills of exchange, and stealing money belonging to the Liberator society by falsification of warrants.

The second charge was made against Hobbs only. These charges were made in consequence of what had come to light during the investigation of the affairs of the Liberator Building society and other companies associated with it, now in course of liquidation. Among these companies was that of Hobbs & Co., of which Hobbs was managing director. It appeared that for a long time before the business of Hobbs was formed into a limited company, it had been financed by the Liberator society, of which Wright was the solicitor and practically financial manager.

It also appeared on the investigation of the accounts between Hobbs and the Liberator Building society that between Nov. 2, 1883, and March 28, 1884, a total sum of £38,192 had been advanced to Hobbs by the society for the purpose of financing his business, and altogether there had been found now to be due from Hobbs & Co. (limited), to the Liberator society for advances a total sum of £2,090,000.

The investigation also, as far as it had gone, of the securities held by the Liberator society for this enormous sum of money showed that there were mainly three charges only on the properties of Hobbs & Co., and that a very large proportion of the amount would be lost. The case has excited much attention, owing to the numerous failures of building societies and kindred institutions involving immense loss and distress to the middle and working classes. Sentence was postponed in regard to Hobbs and Wright to await the result of the trial of George Newman which immediately followed. Newman having been indicted for participation in the frauds.

Bank President Arrested. CHICAGO, March 22.—William C. Williams, president of the Chicago Loan and Savings bank which closed its doors a few weeks ago, was yesterday arrested. At the time of the failure the liabilities footed up $56,000 and the assets only about $10,000.

A Brute Elopement. ASHLAND, Wis., March 22.—A sensation was created at Ashland by the elopement of a married woman with Engineer Geary, of Dodge's mill. She took her young baby with her and left a letter telling her husband it would be of no use for him to look for her. The husband vows vengeance.

A New Chief Justice. DOVER, Del., March 22.—Governor Reynolds yesterday appointed Hon. Charles B. Lore, chief justice of the supreme court of this state, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Chief Justice Robinson. He was attorney general of the state for five years.

RULES BY THE PRESIDENT.

Is Opposed to Nepotism and Favors Men Who Were Not Confirmed Before.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—President Cleveland defined his views on nepotism yesterday in a manner so forcible that he left no doubt in the mind of his hearers that he was irrevocably opposed to the practice.

The gentleman to whom Mr. Cleveland outlined his views on the question is a Western congressman, who came to secure the appointment of a constituent to office. He told Mr. Cleveland that the applicant was a good Democrat, a good fellow and furthermore, a relative of the president himself.

"That settles it," Mr. Cleveland is reported as saying. "His name cannot be considered." And then the president is said to have read the congressman a lecture on the danger of appointing relatives to office, in which he placed himself on record as against nepotism in all its shades of meaning and application.

Congressman Springer learned something more about the new rules for appointment yesterday. He spoke to Mr. Cleveland about the application of a former office holder for reappointment to the postmastership at Petersburg, Ill., and after explaining the facts in the case received an answer favorable to the applicant.

The explanation was this: The candidate in question is a woman and a Democrat, who was appointed postmaster at Petersburg by President Arthur just prior to Mr. Cleveland's first term. She was reappointed by Mr. Cleveland after Gen. Harrison's election, but the Republican senate refused to confirm the nomination and a Republican of Mr. Harrison's selection secured the place.

President Cleveland, yesterday, after hearing this statement of the case with the additional information that the applicant is almost unanimously endorsed, gave Mr. Springer to understand that he would reappoint the lady.

Mr. Cleveland has made several like statements in connection with similar cases to other congressmen, and his language on these occasions and yesterday indicates that he is determined to prevent from being reappointed, those who were prevented from serving their terms through lack of confirmation by the senate, will be given preference in applications for the offices for which they were selected under Mr. Cleveland's first incumbency.

IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRIES.

The Commissioner of Labor to Report to the Next Congress.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The senate committee on finance is determined to report favorably on some amendments to the resolution introduced by Senator McPherson a few days ago on the cost of production in the iron and steel and textile industries.

As it will be reported to the senate, the resolution will direct the commissioner of labor to submit to the senate at the opening of the Fifty-third congress a report comprehending the facts already indicated by him touching the total cost, including actual labor, of producing various iron and steel products and the leading articles of textile industry, and of such other articles for which the cost of production may be approximately obtained, together with comparisons of similar cost in other countries.

The committee added a provision authorizing the finance committee to make such further investigation in respect to the same matters as it might deem important.

WILL NOT VISIT THE WEST.

Monsignor Salotti Will Hear All the Disputes at Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Monsignor Salotti, papal delegate, will not make an extended trip West as has been rumored. He will attend the opening of the World's fair exposition in his official capacity of World's fair commissioner. It has been published that Mgr. Salotti will in the near future visit St. Louis and Omaha to investigate the Bonicum affair and look into matters relating to the church in the West generally, but it is given out that he will not visit the West, but will remain in this city.

Concerning the Treacy affair at Newark, N. J., it is said that as Mgr. Salotti is concerned, he has rendered his decision in the case and that it is final. The only question still pending in the matter is the church property, which will be decided by the court in which the case is now pending.

BRITISH COLUMBIA FAILURE.

The Oriental Trades Company Has Gone to the Wall.

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 22.—A stir was caused in business circles here yesterday by the announcement of the failure of the Oriental Trades company (limited) which was formed here three years ago.

Three months ago Chief Shareholder G. G. Mackay died suddenly, and it is thought that his death and lack of capital caused the assignment. The liabilities are about $25,000; assets nominally equal. The Bank of British Columbia is the heaviest creditor.

Fussangel Probably Elected.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The Evening Post's Berlin cable says: An interesting by-election at Olpe to fill the seat in the reichstag occurred yesterday. The notorious Herr Fussangel, who was imprisoned for five months in June, 1891, for libelling Herr Baare, director of the Bochum Iron and Steel association, in connection with the great Bochum scandal, when the Bochum association was charged with falsifying defective rifles with the government mark, was a candidate. Herr Fussangel late last night was 2000 votes ahead of Herr Boese, the official Centralist candidate.

A GERMAN SENSATION.

Serious Charges Made by Rector Ahlwardt Against Bismarck and Men Who Are Now Ministers.

Fraudulent Contracts Are Said to Have Been Made Repeatedly by Bismarck With Hebrew Speculators.

Dr. Miquel, Minister of Finance, Who Aspires to Become Chancellor, Implicated in the Charges.

BERLIN, March 22.—There was a very large attendance of members and others at the opening of the reichstag today, interest and curiosity being whetted by the expectation that Rector Ahlwardt would produce the documents he claimed to have in his possession, showing that during Prince Bismarck's occupancy of the chancellorship fraudulent contracts had been made repeatedly with Hebrew financiers, and that vast sums of money belonging to the state had been transferred dishonestly to Hebrew speculators.

At yesterday's session of the reichstag, Rector Ahlwardt created great excitement by making very serious charges against Prince Bismarck and several other men who now hold ministerial positions. Dr. Miquel, Prussian minister of finance, was specifically mentioned as being implicated in the charges.

When the reichstag convened today, nearly all the members were in their seats, and everywhere through the house there were evidences of excitement that had been caused by Ahlwardt's charges. Immediately after the president took his seat, Ahlwardt, upon whom all eyes were fixed, arose and stated that he wished to lay a few papers upon the table.

This announcement was the signal for excited shouts from the members demanding that he furnish the house with all the documents, eleven in number, which he directed yesterday to furnish. Ahlwardt, in response to these demands, said that after Easter he would supplement the documents he had submitted with other papers bearing on his statements.

Renewed demands were made that he produce at once all of his alleged documents, and that he should be honest on the part of officials and ex-officials. Count Von Ballestadt, an officer of the Center party, moved that the sitting of the reichstag be suspended in order to allow a special committee to examine the papers already submitted. Herr Reichsthor, the Freisinnige leader, opposed this motion so far as it related to a suspension of the sitting, but concurred with him in demanding an immediate examination of the papers.

Count Von Ballestadt's motion was finally adopted, and an hour's recess was taken, after a committee was appointed to examine the documents.

IT WILL BE ENFORCED.

Secretary Carlisle Will Carry Out the Chinese Exclusion Act.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Secretary Carlisle has replied to certain inquiries as to whether he will enforce the provisions of the Chinese exclusion act as follows: "As the act of May 5, 1892, enacted an act to prohibit the coming of Chinese persons into the United States, and has not been repealed, it will be enforced, so far as lies within the power of this department."

Section 11 of the act approved May 8, 1892, entitled "an act to execute certain treaty stipulations relating to Chinese," provides that hereafter no state court, or court of the United States shall admit Chinese to citizenship and all laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed, but it is given out that the act will be enforced, and that Chinese persons not in the United States shall not be permitted to return.

"Chinese merchants established in business in the United States who may depart therefrom with the intention of returning thereto, will be permitted to land upon submission to the collector of customs, and the refusal of evidence sufficient to prove their identity. Chinese persons not in the exempted class, as for instance laundries, residing in the United States and who may depart therefrom, will not be permitted to return."

APPROACHING AN END.

The Great Cotton Strike in England to be Settled.

LONDON, March 22.—It is asserted on very good authority that the great cotton strike that has now been under way for about five months is approaching an end, and this, too, despite the refusal yesterday of the federation of master cotton spinners to accept the offer of the operatives to return to work at a 23 per cent reduction in wages.

It is said today that a settlement of the disputed wages question will be announced tomorrow, and that all the preliminaries for the reopening of the mills have been arranged. Some minor details of the questions at issue have yet to be considered, but it is confidently asserted that there will be no delay in the formal settlement of the long continued fight.

Hood's Sarsaparilla positively cures even when all others fail. It has a record of successes unequalled by any other medicine.

A Just Verdict. The ladies of Duluth have rendered the following verdict: "We find that diamond dyes make rich, bright, un fading colors; are easy to use; and work wonders in making old gowns, jackets, ribbons, feathers, etc., look like new. They come in the fashionable reds, greens and browns, as well as all the standard shades."

THE SENTENCES IMPOSED.

Punishment Inflicted in the Panama Canal Case.

PARIS, March 22.—The court, after deliberation, pronounced sentence in the Panama case. M. Balaout was sentenced to imprisonment for five years, to pay a fine of 750,000 francs and to the loss of civil rights. M. Blondin was sentenced to imprisonment for two years, and Charles De Lesseps to imprisonment for one year, the year to run concurrent with the five years sentence already imposed on him.

All three of the convicted prisoners were condemned to pay the costs and damages demanded by the civil parties to the proceedings. The court also ordered M. De Lesseps, M. Blondin and M. Balaout to pay to M. Monchicourt, liquidator of the Panama Canal company, 375,000 francs, the amount taken from the treasury of the company and paid to M. Balaout for his influence in favor of the lottery loan bill.

TRADE IN ENGLAND.

Business is Slack and Reports From India Are Gloomy.

MANCHESTER, March 22.—The Guardian in its commercial article says: "Trade is slack. Occasionally offers of magnitude are observed, but a serious fall in the rates of the Eastern exchange has prevented the conclusion of negotiations. Mail accounts of the situation in India are gloomy. Almost a famine is prevailing in the southern districts owing to the drought."

"A settlement of the difficulty between masters and the spinners is confidently expected on Thursday. There is a large inquiry from India for miscellaneous goods for shipment during the summer. The demand for printing and bleaching cloths and shirtings is moderate. Heavy goods are feeble. Yarns are steady at top prices."

A Receiver Wanted.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Application was made in special term of the court of common pleas yesterday for a receiver for the "St. Revy," a fashionable apartment house at One Hundred and Sixteenth street and Madison avenue. The property is valued at $175,000. The present application is the result of the tangle in the affairs of the owner, Wm. H. McElroy, consequent upon his suicide in Chicago last January. His affairs were found to be in an almost hopeless muddle.

Testing a Cruiser.

PHILADELPHIA, March 22.—The armored cruiser New York sailed on her trial trip from Cranford shipyard yesterday. Early this morning she went outside and will give her engines a thorough test with the sea ahead, abeam and on the quarter. ## A Two Years' Sentence.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 22.—The trial of Augustus T. Kerr, the defaulting trustee of the Continental Mortgage Trust company, who embezzled $14,000 and was caught in Liverpool by detectives of the American Surety company, was concluded here today. ### BRIBERY IN KANSAS.

A Member of the Kansas Legislature Tells of the Attempts Made to Corrupt Members.

He Was Offered $7500 to Stay Away From the Populist Crowd and Defeat Martin.

The Money Was Supposed to Come From Watson, Who Had a Barrel on Tap.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Supplementing Kansas dispatches about alleged attempts at bribery in the election of a United States senator from that state, Mr. Burgard, a member of the lower house of the Kansas legislature from Wyandotte county, who is in this city, has given a circumstantial account of the efforts made to contest his election by corrupt means.

He said a proposition was made to him to stay away from the Populist crowd and to get two others to do so for $7500 and that he was given to understand that the money would come from Mr. Watson, who had come down from Lawrence and wanted to be senator and was said to have brought a barrel of money. Everybody was trying to get a shovel in on Watson's pile.

Mr. Burgard continues his story as follows: "To tell the God's truth, I made up my mind to this effect, 'You are trying to rob Watson, so I will turn in and rob you.' That's what I thought, so I told this man that for $7500 I and two more whom I knew would stay away and not vote at all. Now, of course, I intended to stay inside and vote for Martin right through. So did the other two. All that we aimed at was to get the $7500 in our pockets and then let the other crowd whistle. I told him he must give the cash to me, but he said that some one must be agreed upon to hold it until after the vote."

He then narrates how he fixed matters with the stakeholder to bolt when he got the stakes, but says the other side declined to entrust him with the money.

THEY DENOUNCED DAWES.
The Puyallup Indians Object to Opening Their Reservation.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The World's Tacoma, Wash., special says: The Puyallup Indians had a war dance in their reservation on Monday and denounced Senator Dawes for the bill which he had congress pass providing for the opening of the reservation. The terms of the bill do not suit the Indians.

They declare that President Cleveland is their great white father, and that the Indians' enemies will find out that Cleveland is in again, and that these foolish schemes of Dawes and his friends will be cut short and the offenders' heads cut off.

QUINCY AT HIS DESK.

Many Call on the New Assistant Secretary of State.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—First Assistant Secretary of State Josiah Quincy, whose nomination was confirmed Monday by the senate, was at his desk as usual yesterday looking and acting the same as he has every day since Monday, when he practically succeeded Mr. Wharton in the office.

His room and ante-room were crowded during the day with candidates for consulships and their friends, all of whom saw Mr. Quincy and presented their claims. Secretary Gresham also received a large number of callers interested in the various missions that remain to be filled.

There are but two of the first class remaining—Great Britain and Russia. Congressman Kilgore, who wanted to go to Mexico, spent some time in the office yesterday.

BAD FLOODS IN RUSSIA.
Low Lands Submerged and Several Towns are Threatened.

NEW YORK, March 22.—A cablegram to the Post from Odessa says: Influenza has reappeared virulently throughout the south of Russia with heavy mortality. Dispatches from various towns in Central and South Russia state that the floods due to the sudden thaw are widespread.

Many rivers have overflowed their banks, submerging the low lands and causing much damage. Charkoff is partly inundated and boats are used in the streets. The river Kasanka threatens to inundate the town of Kasan.

Secured His Old Position.
WASHINGTON, March 22.—Frank H. Thomas, of Michigan, has been appointed disbursing clerk and superintendent of the postoffice department, vice Theodore Davenport, resigned. Mr. Thomas held this office during the latter part of Mr. Cleveland's former administration and for some months under that of Mr. Harrison. He is regarded as an exceptionally efficient officer.

A Russian Mayor Shot.
Moscow, March 22.—M. Alexieff, mayor of this city, who was shot yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the city council, died of the effects of his injuries early this morning. Adrianoff, his murderer, refuses to make any statement as to the reason for shooting the mayor, but the police are firm in their conviction that his crime is the outcome of a nihilist plot.

A LONG SESSION LIKELY.
Democratic Senators Hold a Caucus on Reorganization.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The Democrats of the senate met in caucus yesterday to consider the subject of the reorganization of the senate. There was a large attendance, every Democratic senator, with the single exception of Senator Walthall, of Mississippi, being present.

As at the preceding conferences, Messrs. Peffer, Kyle and Allen, despite the fact that they have been given committee chairmanships by the majority, were not recognized as being Democrats and were not invited to attend.

At the previous caucus the whole matter of whether or not the party should attempt reorganization at this time was left to the "steering committee," of which Mr. Gorman is chairman, at which Mr. Gorman is chairman. The report was made and, to the

WILL CARRY MORE WEIGHT.

Individual Recommendations More Potent Than Those of Delegations.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Minnesota Democrats who desire office under this administration will probably be either flattered or greatly dissatisfied over the fact that President Cleveland's rule, that he will not recognize congressional delegates in making appointments, has been found to be an ironclad one.

At the White House yesterday it was learned that members of congress from different states were making individual recommendations to the president for the candidates they desired appointed to offices. They have become perfectly satisfied that the president will not recognize the right of a congressional delegation from any state to name candidates.

Just what effect this rule will have in Minnesota, for instance, is not known, but it is probable that it will place Representatives Hale and Baldwin in a better position than if they were compelled to act together in presenting endorsements for their candidates. The course that will probably be followed by senators and congressmen from this time on will be to get the additional support of prominent men in localities where the candidates whom they will present for office reside.

Indorsements of this kind, it is known will have a great deal more influence with Cleveland than the combined indorsement of any one state delegation. It is now probable that Michael Doran will wield more influence in Minnesota than either of the two Democratic representatives, and that prominent Democrats in North Dakota and South Dakota, who are not in getting their friends appointed to office as either Senators Kyle or Roach or the chairman of the state committees in either of these states.

This rule will probably not apply to Senator Vilas, of Wisconsin. Whatever recommendations he may make will be ratified very quickly by the president. Vilas has also secured one big prize for a Wisconsin man, and has several other candidates on his string, who will probably secure two or three of the offices that Cleveland will soon fill.

A LONG SESSION LIKELY.
Democratic Senators Hold a Caucus on Reorganization.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The Democrats of the senate met in caucus yesterday to consider the subject of the reorganization of the senate. There was a large attendance, every Democratic senator, with the single exception of Senator Walthall, of Mississippi, being present.

As at the preceding conferences, Messrs. Peffer, Kyle and Allen, despite the fact that they have been given committee chairmanships by the majority, were not recognized as being Democrats and were not invited to attend.

At the previous caucus the whole matter of whether or not the party should attempt reorganization at this time was left to the "steering committee," of which Mr. Gorman is chairman, at which Mr. Gorman is chairman. The report was made and, to the surprise of the junior senators at least, contained no recommendations.

While the committee submitted a report that was decidedly negative and non-committal, it had prepared for any contingency that might arise. The list of employees of the senate and the annual payroll had been gone over very thoroughly, and the condition of the roll exists compared with the roll of the forty-sixth congress when the Democrats controlled this branch of congress.

Since that time, there has been an increase in the force of men especially under the sergeant-at-arms. The report simply contained a recitation of the precedents of the senate in the matter of re-organizing and was replete with references to the records showing what had been done in the past. There is every indication of a long session.

Operators About to Strike.
MILWAUKEE, March 22.—A strike movement is in progress among the operators upon the northern division of the Milwaukee, Lake Shore & Western railroad and it may spread over the entire line. It is stated that the men are preparing to go out April 1. According to the statement of one of the operators, the men have been dissatisfied for some time as to wages, but they were unable to remonstrate effectively as they were unorganized.

Schaeffer Injured.
CHICAGO, March 22.—Jake Schaeffer's match with Slosson has fallen through by reason of a serious accident which befell "The Wizard" early yesterday morning by which the bones of his right wrist were fractured. It is feared the injury will be permanent.

Catarrh of the stomach is one of the most annoying of stomach troubles and one of the most amenable to treatment. The distressing symptoms, such as dyspepsia, indigestion, nervousness, sleeplessness, palpitation of the heart and a weak, irritable feeling as though life wasn't worth living, are experienced by a great many people who do not know where to find a specialist, or who cannot afford to pay a high-priced physician and consequently must go through life with great suffering, their trouble constantly getting worse. cians than this generous offer? He who does not avail himself of an unparalleled offer like this has himself alone to blame. All that has been done in the past, all that is being done in the present by the Copeland Medical Institute is entirely in the interests of the suffering masses.

Don't be Blinded by Foolish Prejudice.

Good physicians can advertise as well as poor ones. Look into the matter for yourself. You alone are responsible for the condition of your health. Quack remedies and silly advice will never benefit any one. Consult those who from week to week give their testimony in the daily papers. This is your privilege. Their evidence will convince you. What stronger proof can an intelligent person demand than the voluntary statements of good and reliable people residing right here in the city? These statements are not bought or obtained by any fraudulent means to deceive the public, but gladly given by the happy patients to benefit humanity at large. A consultation at the Copeland Medical Institute will cost you nothing; you may be assured of an honest opinion no matter what your trouble is. Think of it, and the professional services of physicians who have spent their lives in the study and practice of their specialty. No reasonable person will think he can afford to close his eyes with heedless indifference to an opportunity like this if he needs treatment. It may be only a slight cold now, but it may prove more serious later. To neglect the means of restoring your health when they are in such easy reach is willfully shirking a duty you owe to yourself, and, more than this, to those who have claims upon you.

To the physicians of the Copeland Medical Institute is due the credit of effecting a plan by which many can receive the best treatment known today for a small fee, who otherwise could never afford it. Liberality has always characterized the policy of the Copeland Medical Institute, and in this they have not been unwarranted, for daily grateful patients thank the physicians who have so patiently attended their ills and restored them once more to health and happiness.

The following case is related to show what skillful treatment will do.

Mr. H. Burgess, who lives at No. 9, East Third street, was a sufferer from dyspepsia before he placed himself under the care of the physicians of the Copeland Medical Institute. To the writer he had the following to say: "After taking a meal the food would set heavily in my stomach and cause a feeling of fullness and weight. I was troubled with heart burn and would belch up sour matter and gas. My stomach would bloat up and there was at times a sharp pain over the pit of the stomach. I was frequently troubled with headaches and dizzy spells; when I would stoop over I would see millions of stars. Had pain in the back especially in the morning. On the least excitement I would get feverish, my appetite was variable, sometimes it was good and at other times I had no desire for food at all."

Present Condition.

I have no more headaches or dizzy spells, appetite is always good, no bloating or belching of sour matter and gas, no more pains over stomach or in my back. In fact I am quite elated over the success that has attended my case and can recommend the system of treatment as having done much for me.

THE CABINET CIRCLE

A Glance at Personal Characteristics of the Ladies Who Will Adorn the New Administration.

Sketches of the Wives of Secretaries Carlisle, Lamont, Smith, Olney, Bissell and Gresham.

The wives of the members of President Cleveland's cabinet are more interesting, and, in many respects, as important national figures as their distinguished husbands, for while the latter will for four years steer the ship of state carefully through any shoals that may be encountered.

MRS. JOHN O. CARLISLE.

tered the ladies will be entrusted with a task equally difficult if less fraught with importance to the general welfare of the country.

The lady who is better known in Washington society than any other of the wives of the members of Mr. Cleveland's cabinet is Mrs. John O. Carlisle. Mrs. Carlisle comes from an old and noted Kentucky family. Her father, John A. Gresham, was Cleveland's first mayor, and also held important state offices. Miss Gresham was the undisputed belle of Covington when, at the age of 21, she married a teacher in the city public schools named John Griffin Carlisle.

Two years later Mr. Carlisle was admitted to the bar, and within a year was elected to the legislature. During that time the sterling qualities of the woman shone forth, and it is no secret that the present secretary of the treasury owes his political success as much to the encouragement and advice of his wife as to his own undoubted ability.

Mrs. Carlisle's social distinction in a national way may be said to have begun when her husband became speaker of the national house of representatives. That she was a charming hostess, with the rare faculty of making everybody feel perfectly at home without any apparent effort, to do so any person who has ever partaken of her hospitality will cheerfully testify.

MRS. DANIEL S. LAMONT.

Mrs. Carlisle was the first to assert the claims of the speaker's dignities, and she boldly selected Wednesday, or cabinet ladies' day, for her receptions. During the administration of President Arthur she claimed precedence upon ceremonial occasions, and until the marriage of President Cleveland asserted the same right by virtue of the constitutional rank and title of the speaker.

Mrs. Carlisle is a woman who would command respectful attention anywhere. She is handsome, tall and well made, with a walk and carriage noticeable for their dignity. The home of the Carlises is at 1426 K street, which will doubtless be the scene of many brilliant and thoroughly enjoyable entertainments between now and March 4, 1893.

Another well known and universally popular figure in Washington society is Mrs. Daniel S. Lamont, wife of the secretary of war. When Mr. Lamont was in Washington as President Cleveland's private secretary, his fondness and acquaintance with an intimate friend of Mrs. Cleveland but she was very naturally comparatively unimportant in the social life of the capital. That of course will all be changed now. It is understood that Mrs. Lamont will entertain in a manner befitting her present high station, although she is essentially a home body and is never so happy as when engaged in reading to her children or giving them musical instruction.

MRS. WALTER Q. GRESHAM.

There has been some gray hairs upon Mrs. Lamont's head, but these inexorable reminders serve to brighten rather than to lessen the attractiveness of her face, which literally beams with intelligence and good nature. Mrs. Lamont has a soft, sweet voice, which never becomes harsh under any circumstances, and which is an index of the gentleness for which she is noted. She is 35 years old, was born near Cortland, N. Y., and married Mr. Lamont in 1875, and has two very young children. She is the mother of three girls. Mrs. Lamont is a woman of fine appearance, and is a loving wife, a devoted mother and a sensible woman.

Many persons predict that the lady who will be most intimate with Mrs. Cleveland during her reign at the White House is the vivacious wife of Postmaster General Wilson S. Bissell. There are several facts which lend probability to this prophecy. The ladies are of about the same age; they come from the same locality; they are both young mothers; their tastes are similar, and their husbands are intimate friends and exchange partners. It is at any rate a foregone conclusion that Mrs. Bissell will be one of the most important social figures in Washington. She is 27 years old, decidedly handsome, although perhaps not pretty, and an ideal hostess. She is a musician of great ability. Her voice was cultivated in Europe, and everybody supposed that the concert platform would claim Louise Fowler Sturges. It did really look so until she met Mr. Bissell while she was on a visit to Buffalo, was beloved by him, reciprocated the tender feeling and was married to him.

Mrs. Bissell has since lived in a magnificent mansion in Buffalo, and her entertainments have been the talk of society in the Big City. She is a charming conversationalist and observant hostess and a particularly attractive woman. Devoted as Mrs. Bissell is to the pleasures and amenities of society, she is nevertheless a thorough housewife and is never so busy that she cannot find time to play with her little Margaret, who is almost exactly as old as Baby Ruth.

Mrs. Olney, the wife of the attorney general, is about 50 years old. She is below the medium height and is known in Boston as a judicious and discriminating entertainer. She dislikes ostentation and dispenses the most gracious hospitality in an entirely unpretentious fashion. She is a highly intelligent woman of refined appearance and tastes and gentle manners. Her carriage is dignified. Mrs. Olney has two daughters, both of whom are married.

Mrs. Hoke Smith, the wife of the secretary of the interior, is a representative of the far south, and she is a decidedly creditable one. Miss Bertie Cobb was one of the prettiest girls in Athens, Ga., when she met Hoke Smith while visiting her married sister in Atlanta. She was then but 15 years old, but love recognizes no age, and she and the brilliant young lawyer, after an engagement of five years, were married. Mrs. Smith, although the mother of several children, is still a very young woman. She will entertain a great deal, but not in a merely perfunctory manner. Her services in Washington will be the same who have been with her since her marriage.

MRS. HOKE SMITH.

Mrs. Smith will love as guests next winter several Georgia belles, and it is therefore safe to assume that her residence will be one of the most popular in the national capital. The wife of the new secretary is what would be called a fine looking woman, and her good breeding is manifest at a glance. She is very charitable, as many a poor person in Atlanta knows.

Secretary Herbert has been a widower since 1886, but his household and entertainments will be presided over by his young and beautiful daughter. It is said that Miss Herbert, previous to her father's elevation to his present position, had attained a greater popularity than any other young lady in the congressional circle. In manner she is quiet and dignified, but she knows how to entertain and will probably be one of the most popular of the cabinet hostesses. There was an older Miss Herbert, but she is now married.

Mrs. Walter Q. Gresham was born Martha McGrath. She was married to the present secretary of state in 1878, when he was a struggling young lawyer. Her father was a farmer near Corydon, Ind. Mrs. Gresham was never noted as an elaborate entertainer, her tastes having always run toward quiet comfort in the home life. She is the mother of two grown-up sons.

Indians' Self Torture.

Suspended by ropes fastened to the breast, the Indians shake and throw all their weight against the ropes. Any sign of suffering or weakness compels him to a "sagwa," and he must do the work of a "sagwa," and associate only with "sagwas."

THE "HOCKE-A-YIM" OR TORTURE DANCE.

If he stands the test without complaint or sign of suffering, he is sent down and considered a "brave." His wounds are then dressed with Indian oil and he is allowed to leave, causing them to be quickly healed. He also takes copious draughts of Kickapoo Indian Sagwa to restore his strength, and thus avoid serious consequences.

Dyspeptics suffer more horrible torture than the red men with all their savage rites and customs ever conceived. The frightful Pangs of Indigestion, the Horrid Nightmares, the Nervous Apprehension and Dread which a Disordered Stomach Produces, has no parallel in savage life. That Tight Feeling about the Chest, Palpitation of the Heart, Shortness of Breath, Headache, that Gnawing in the Pit of the Stomach, and Feeling at Times as if a Stone was Wedged There, that Fear as if "something awful" was going to happen, Dread, Misery, Despair. Finally in a fit of despondency, a Shot or a Plunge into the river, and another suicide is mourned. Nature in its boundless mercy has put in our way for the stomach's restoration to healthy condition a remedy employed by the Indians, and known to them as "Sagwa," resorted to by them not only for the cure but for the prevention of such troubles. This medicine is widely known as

BRILL ROASTED

Resolution Passed by Legislature Denouncing Judge Brill For Questioning a Member of the House.

Chris and Tom O'Brien Denied the Privileges of the Floor Owing to Persistent Lobbying.

Some of the Indignant Members Talking of Impeaching Judge Brill For Violating the Constitution.

Merritt's Bill For Working Mines Under the Direction of the District Court Passed Today.

St. Paul, Minn., March 23.—[Special to The Herald.]—The following bills were introduced in the senate this morning: By Donnelly, a bill amending the laws of 1891 relating to farmers' mutual insurance companies; by Mott, a bill providing a plan for building a normal school at Tracy; by Barr, a joint memorial asking congress to appropriate $50,000 to improve Blue Earth river; by Smith, J. D., a bill to promote the recovery of records and papers of old soldiers and of building monuments for the same; by Smith, J. D., a bill relating to descent of land to surviving husband or wife; by Lineau, making liquor licenses personal property liable to all legal processes and to transfer and assignment; by Guderian, a bill creating a lien on logs which are allowed to lie on fields and meadows for a month after being floated there by floods; by Guderian, a bill prescribing punishment for driving spikes into said logs.

Mr. Glader's bill relating to storage and shipment of grain to and from country elevators, has been recommended to be indefinitely postponed by the committee on agriculture. The following bills were passed: Smith's bill on abandonment and vacation of railways and collection of assessments on same; a bill to regulate sentencing of prisoners convicted of felony; Craig's bill for selection of swamp lands by railroad companies; Merritt's bill providing that mining property may be worked under direction of the district court upon filing bond, provided a majority of the property owners of such mining claims assent to commence work; Cook's bill relating to sale of intoxicating liquors.

Merritt's bill passed a resolution of condolence to Joseph Markham for the loss of his brother. Mr. Markham has been called away to attend the funeral.

The following bills were introduced in the house this morning: By Leonard, a bill to make insurance policies binding on companies, although such companies are not authorized to do business in this state; by Wahlund, a bill making a lien on logs which have remained in meadows and fields for nine months after floating.

When the house reassembled yesterday afternoon, Judge Fleming, by unanimous consent, introduced a resolution calling for the appointment of a committee of three, with full power and authority to administer oaths, summon witnesses and inquire into the charges against Judge Brill for fifteen years and to report to the house.

Mr. Horton said he appreciated the spirit in which the resolution was offered, but thought it was time to end the unfortunate friction between the legislature and the courts. He said he had practiced before Judge Brill for fifteen years and must continue to do so for years to come. He reviewed the statements he had made in the house and denied that there was anything in his remarks that was intended to reflect on the court.

He said, further, that they had been made under a misapprehension. He said he felt the humiliation of the court's rebuke deeply, but every lawyer would appreciate the difficulties under which an attorney would labor in practicing before a judge that was prejudiced for any reason against him. He had tried to do his duty on the committee as a citizen. He referred to the fairness of Judge Brill and said he would be the first to see that he had been hasty and acknowledge it.

Judge Fleming said that no matter what might be the feelings of Mr. Horton, the house could not overlook the insult that had been offered to it and to its worthy members. The humiliation and the disgrace inflicted upon the member whose character as an attorney and as a citizen was unimpeachable, was greater than had been imprinted him. The judge had done this with a full knowledge of the fact that he was acting in violation of the constitution.

Mr. Rogers said: "I, too, have been trained to respect the dignity of the court. One of the first lectures I received when about to enter upon the practice of law was upon the duty of the officers of the court to that court. But I have never forgotten the duty of the court to the officers thereof. Now, with all due respect to the wishes of the member from Ramsey, I say the matter should not be allowed to drop here."

The resolution was overwhelmingly adopted. It reads as follows: Whereas, it has been represented to this house that on the 21st day of March, 1893, in the city of St. Paul, in this state, the Hon. H. R. Brill, one of the judges of the district court in and for the county of Ramsey, in open court, did order and require Hon. H. Horton, a member of this house, to appear before him, the said Hon. H. R. Brill, at the bar of his court, and did then and there, in violation of the provisions of section 4, of article 4, of the constitution of this state, question the said H. Horton for force and speech and debate made and spoken in this house by him, said Horton, while a member of this house and did then and there threaten and threaten the said Horton for the said speech and debate and by so doing did put said Horton in

GRAVE CHARGES

A Priest at Luverne in Rock County Indicted by the Grand Jury For Rape.

He is Accused of Having Criminally Assaulted Miss Aggie O'Connor About Eleven Months Ago.

The Girl Says the Priest is the Father of Her Child, Which Was Found Dead.

He Made Strong Efforts to Have Her Arrested For Murdering the Babe But Failed.

LUVERNE, Minn., March 23.—An indictment was found yesterday against Rev. Father E. J. Englebrecht, pastor of the St. Catherine Catholic church for alleged criminal assault committed upon the person of Miss Aggie O'Connor, April 7, 1892. Last Christmas eve Miss O'Connor gave birth to an illegitimate child which was afterwards found dead in an out-house. An investigation into the affair has been in progress for several weeks resulting finally as above stated. Rev. Englebrecht will plead to the indictment at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Rev. Englebrecht has brought suit against Martin Lynch, a brother-in-law of the O'Connor girl, for $10,000 damages for defamation of character in accusing him of the paternity of the murdered child. The priest also brought a similar action in the Nobles county court, for the same amount, against John O'Connor, brother of the murdered girl.

County Attorney Canfield is confident that several surprises will develop during the trial of the above-mentioned cases, and is confident that he will convict the priest of the crime of rape. He has strong evidence and will be assisted in the prosecution by Attorney General Childs, of St. Paul. It is understood that if the indictment is found against the O'Connor girl that she will claim that the child was stillborn and fight the case on that line. She lately accused the priest of having run away with the child, and is anxious to go on the stand and tell her story.

A post mortem examination of the remains of the babe was held soon after the birth of the child, but neither the coroner, the jury, nor the physicians who examined the child, will be known the result of their investigation.

Rev. Englebrecht has vigorously attempted to have the girl arrested and thrown into jail, but his efforts have failed. Up to this writing no warrant has been issued. Previous to her confinement the priest is said to have gone to Mrs. Lynch, sister of the O'Connor girl, and advised her to send "Aggie to some hospital until her trouble was over, thereby saving disgrace to the family."

She refused to go, and the priest soon began a crusade against the girl. He was ordered out of the county attorney's office, and he threatened to sue her when Mr. Canfield informed him that he would conduct the case as he saw fit and would arrest the girl when he desired her arrest.

Rev. Englebrecht then attempted to have the county attorney ousted for malfeasance in office. He made a complaint to the attorney general and was directed to the governor. Governor Nelson investigated the matter and informed those interested that he thought Mr. Canfield was conducting the case in a proper manner, and refused to grant the request of Englebrecht.

His holiness had a most courteous interview with the royal visitors. The princess of Wales, her daughters and the duke of York afterward visited Cardinal Rampolla, the pontifical secretary of state.

THE PRESIDENT'S APPOINTEES.
Sketches of the Men Who Were Named For Office Yesterday.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Max Judd, of Missouri, appointed yesterday to be consul general at Vienna is a native of Austria, but came to this country with his parents when a child. He has resided in St. Louis for the past twenty-five years.

His appointment is the result of the almost universal request of the people of that city and is looked upon by the Missouri delegation as a compliment not only to the Hebrew race, which Mr. Judd represents, but the people of the state. He is a man of wealth and fine education.

John S. Seymour, nominated to be commissioner of patents, is a lawyer by profession, about 45 years of age and a resident of Norfolk, Conn. Two years ago he was elected state senator which was his highest public service.

William H. Sims, who is named as first assistant secretary of the interior, has a fine record in his native state of Mississippi. He was a gallant soldier of the Confederacy and left a leg upon the field of battle. He is a resident of Columbus and said to be a man of excellent parts, an eminent lawyer and a good politician.

John J. Carter, nominated to be collector of internal revenue for the district of Louisiana, is 40 years of age, a resident of Minden, and has taken an active part in state politics for the past fifteen or twenty years, serving for a time as a representative in the Louisiana legislature.

E. A. Bowers is a young lawyer of this city, a college graduate and a man of broad culture. He is a native of Connecticut. Some years ago he went to South Dakota and began the practice of law, but about two or three years ago he transferred his practice to this city, where he has been acting in the capacity of counsel for the National Forestry association, of which he is an active member. His appointment is supposed to have been influenced by a desire on the part of the president to give greater prominence in the land office to the important subject of forestry than it has heretofore received.

Honore Lorton, nominated to be judge of the Sixth judicial district, is the present chief justice of the supreme court of Tennessee. It was for this place that President Harrison nominated Benjamin Hanchett, of Michigan, which nomination failed for lack of time in the senate to act upon it. He is a man about 45 years of age and a native of Tennessee, where he was born of parents in humble circumstances.

Henry C. Bell, appointed second deputy commissioner of pensions, has been for the last eight years or more a clerk in the pension office and has risen by merit to a position of responsibility there. He is a native of Illinois and was appointed from that state.

S. W. Lamoreaux, of Wisconsin, nominated to be commissioner of the general land office, is a warm personal friend of Senator Vilas and received the unqualified endorsement of that gentleman for the place to which he has been appointed. Mr. Lamoreaux is a native of New York.

Going to Have a Good Time.
NEW YORK, March 23.—Before sailing on the steamship Majestic yesterday J. Pierpont Morgan made the following statement to a reporter: "I do not go to borrow money for the United States nor to perform any other mission for the government. No, I do not object to saying what I go for. It is simply to get a rest. I shall have a good time while I am away and shall return in June." A number of Mr. Morgan's friends were at the dock to see him off. Among them was Bishop Doane.

After the Indian Office.
WASHINGTON, March 23.—It is said that Dan Maratta, of North Dakota, is reaching out for the Indian commissioner's place, and the fight is now believed to be between Maratta and McLaughlin.

PANTON & WATSON.

THE PRESIDENT'S APPOINTEES.
Sketches of the Men Who Were Named For Office Yesterday.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Max Judd, of Missouri, appointed yesterday to be consul general at Vienna is a native of Austria, but came to this country with his parents when a child. He has resided in St. Louis for the past twenty-five years.

His appointment is the result of the almost universal request of the people of that city and is looked upon by the Missouri delegation as a compliment not only to the Hebrew race, which Mr. Judd represents, but the people of the state. He is a man of wealth and fine education.

John S. Seymour, nominated to be commissioner of patents, is a lawyer by profession, about 45 years of age and a resident of Norfolk, Conn. Two years ago he was elected state senator which was his highest public service.

William H. Sims, who is named as first assistant secretary of the interior, has a fine record in his native state of Mississippi. He was a gallant soldier of the Confederacy and left a leg upon the field of battle. He is a resident of Columbus and said to be a man of excellent parts, an eminent lawyer and a good politician.

John J. Carter, nominated to be collector of internal revenue for the district of Louisiana, is 40 years of age, a resident of Minden, and has taken an active part in state politics for the past fifteen or twenty years, serving for a time as a representative in the Louisiana legislature.

E. A. Bowers is a young lawyer of this city, a college graduate and a man of broad culture. He is a native of Connecticut. Some years ago he went to South Dakota and began the practice of law, but about two or three years ago he transferred his practice to this city, where he has been acting in the capacity of counsel for the National Forestry association, of which he is an active member. His appointment is supposed to have been influenced by a desire on the part of the president to give greater prominence in the land office to the important subject of forestry than it has heretofore received.

Honore Lorton, nominated to be judge of the Sixth judicial district, is the present chief justice of the supreme court of Tennessee. It was for this place that President Harrison nominated Benjamin Hanchett, of Michigan, which nomination failed for lack of time in the senate to act upon it. He is a man about 45 years of age and a native of Tennessee, where he was born of parents in humble circumstances.

Henry C. Bell, appointed second deputy commissioner of pensions, has been for the last eight years or more a clerk in the pension office and has risen by merit to a position of responsibility there. He is a native of Illinois and was appointed from that state.

S. W. Lamoreaux, of Wisconsin, nominated to be commissioner of the general land office, is a warm personal friend of Senator Vilas and received the unqualified endorsement of that gentleman for the place to which he has been appointed. Mr. Lamoreaux is a native of New York.

Going to Have a Good Time.
NEW YORK, March 23.—Before sailing on the steamship Majestic yesterday J. Pierpont Morgan made the following statement to a reporter: "I do not go to borrow money for the United States nor to perform any other mission for the government. No, I do not object to saying what I go for. It is simply to get a rest. I shall have a good time while I am away and shall return in June." A number of Mr. Morgan's friends were at the dock to see him off. Among them was Bishop Doane.

After the Indian Office.
WASHINGTON, March 23.—It is said that Dan Maratta, of North Dakota, is reaching out for the Indian commissioner's place, and the fight is now believed to be between Maratta and McLaughlin.

IS A LEGAL CONTRACT

That is the Opinion of the Village Attorney of West Duluth on the Holmes Band Agreement.

Holmes Was Acting as an Agent of the Village and This Makes It Binding.

Possibility That the Village May Get the City Hall Lighting Free From the Company.

All members of the new West Duluth council were present at an adjourned meeting last evening. Attorney Phelps reported that he had conferred with able counsel at Duluth on the question of the legality of the contract between W. J. Holmes and the village, and they coincided with his opinion that the contract was binding on the present council owing to the fact that Holmes was acting as an agent of the village.

The sewer question was discussed at some length, although no definite action was taken, as new business could not be undertaken at an adjourned meeting. The village attorney suggested that the committee on sewers which consists of Matthews, Dent and the engineer to look over the designs for the work and draw up a resolution to be considered at the next regular meeting of the council.

A committee consisting of Hale, Dent and Olsson were instructed to confer with the water and electric light companies to ascertain if said corporations would furnish free water and light for the city hall. It was stated that Gen. Mullen had intimated that the water company would relieve the people from the burdensome provisions of the contract, if approached in the right manner. It is understood that Gen. Mullen is in Duluth at the present time and the committee will endeavor to have an audience with him before he leaves the city.

Resolutions were passed ordering the issuance of about $15,000 of improvement bonds to pay up assessments on lots on various streets throughout the village. The services of Veterinary Surgeon Harris, who has been receiving a retainer of $15 per month besides charges for special work for looking after the horses of the fire department, were by resolution of the council dispensed with.

MALTREATED BY A MOB.

A Priest and Two Companions Badly Beaten in Corea.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—According to Korean advices received by steamer, Father M. Joseau, a Catholic missionary, was terribly maltreated by a mob recently. He was passing on foot through the market town of Kienchin accompanied by a teacher and a boy.

As soon as the crowd recognized him, there were shouts "Kill the foreigner! Stone him!" The natives threw themselves upon the priest, knocked him down and kicked him unmercifully. After the mob had torn out his beard, they beat him and then tried to bury him alive in the sand.

At last, somewhat alarmed at the consequences of a possible arrest, always a serious matter in Corea, the mob dispersed, leaving the missionary and his companions half dead on the ground.

A Republican Caucus.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The Republicans will go into caucus immediately after the senate adjourns to determine their course of procedure on the question of reorganizing the executive officers of the senate. It is said that a counter proposition of compromise will be made by the Republicans, to the effect that three officers nominated by the Democrats be permitted to qualify, but that the subordinates remain undisturbed until congress meets in regular session.

Later—the Republican caucus has decided to reject all offers of compromise and contest the proposed Democratic reorganization of the executive officers of the senate to the end.

The Best System of Fortification

It is that adopted by people in precarious health who wisely fortify their system against disease by taking a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Precarious health, when the health is but slightly impaired, is as physicians well know, worth any amount of medication afterward. A premonitory malarial chill, a fit of indigestion, increasing irregularity of the bowels, a warning rheumatic twinge, inactivity of the kidneys, slight at first, bilious sallowness accompanied with faded complexion, these are appeals to the sense of self-protection which no person of common judgment will disregard. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters preserves those who take it from malaria, dyspepsia, chronic constipation, rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble and liver complaint. Nervous invalids, persons troubled with infirmities incident to advanced years, ladies in delicate health and convalescents derive infinite benefit from the Bitters.

If Ladies Expecting to Become Mothers

Will Use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is a safe and reliable remedy for all ailments of pregnancy.

THE NEW BASEBALL RULES.

How the National Game Must Be Played

The following are the new rules of the National League of baseball clubs in New York city.

The playing rules were amended in several instances in a manner which will radically affect every club in the United States, whether amateur or professional. The full official text of the new rules concerning the pitcher, the bat, base-stealing and sacrifice hitting follows:

The Pitcher—Rule 6. The pitcher's boundary shall be marked by a white rubber plate 12 inches long and 4 inches wide, so fixed in the ground as to be even with the surface at the distance of 60 feet and 6 inches from the outer corner of the home plate, so that a line drawn from the center of the home base to the center of second base will give six inches upon either side.

Rule 7. The pitcher shall take his position facing the batter with both feet upon the ground in front of the pitcher's plate but in the act of delivering the ball one foot must be in contact with the pitcher's plate, as defined in rule 6.

Sacrifice Bunting—Rule 6. "A time at bat" is the term at bat of a batsman. It begins when he takes his position, and continues until he is put out or becomes a base runner, except when because of being hit by a pitched ball, or in case of illegal delivery by the pitcher, or in case of a sacrifice hit purposely made to advance a base runner, which does not result in a base hit.

Base Stealing—Rule 6. Section 5. If a base runner advances a base on a fly out, or gets two bases on a single base hit, or an infield hit, or attempted hit, he shall be considered a stolen base, provided there is a possible chance for a valuable attempt made to retire him.

The bat has been 2 1/2 inches in diameter, the word "batter" before the word "wood," and striking on the words "except that a portion of the surface may be flat on one side."

The new Cloaks are causing a daily activity in the Cloak Room. The new Laces, Silks, Dress Goods, Wash Goods, Ribbons, Gloves, etc., are making a host of early friends, and the

AMONG THE RAILWAYS

The Storm of Last Night Has Not Seriously Affected the Movement of Trains.

Duluth, Missabe & Northern Road's Station at Stony Brook Junction Burned Last Night.

An Iron Range Engine Jumps the Track—Two New Missabe Road Passenger Engines Arrive.

The storm here did not result in any serious delay to through trains up to noon. The Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic's Duluth express was two hours late. The Omaha lost a few minutes in the yards and the Fond du Lac short line had a little difficulty early in the morning.

The Duluth, Missabe & Northern was half an hour late in leaving and went out with only two coaches.

The Duluth & Iron Range engine No. 25, which pulls the McKinley passenger out of Duluth in the morning, tried the experiment of backing down on two tracks at once, with the usual result. A defective flange caused the trouble and the damage was nominal. Another engine was secured and the train went out a few minutes later.

Stony Brook Junction station of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern road was totally destroyed by fire with all the contents last night. An overheated stove caused the trouble. The building and platforms were worth about $1000 and there was a little loss on the freight. It will be rebuilt. The loss on the building is covered by blanket insurance.

Passenger engines Nos. 1 and 2, of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern road were received yesterday and No. 1 pulled the passenger from Stony Brook the same day. They are handsome machines, worth about $9000 each, weighing 40 tons and having 17 by 21 cylinders.

ALMOST A CYCLONE.

Milwaukee Cut Off From the Outside World.

CHICAGO, March 23.—Advice from the Northwest show that one of the most furious storms known for some time began yesterday. Through Wisconsin there was almost a cyclone, accompanied by rain, snow and sleet. Particulars from that state are difficult to obtain owing to the almost universal prostration of the wires.

Milwaukee is absolutely cutoff from the outside world. Neither telegraph company has a wire working in that city and the telephone wires are also down. Telegraphic communication is also slow and uncertain throughout Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, and Missouri.

At St. Louis the first thunder storm of the season is raging. The lightning is terrific and has caused great delay to telegraph business. In this city, there was rain this morning, followed by a heavy fog which enveloped the city as in a blanket. The indications at noon were for more rain.

THUNDER AT ST. PAUL.
It Was Followed By a Severe Sleet and Rain Storm.

ST. PAUL, March 23.—A sleet and rain storm that is still in progress was ushered in at midnight last night by a severe thunder storm. The telegraph, telephone and electric light wires this morning were weighed down by the sleet which formed on them, and the telephone exchange switchboard was burned out by the company's wires becoming crossed with electric light or street railway wires. The telephone system is rendered entirely useless for today.

Many Buildings Damaged.
GUTHRIE, O. T., March 22.—A terrific wind, hail and thunder storm visited the territory last night. In this city the damage done was but slight, but at Oklahoma City a number of buildings were damaged and several buildings burned.

The Municipal Court.
In municipal court this morning, James McDonald, John Reinhardt, Frank Wagner and last, but not least, Aunty Lanegan, were adjudged guilty of drunkenness and committed to the county jail for ten days.

Phillip Smith, charged with assault in the third degree, on complaint of John Carson, had his hearing set for Monday morning at ten o'clock.

Visiting the "Mines."
William Allan and George Green of New York, the principal stockholders in the Diamond and Buckeye mines and also large holders of the Ohio company's stock are up on the range looking over the two former properties. They will be back in Duluth again tomorrow and will then start for the range accompanied by George West and will visit the Ohio and other properties. Governor Campbell is not out here nor is he expected to come.

This continued for some time, when the men ran from the house. Finally Mrs. Kerr loosened the bands and grasping her child in her arms she ran to a neighbor's house and fell unconscious inside the door. When able to tell her story, a posse was organized to hunt the robbers. So far no trace of the men has been discovered. An examination of the baby shows where its tender flesh had been pinched and jabbed with pins to make it scream.

THE HAWAIIAN QUESTION.

Prince David Expects a Decision Favorable to the Ex-Queen.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—Prince David Kawanakakoa of the Hawaiian islands, accompanied by E. C. Macfarlane and a suite, arrived in this city from Washington last night. The prince expressed himself as confident of a speedy settlement of the Hawaiian question.

He enthusiastically stated that he had full confidence in the present administration which, he says, will doubtless render a decision in the matter favorable to the queen. The prince and Mr. Macfarlane will proceed to Honolulu by the next steamer. Paul Neuman, the ex-queen's envoy, is expected to arrive from Washington today.

John Christie, job printer, has removed from 30 West First street to 16 East Michigan street. Telephone 362.

AN ATROCIOUS OUTRAGE.

A Woman Cruelly Tortured by Four Masked Robbers.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 23.—The four masked robbers who have been operating in and around Findleyville, on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in Washington county, for the past two years, turned up in that neighborhood again yesterday and added another atrocious outrage to their already long list of crimes.

They went to the residence of J. C. McClelland, a wealthy farmer, residing one mile from Findleyville, during the absence of all members of the household, except Mrs. William Kerr, McClelland's married daughter, and her 18-months-old baby. McClelland had gone to Washington, Pa., to deposit $2000 in the bank. This the robbers were after, and after terrorizing Mrs. Kerr and the child began ransacking the house.

The baby cried, and one of the men grabbed it by the throat, choking it. The mother flew at the fellow, who dealt her a blow with his fist, knocking her to the floor. She was then bound and a gag forced into her mouth and was thrown upon the bed, while one of the gang stood over her with drawn revolver.

Finally, after an hour's search, foiled in their attempt to find the money, they returned to where the helpless woman lay and demanded that Mrs. Kerr tell where the money was secreted. This she was unable to do. Roughly loosening her hair, they cut it from her head.

Then one of the men took the baby from the room. Soon the mother heard the baby's screams and was told that her child was being killed by inches, and the only way to save its life was to disclose the hiding place of the money. The frantic mother tugged at her bands until the cruel strands cut into the flesh and blood gushed from under her finger nails.

This continued for some time, when the men ran from the house. Finally Mrs. Kerr loosened the bands and grasping her child in her arms she ran to a neighbor's house and fell unconscious inside the door. When able to tell her story, a posse was organized to hunt the robbers. So far no trace of the men has been discovered. An examination of the baby shows where its tender flesh had been pinched and jabbed with pins to make it scream.

Painters on Strike.

CHICAGO, March 23.—The painters who were working on the government building at the fair grounds are still out on strike. They say the contractors refused to sign the new scale of wages, which provides for an increase from 32½ cents to 35 cents an hour. This schedule is being presented to all contractors, and if it is not signed there is a possibility that more strikes will take place soon. The old contract of the painters with the bosses expires April 1.

A New General Manager.

SEDALIA, Mo., March 23.—J. J. Frey, general manager of the Suerman, Shreveport & Southern railway, has been appointed general manager of the Atchison & Santa Fe with headquarters at Topeka. The appointment takes effect April 3.

World's Fair Visitors.

An intending visitor to the coming World's fair at Chicago need have no fear as to the possibility of securing satisfactory accommodations at reasonable rates, at either the many hotels or residences listed in a neat pamphlet entitled, "Homes for Visitors at the World's Fair," compiled at great expense and published by a trustworthy Chicago firm. This book contains a list of about 6000 private families who will accommodate visitors in Chicago during the time of the fair, viz: May 1st to October 30th; gives their names and addresses, and number of rooms each will have to spare. The book also gives a list of the hotels and their locations; has twelve full-page, large-scale maps, each representing a section of the city, so that with this information before him the intending visitor himself can, at leisure, select the quarter of the city in which he would prefer to stop, corresponding in advance with one or more families in that locality with regard to rates and the accommodations desired.

The Wisconsin Central lines will in due time publish low excursion rates to Chicago and return for this occasion, while its double daily passenger train service, including through sleeping and dining cars to Chicago, will as usual be at the head of the list in every particular.

To help you in fixing in advance upon your place of residence while attending the World's fair, we have placed in the hands of our agents at your station copies of this work, which may be obtained at 50 cents per copy.

SHOT BY HIS FRIEND.

A Man While Delirious Kills an Intimate Friend.

BARDSTOWN, Ky., March 23.—At Bloomfield, this county, last night Alley Murphy, a well known young man, lost his life at the hands of Jodie Houston. Mr. Houston has been confined to his bed for some time with an attack of pneumonia. Last night, while delirious, he made an attempt on the life of his wife.

Her screams attracted the attention of the neighbors who ran to her assistance. Mr. Murphy was the first to reach Houston's room, and as he started towards the sick man Houston drew a revolver and shot him dead. The two men had always been devoted friends.

COMMISSIONER OF PENSIONS.

The Rumor About Judge Lochren, of Minneapolis. Not Credited.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—[Special to The Herald.]—There appears to be very little foundation for the rumor in circulation here that the president is seriously considering the name of Judge Lochren, of Minneapolis, for commissioner of pensions.

His name was brought to the attention of the president through the efforts of Senator Davis. Every one here who knows Lochren, however, thinks a better selection could not be made.

LEFT HIS CHILD HERE

Thomas Devine the Washington Bank President Arrested at Ashland Was in Duluth Sunday.

He Stopped at a Dock Boarding House and Left His 3-Year-Old Boy There.

Is Well Known in Duluth, Having Formerly Lived Here, and is Very Wealthy.

Last Sunday morning a tall, gray-haired gentleman, apparently belonging to the higher ranks of life, accompanied by his little son, aged 3 or 4 years, put up at Robinson's boarding house, a place on the edge of the dock at the foot of Fifth avenue west, patronized by the dock hands. The father left his son while he went out. He did not return, and being alarmed at the protracted absence of the stranger, the proprietor of the boarding house yesterday reported the facts in the matter to the police. Humane Officer Henry Haskins was detailed to look into the matter and there it rested when The Herald went to press.

Last evening's Herald also contained a telegram from Ashland in which it was stated that a wealthy banker named Devine from the state of Washington, indulged in a spree last Monday night, was arrested and spent the night in the Ashland police station as a common drunk.

Humane Officer Haskins investigations at the boarding house included the opening of the trunk and the startling discovery that the young boy was a son of Tom Devine who is widely known in Duluth and numerous Michigan towns. Pictures, letters, among which were communications from the Keeley institute at Dwight, Ill., together with bottles of the gold cure, made the identification complete. Mr. Haskins made arrangements with the boarding house people for the care of the boy which was about all he could do in the matter until further developments.

Tom Devine is one of the quickest money makers and timber experts ever in Duluth, but for years, whisky has been his bane. His wife, a most charming woman, died last summer, leaving her husband and two small boys the younger one concerned in this occurrence and an older one 5 or 6 years old.

W. P. Wheaton, 610 East Fourth street, is an intimate friend of the unfortunate banker and he this morning betook himself to the humble boarding house and removed Mr. Devine's little son to his own home where he is being tenderly cared for. Telegrams have been sent to the Ashland police stating that Devine is well known here and it is probable that he will soon put in an appearance among his many Duluth friends.

Mr. Devine has considerable of this world's goods, being president of a bank at Kent, Wash. He holds stock or did hold time in the Imperial mill the amount of $25,000, and is interested in several other paying investments. F. W. Payne, of the Security bank, is interested with Devine in certain business matters.

The Children's Home Society.

Rev. E. P. Savage, superintendent of the Children's Home society of Minneapolis, takes with him to place in good families the three little boys left orphans at the Children's Home on East Superior street by the death of Mrs. Chapman at St. Luke's hospital last Friday.

The society has provided homes for thirty-five children from this county.

Going to California.

The St. Paul & Duluth limited this afternoon carried away eight residents of Oneota for a three or four months tour in California. The party goes direct to Los Angeles but will make a number of side trips from that point.

The members were Mrs. Maryn Wheeler, the Misses Minnie, Ethel and Mabel Wheeler, Mrs. A. N. Dos, Mrs. C. C. Merrill, Miss Carrie Merrill and Master Willie Merrill. A large number of friends and relatives were present to see them depart.

A Wide Awake Man.

RECOVERED HIS DIAMOND.

Louis Rouchelle Narrowly Escaped the Loss of a Valuable Ring.

Yesterday morning during the sudden puffs of wind Louis Rouchelle lost his hat, and after a rapid little chase he recovered the wandering headgear, but when he returned to his office he found that his $500 diamond finger ring had been lost in the chase. He visited the vicinity of the Chamber of Commerce and looked carefully after the ornament but could not find it.

A few hours afterward Z. D'Aoust visited Mr. Rouchelle and said, "What's the matter with you, Louis? you look very gloomy?" Mr. Rouchelle told his visitor of his loss and finally consented to go back with him and look the ground over again. They went to the place and Mr. D'Aoust discovered the ring, the edge of the sidewalk in plain view of every passer by after less than a minute's search.

He Has Found His Cow.

"Please stop that stray notice of mine about a cow lost," said Judge Ensign this morning. "I telephoned the advertisement to The Herald and found the cow before the notice was printed. From this I am led to believe that the mere intention to advertise in The Herald is productive of good results."

A CYCLONE OF DESTRUCTION.

The State of Tennessee Was Swept Last Night by a Cyclone Which Left Death and Destruction All Along the Course. It Traversed in a Southwesterly Direction From the Mississippi Boundary.

The Terrible and Destructive Storm Covered a Stretch of Territory Twenty Miles in Width, Wiping Several Towns Out of Existence and Causing Loss of Life and Property Everywhere.

Half of the Big State Penitentiary, Which Covers Eighty Acres of Ground, Was Torn to Pieces by the Fury of the Elements, But Fortunately No One Was Killed.

The Effects of the Storm Were Also Felt in Mississippi, Missouri and Indiana, Where Houses Were Unroofed, Huge Trees Were Snapped Like Straws and Many People Were Killed.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 24.—The path of a cyclone which entered Tennessee yesterday afternoon in a southwesterly direction from Mississippi appears to have been about twenty miles in width, although serious damage was confined to a much smaller area. The wires are down in all directions. There is no telegraphic communication whatever with Nashville and intervening points and little news is obtainable from places visited by the cyclone. This city barely escaped. A heavy rain fell and a high wind blew at the time the cyclone raged and it became as dark as night for thirty minutes. Heavy damage was done to trees and outbuildings. A train from Birmingham reports much damage twenty miles east. Farm houses, barns and cotton gin houses are reported unroofed and blown down all along the line. The train was delayed several hours by having to stop at frequent intervals to chop away large trees that were uprooted and blown across the track.

The damage at Tunica, Miss., was great. About 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon the sky in the southwest began to darken, thickly and a low wailing sound announced a storm. Within a few minutes the wind came along with terrible velocity. The first hail howl gave way to the cyclone and houses crashed like eggshells, tossing saloon and church alike to the ground. Such unusual and unexpected wrath stunned the people. A partial calm, save for the fall of rain then came, and people rushed about in great excitement.

On one of the square where stood a handsome building occupied by the Knights of Pythias and Masons was now only a heap of timber and jutting beams from a mass of one of the most pretentious buildings in the town. The people on the streets first noticed this wreck, and then they saw the roof of the court house was gone, but there was more than this. There were cries and screams of children. Men rushed to the colored school house, where 150 children had been gathered at their lessons. The building, a two-story frame, had been blown down, and beneath the wreckage were lying the struggling children. So far as known none were killed, but there were many maimed and bruised, some with broken arms and some with fractured skulls.

DEATH AND DESTRUCTION.
Tennessee Was Swept by the Cyclone With Terrible Results.
NASHVILLE, March 24.—A cyclone of death and destruction swept Tennessee last night. Half of the big state penitentiary which covers eighty acres of ground, was torn to pieces, entailing an enormous loss of life. The cyclone, in number, had just moved out of the mess hall when the building collapsed and had they remained longer they would have been killed.

A two-story brick in North Nashville was blown down, killing Alex. and Eugene Drumright outright and horribly mashing W. T. Bradford, who was hurt. W. R. Wright, his wife and two children, who were in the building, were submerged in the debris and were all more or less wounded.

Out at Derden, a suburban town, the entire place was obliterated by the storm and fire. The damage to Nashville property alone is over $100,000. The cyclone ploughed its way through the Cumberland, destroying life and property. The wires are down and nothing definite can be learned.

FATHER AND SON KILLED.
A Mammoth Lamp Factory in Indiana Wrecked by Storm.

ELWOOD, Ind., March 24.—Last night a severe wind storm or hurricane passed just north of this city but did no damage. It reached Alexandria, ten miles east of here on the Lake Erie & Western railroad where it partially wrecked the mammoth lamp factory of this city, killing William Angel and his son, aged 15 years, who were crushed by the falling timbers. Reports up to this time are meager, but Alexandria advises state that the loss will reach several thousand dollars, which is fully covered by insurance.

The Storm Spent its Force Between Tunica and Shaw's Station.

VICKSBURG, Miss., March 24.—Passengers on the midnight train from Memphis says that the storm spent its force between Tunica and Shaw's station. These towns are about seventy miles apart and on the railroad, which is fatal. At Shaw's Station six stores were blown down a few persons wounded, but none fatally. In Tunica the storm left wreck and ruin in its wake. The Masonic and Knights of Pythias lodge, a handsome two-story frame building, is a total wreck. The white Presbyterian church and the colored Methodist Episcopal church was blown down.

The court house roof was blown off and the colored school building, a two-story frame structure, was blown down on 150 children. Several of them were badly hurt. The dwelling of H. A. Hingham is a total wreck. Quite a number of other buildings are badly damaged. The loss will reach into the thousands.

STORM IN INDIANA.
Several Buildings Blown Down and Part of a Hospital Demolished.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., March 24.—This city was visited by a terrible wind and rain storm last evening, accompanied by some hail. A number of small buildings were blown down. A part of the southeast wing of the Southern Indiana hospital, located two miles east of this city, was blown down and the patients injured. The depot building at the hospital was also demolished and the wreck blown across the track of the Evansville, Suburban & Newburg railroad.

A ROOF BLOWN OFF.
A Theater Building in Indiana Destroyed by the Storm.

ST. LOUIS, March 24.—A special to the Chronicle from Andersonville, Ind., says: Last night's wind storm did considerable damage. The tin roof was blown off the Olympic theater building and several windows were broken. The telephone, fire alarm and electric street car wires became crossed. Fire alarms were rung and several telephone boxes were burned out.

BROKEN LIKE STRAWS.
Huge Trees Snapped and a Whole Forest Laid Flat.

SALISBURY, Mo., March 24.—This place was visited by a terrible cyclone of tremendous power yesterday. In a twinkling, houses, barns and out-houses were unroofed and some of them totally destroyed. Orchards were leveled to the ground and scores of gardens and fields of spring crops were laid waste. In one place a tract of forest embracing many acres of magnificent timber was laid flat to the ground.

Shaw station, but the residents escaped injury. The wires are working badly as a result of the storm and news is some what difficult to obtain. There has been no confirmation here the report that Tupelo, which is in the eastern part of the state, has suffered severely from a cyclone.

A TOWN SWEEP AWAY.
In Less Than Five Minutes It Was Swept Out of Existence.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 24.—A messenger returned from Kelly at 11 o'clock and reports that the town is swept away. Kelly is a small town on the line of the Kansas City road, fifteen miles south of Memphis. The cyclone struck it yesterday evening at 3 o'clock.

W. W. Bennan, a school teacher, saw the signs of a storm and dismissed his pupils. In five minutes the school house was torn to pieces. Bennan's store was blown down, part of the depot was torn away and the telephones were blown across the tracks. Of thirty houses fifteen were swept away and the rest were demolished.

A big negro named Harris was killed. George Payne's skull was crushed, his wife's arm was broken and his five children were more or less injured. Meagre reports have been secured from the country west of Kelly. All the negro plantation houses have been blown away and it is said that many of these people have been killed. Three school houses were blown down but no one was killed.

Around Kelly 500 people are homeless and in need. The track of the cyclone was half a mile wide and its duration in Kelly was not greater than four minutes.

WAS A REGULAR BLIZZARD.
Trains in the West Delayed and Traffic Impeded.

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 24.—In this vicinity and throughout Northern Minnesota and North Dakota the rain and sleet storm of yesterday was followed last night by a heavy snow storm which in some localities developed into a small size blizzard.

In this city the storm was not so severe but further north trains were delayed and traffic considerably impeded. The Great Northern train due this morning is eight hours late and the Northern Pacific train from the west is belittled as indefinitely delayed.

ALL TRAINS DELAYED.
Six Inches of Snow in North Dakota, Blowing North.

FARGO, N. D., March 24.—About six inches of snow on a level fell last night, badly blocking railroad travel. The east bound Northern Pacific passenger train was stuck in the snow all night and Wheaton. It will be here about 3 p.m.

An accident to the Great Northern passenger going east last night delayed the train until after midnight. The sleeper left the track about a block from the depot and rolled down the embankment. Passengers had a narrow escape from burning up. Three passengers were badly bruised.

THE GRIP IN NEW YORK.
It Appears to Have a Firm Hold on the Metropolis.

NEW YORK, March 24.—While the health authorities were congratulating themselves that New York would be spared a visitation of influenza this season, the dreaded disease already had come and was settling on the city each day apparently getting a firmer hold.

For the first ten weeks of 1893 only thirteen deaths were put under the head of influenza and grip. For the single week ending March 18, eleven deaths from this disease were recorded. For the corresponding week of 1892, only nineteen deaths were attributed to this cause.

In the last four days there have been twelve deaths from grip. Yesterday there were five. The other deaths include thirty-eight from pneumonia, eleven from influenza and eight from bronchitis, all of which diseases are influenced more or less by grip.

CRUSHED HIS WIFE'S SKULL.
A Michigan Farmer Killed His Wife and Attempted Suicide.

CASSOPOLIS, Mich., March 24.—Wednesday night, Hilram Cox, a farmer living near Waukelee, about eight miles northeast of here, struck his wife with a club, crushing in her skull. Cox then went to a piece of woods near by and attempted suicide by cutting his throat with a pocket knife.

They were not found until Thursday morning. Mrs. Cox cannot live. Cox is conscious, but refuses to talk. It is supposed he committed the deed while under the influence of liquor. Cox is a rich farmer.

For the World's Fair.
WASHINGTON, March 24.—The portraits of the secretaries of state which form a part of the furnishing of the diplomatic parlor, department of state, are being packed for shipment to Chicago as a part of the exhibit of the department of the World's fair. Secretary Morton and other members of the cabinet are having their portraits painted for the same purpose.

Many Patriots.
WASHINGTON, March 24.—Owing to the great accumulation of applications and other papers bearing upon the appointment of postmasters, the force of forty-seven clerks detailed to the office of Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Maxwell to do the work of briefing and filing has been increased to fifty-one and the hours of labor have been extended one hour daily.

Forty Persons Killed.
NEW YORK, March 24.—A cable to the Herald from Valparaiso says: The Herald's correspondent telegraphs that a band of revolutionaries entered the town of Allegrita, which they sacked. The residents resisted the ravages and in the fight which followed forty persons were killed. Then the revolutionists abandoned the town.

IN THE LEGISLATURE

The House Judiciary Committee Instructed to Prepare a Bill to Punish Combines More Severely.

Resolutions Adopted at a Mass Meeting of St. Paul Citizens Backing up the Legislature's Action.

Proceedings to be Taken Against the Combine Under the Anti-Trust Law Passed by Congress.

ST. PAUL, March 24.—[Special to The Herald.]—In the senate this morning a resolution was introduced asking the attorney general his opinion as to whether the legislature has a right to apportion the state for legislative purposes at this time. Mr. Donnelly introduced a bill to repeal the present law for libel. Mr. Wood introduced a bill to authorize the counties of this state to issue bonds for certain purposes.

The finance committee this morning reported back the bill creating the office of mineral land agent and providing for his salary with no recommendation, except that it be placed upon general orders.

The bill governing and regulating the taking of fish in Lake Superior and other lakes along the northern boundary of the state was reported back by the committee of the whole with the recommendation that it do pass as amended.

The bill relating to an appropriation of money to open the closed water courses of the Red River Valley received its second hearing this morning. Wyman's bill for the protection of employees was passed by the senate this morning.

Senator Daugherty today spoke upon the Kodger bill, which provides that the steam boilers be stamped with the quality of material out of which they were made, in favor of an amendment that would require the test of the iron by experts before any boiler is constructed of that material according to plans of the United States marine service.

In the house, Rodger's resolution was unanimously adopted which provided that the judiciary committee be instructed to draw a bill whose provisions shall be such that any combination of corporations fixing the prices of a commodity at an exorbitant price, may be sued for the sum above the just price, and providing that two or more persons having such grievances may join in a suit to recover.

The following new bills were introduced: By Anderson, a bill for an act for better protection against forest fires, being a duplicate of the bill introduced in the senate by Allen some time ago;

by Richardson, H. M., a bill to repeal the general statute relating to actions to recover real property; by Cairns, a bill repealing the general statute relating to claim and delivery of personal property; by Virtue, amending the law relating to partition fences.

The house concurred in the amendments of the senate to the bill relating to state charges of orphan children. The mass meeting to protest against the coal combine at Market hall last evening was one of the largest held in St. Paul in many years. Brief addresses were made by many leading citizens, but the chief speech of the evening was made by Senator Ignatius Donnelly who promised that two or three of the leading members of the coal combine would be landed in state prison for perjury, and that the criminal conspiracy under which the people are obliged to pay from $2 to $3 per ton bonus to the coal barons for the privilege of burning anthracite coal, would be broken up.

The substance of the resolution adopted last night by the public meeting against the coal combine is as follows: That coal was put up $2 per ton; that the citizens heartily commend the zeal of the legislature in investigating the combine; that the legislature be requested to pass a resolution calling upon governors of all states and territories to appoint a commission of ten persons, who shall meet the first Monday in June, 1893, in convention to take steps to secure appropriate legislation from the United States and from the state legislatures to put down the coal combine; that the chairman of the meeting be empowered to appoint a committee of fifty citizens within thirty days to help the authorities in prosecuting the coal combine.

Senator Donnelly stated in his remarks that coal could be laid down in Duluth at $3.50 per ton at a profit to the coal men and he said 1,800,000 tons of coal were shipped to the head of the lakes each year and sold at much higher than legitimate prices. Donnelly said in the course of his remarks: "The other day a judge in the courts of this city sat still and listened to an attorney denounce the legislature as thieves and anarchists and he had no word of interruption or objection. (Hisses). Another judge drags a member of the legislature over the coals for acts done on the floor of the house of representatives. (Cries of Fire him!)"

The legislative branch of the government, the majesty of the whole people and the right of a free people to make the laws that govern them. There are three branches of the state government, legislature, executive and judicial. Nevertheless, the great bulk of the power rests with the legislative branch.

Attorney General Childs decided that Messrs. Rhodes, Wales and Saunders will be to present themselves before the joint legislative committee and testify or take the consequences, which probably will not be light, for neither the committee nor the members of the legislature, under whose authority the committee is acting, are in any mood for trifling at present.

The federal anti-trust law will be brought into requisition to break up the combine. Under the advice of Attorney General Childs.

ARMED FOR AN ATTACK

Two Preachers in Georgia Are Carrying Pistols and the People Expect a Lively Shooting Scrape.

Sam Jones, the Noted Evangelist, and Rev. Charles Dobbs, a Baptist Preacher, Are the Two.

Methodists and Baptists Have Ceased Speaking to One Another and the Town is Excited.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 24.—The little town of Cartersville is greatly wrought up over the antics of her preachers, two of whom are armed for any attack the one may make on the other. They are Rev. Sam Jones, the celebrated evangelist, and Rev. Charles Dobbs, the Baptist preacher of that place.

For a year past the air around Cartersville has been laden with stories of an unsavory nature in which prominent families have been victims. This resulted in the sending of anonymous letters to Dobbs and others. Dobbs placed the blame on Rev. Mr. Mashburn. An investigation conducted by Methodist preachers resulted in Mashburn's acquittal.

This did not please Dobbs and he has been talking so freely lately that Rev. Sam Jones, whose family has suffered from the rumors about him, the Methodist church, last Sunday night denounced Dobbs as only Sam Jones can, intimating that he would be ready to meet Dobbs next day. This coming to Dobbs' ears, he fortified himself with a pistol and Mr. Jones was equally ready for what might happen.

Methodists and Baptists have ceased speaking to one another, and the town is in a fever of excitement, crowds following the two preachers every time they make a public appearance.

AN INDIAN UPRISING.

Redskins Are Dancing and Preparing to go on the Warpath.

KANSAS CITY, March 24.—Dispatches from two points in the eastern part of the Indian territory last night indicate an Indian uprising imminent among the Kiowas, Otoes and Missouris. They have been dancing for a week and are performing old-time superstitious ceremonies.

The chief of the Kiowas has arrived at Tahlequah for assistance. He is not in sympathy with the uprising and cannot control his tribe. The Missouris and Otoes have been running wild in blankets for weeks declaring against further invasion by whites.

[Chief Kiowa of the Kiowas, who is at Tahlequah, says that assistance must be sent at once or the whites will be massacred.

TO OUST SENATOR ROACH.

Republican Senators Will Try to Force His Resignation.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—There is a story in circulation here that the Republican members of the senate have decided to move against Senator Roach with the idea of forcing him out of the senate.

It is possible that no immediate action will be taken, but the plan now is to get at the facts in the charges made against him. It is not probable, so far as said, that money will be made during the present special session to try to retire him.

RACING 'ROUND THE STATES.

Two Women Making a Circuit of the American Union.

PORTLAND, Ore., March 24.—Miss Edith Day left this city last night on the Northern Pacific to race against Miss Doolittle, who left Chicago last night to make the circuit of the United States by way of the City of Mexico.

Miss Day goes by way of Chicago and Washington and expects to be back in Portland April 1. She will meet Miss Doolittle in the City of Mexico.

STRICKEN DEAD.

TRUSTWORTHY STATEMENTS.

A recent New York dispatch reads: "James C. H., a fine looking and apparently healthy man, was observed to stagger while walking on Fifth Avenue this afternoon, and after taking one or two uncertain steps fell to the sidewalk. When picked up he was dead. A physician examined the body and pronounced heart disease the cause of death. A post-mortem examination of the case is now being made by the coroner. It was on his way to Maine to settle in the home of his boyhood. He had passed the previous ten years in the western mining country, and had amassed a fortune. IF YOU have any of the symptoms given in the following testimonials you should lose no time in seeking relief."

From John L. Roberts, Stratford, Pa.: "I have suffered with palpitation, irregular pulse, fainting and smothering spells, pain in shoulders, arms, hands for over forty years. For twelve years have been treated without avail by prominent physicians in my neighborhood and in New York. Growing constantly worse, smothering spells followed one another, so my life was often in danger and I needed constant care. As my son had been cured by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, he sent me three bottles. The first dose gave me instant relief. Before using the last bottle I was completely cured. Although seventy-five years old I feel twenty years younger. I claim my cure to be almost a miracle."

Here is a letter from Mrs. John Kolges, of Cleveland, O.: "I had been troubled with my heart and stomach for years, but for sixteen months had been confined to my bed. I had four of the best doctors in the city, but none of them could benefit the weakness of my heart. I also had dropsy of the extremities. I never took medicine that relieved me as much as Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure does. I am much stronger. My appetite is splendid. I gain strength with every dose. I have gained more in six weeks from your treatment than in sixteen months from all the doctors."

"Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure for the Heart is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists. It is safe, effective, agreeable, and does cure." Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

THE CHANCES OF THE "EXS."

The President's Rules as to Former Office-Holders.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The number of callers on Mr. Cleveland yesterday showed no diminution. But little was said to the president concerning his noted rules. They have come to be so well understood that few points in regard to them remain to be cleared up.

The no-reappointment rule is, of course, the principal one and in it the greatest interest is manifested. From what Mr. Cleveland has said it is understood not to apply in certain cases as follows:

1. To those who have no opposition for reappointment.

2. To those candidates for postmasterships who have no opposition, but are endorsed almost unanimously by citizens of their city or town.

3. To those who were removed by the Harrison administration without serving out their terms.

4. To those who were nominated to office by Mr. Cleveland just prior to Gen. Harrison's inauguration, but who failed of confirmation by the senate.

The exceptions to this rule have become more familiar to office seekers, there has been a rush of the "exs" to the White house. They have received little satisfaction from the president, however, unless they enjoyed his personal acquaintance or were known to him by reputation.

To a gentleman who saw the president with reference to the re-appointment of two former office holders who were endorsed almost unanimously by their congressional delegations, he said by a large number of prominent people, Mr. Cleveland intimated that if he made the appointments desired he would do so with the understanding that the people of the community would assume the responsibility for his action.

WILL BE ON THE LOOKOUT.

The General Managers Will Apprehend a Railroad Strike.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The labor situation is still regarded as somewhat uncertain by the management of the various roads centering in this city is evident from the nature of a circular sent out yesterday to all general managers.

The circular announces that the iron bound organization called the general managers' association will be continued indefinitely and have offices in the Rooker building.

The intention of the general managers is to dismiss all the employees of the association and send them back to the railroad offices whence they came, subject to immediate call in the event of a declaration of hostilities, but this order makes it plain that the general managers will be on the lookout constantly. The staff will consist of experienced clerks, typewriters, etc.

BACKED BY BIG CAPITAL.

The Canadian Pacific to Have an Entrance into New York.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The Times says: A railroad project is being quietly pushed along which is designed to let the Canadian Pacific road into New York, independently of the other trunk lines which terminate there.

Men with money and credit back of them have organized the New York Canadian Pacific railroad and Hudson Docking company with a capital of $10,500,000. Surveys have been made and most of the right-of-way secured for a line from Ogdensburg, via Schenectady to points on the New York & Hudson, and it is proposed to begin the work of construction very soon. The New line will be a New York extension of the Canadian Pacific railroad from Prescott, Ont.

RIBOT TRIUMPHS AGAIN.

The French Ministry Once More Successful With the Deputies.

PARIS, March 24.—The government was again successful in the chamber of deputies yesterday. A critical debate was expected in the chamber on the question offered by Deputy Lucien Millevoye as to what further action the government intended to take in regard to the bribery and frauds shown to have been perpetrated in connection with the Panama canal enterprise.

The chiefs of the government hoped that the discussion might lead to the overthrow of the ministry, but after some exciting speeches, the government succeeded in carrying the order of the day by a show of hands which proved the attack on the ministry to be hopeless for the time at least.

THE ANN ARBOR TROUBLES.

Story of a Wreck Caused By Strikers Is Denied.

TOLEDO, Ohio, March 24.—Things are running smoothly and quietly on the Ann Arbor road today. It was feared that the strikers would again commence annoying the non-union men now that there is a full in the court proceedings.

General Manager Ashley says that there is no truth in the report sent out last night that a train was derailed on the road by sympathizers of the strikers. He says he has investigated and found that it was purely an accident and the fault of the switchman. No one was injured.

Samuel Compers, president of the American Federation of Labor, is expected here next week. His coming will have something to do with the Ann Arbor strike, but in what way has not been divulged.

A NEW TRUNK LINE.

A Connecting Link Between Duluth and Galveston to Be Built.

CHICAGO, March 24.—Directors of the Yankton, Norfolk & Southeastern Railroad company held a secret meeting at the Great Northern hotel yesterday for the purpose of completing the details in connection with the road.

The road is to run between Yankton, S. D., and Norfolk, Neb., connecting Galveston, Tex., and Duluth, Minn., and making with the Great Northern, a trunk line running north and south of the Mississippi river. The length of the road will be 200 miles.

The Highland electric cars are running regularly from the head of the incline through the prettiest tract of land at the head of the lakes.

THE GRAIN TRAFFIC

Trunk Lines Take Steps to Regulate the Grain Traffic During the Season of Navigation.

All Eastbound Traffic That Reaches Buffalo and Erie to be Divided Among the Roads.

Essential to Get the Western Roads and the Great Northern to Agree to the Plan.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The trunk line association has taken important steps for regulating the grain traffic during navigation which, if successfully carried out, will add thousands of dollars to the treasuries of the interested railroads.

The trunk lines have passed resolutions to divide all the east-bound traffic that reaches Buffalo and Erie by the lakes in accordance with certain percentages to be determined by the commissioners.

The shippers that each company is entitled to will be based upon the business that it has obtained during the last three years. This is decided by a new department. There is reason to believe that the scheme will be a success, inasmuch as the railroads between Chicago and New York are convinced that a pool is the only satisfactory solution of the evils of rate cutting.

The trunk lines have seriously determined this spring to make their own lake lines in check with an equitable division of the grain traffic at Buffalo and Erie, where it is turned over to the railroads, they will reduce friction to a minimum. The one essential thing is to get the assurance of the Western roads and the Great Northern that they will agree to the plan of the trunk lines, although the latter have always claimed that with the support of the lake lines they controlled the situation.

The Great Northern cannot reach New York except over a trunk line which is amenable to the rules. The trunk lines are convinced that a pool is the only satisfactory solution of the evils of rate cutting.

The Chicago Branch of the Brotherhood Demand Higher Wages.

CHICAGO, March 24.—There is a possibility of a repetition of the boiler-makers' strike of last summer in the near future. At a meeting of the brotherhood branch No. 1 at Bricklayers' hall last Saturday night, it was unanimously decided to demand that eight hours shall constitute a day's work and that the men be paid the same as for ten hours work.

Notices were served on thirty-six union shops yesterday to this effect, and if the demands are granted the new schedule will go into effect April 1. There are about 500 members in branch No. 1 and it is expected that two other branches of the city, which contain about 400 members will make like demands.

The proprietors of the shops have not yet announced what course they will pursue, but they will probably issue their ultimatum in a few days. A committee has been appointed to wait upon them and demand that they will probably be forthcoming before April 1.

THE MONETARY CONFERENCE.

The Question of Sending Delegates Being Discussed By the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Congressman McCreary, of Kentucky, tendered his resignation to the president yesterday as a member of the international monetary conference. The reason he gives for this action is that he has so large a number of constituents to attend that he cannot leave Washington. The conference is adjourned Dec. 1 to last to May 30. Since then three of its five delegates from this country—Senators Allison and Jones and Representative McCreary—have all tendered their resignations.

Great Britain has since intimated that the question whether or not the convention should be reconvened is one which the United States as the inviting power must determine.

After his talk with Mr. Cleveland yesterday Mr. McCreary said that, while he was not at liberty to discuss details in connection with the question whether Mr. Cleveland would appoint other delegates to the conference, he would say on his own responsibility that the United States had called the conference the president, he thought, would certainly be obliged to send a commission.

This question, said Mr. McCreary, is now being considered by the president, the secretary of state and the secretary of the treasury.

AN UNFOUNDED REPORT.

Speyer & Co. Will Not Take Proceedings Against McLeod.

PHILADELPHIA, March 24.—There is apparently no truth in the report now current that Messrs. Speyer & Co., the New York bankers of the Reading Railroad company, intended instituting criminal proceedings against President and Receiver A. A. McLeod for misrepresenting the condition of the company when he resorted to a negotiated loan for the loan of $3,000,000, which has since figured in the receiver's schedule of liabilities.

Probable foundation of this rumor is the action taken by the Speyers in reference to yet another financial transaction between them and the Reading company.

DOWN TO DEATH.

Fatal Fall of a Carpenter From a Freight Elevator.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 24.—S. P. Lyon, a carpenter, fell off the freight elevator in the wholesale hardware house of Janney, Seelye & Co., yesterday afternoon, and struck on his head three stories below in the basement. He was killed. How he happened to fall is unknown.

Lyon was about 35 years old and leaves a family. He was employed by H. E. Seiden, and his brother, William Lyon, is a member of the firm of H. N. Leighton & Co., contractors.

Genuine Activity in Real Estate.

The liberal propositions and terms of payment offered by the North Galveston association to investors is rapidly bringing purchasers into the field. The enormous amounts already expended in public improvements—such as street paving and grading, tree planting and sewerage, public buildings, hotels, etc.—have rapidly enhanced the value of property. Every new factory or other enterprise means a very healthy increase in valuation. There never was a better time than now to invest, as North Galveston, Tex., is built on a sure foundation. For full particulars call on or address Holwick & Youngblood, 327 West Superior street, Duluth, Minn., the local agents, or the North Galveston association, box 963, Minneapolis, Minn.

ENCOURAGES THE BOYS

Militia Companies at Duluth and West Duluth Met Col. Shandrew, of St. Paul, Last Evening.

The Boys Seem to be Somewhat Disheartened and Complain Because Armories Have Not Been Provided.

Capt. Dent Induced to Withdraw His Resignation—E. J. Luther May be Captain of Company H.

Col. Shandrew, of the National guards, met the militia companies at the armory last evening for the purpose of discussing matters of general interest and giving the boys some encouragement to hold the fort until reinforcements arrived. The companies at the head of the lakes, including one at Duluth and two at West Duluth, have been placed in a very unsatisfactory condition for some time through the failure of the municipalities to furnish suitable armories.

All three companies have been without captains, the resignation of Capt. Dent of Company H and Capt. Luther of Company G, the latter's resignation had not yet been accepted and the colonel induced him to withdraw it on condition that the boys of the company would stick by their colors and do all in their power to keep up under the present depressing circumstances.

Several schemes were suggested for obtaining an armory and the boys' spirit was somewhat elevated by the promise of a grand review of the state guard at St. Paul in May and also an encampment some time in June. A number of the members of company A of Duluth under Lieut. Bidwell were present and after the colonel had given the boys all the encouragement he could offer he took the night train for St. Paul.

It is probable that all three companies will be organized in a short time. Lieutenant Bidwell will undoubtedly accept promotion in Company A. Captain Dent has decided to hold his position at the head of the lakes and Company H will hold an election for captain in about two weeks. It is understood that E. J. Luther, who has had considerable experience in military affairs will be asked to accept the captaincy of Company H.

Services in the Jail Will Be Allowed But Girls Must Stay Away.

For some time it has been customary for the ladies of the W. C. T. U. to hold Sunday afternoon services in the county jail for the benefit of the prisoners. The elderly ladies were always accompanied by a number of young and pretty women who frequently broke the jail rules about conversing with the prisoners and finally the sheriff was compelled to put a stop to the services. He has agreed to allow them to be continued, provided that no young people, especially young girls are allowed to attend. All good mothers and fathers will appreciate the sheriff's course in this matter particularly if they could hear the way the prisoners speak about their young lady visitors.

How Is This Ladies?
Ward McAllister in the Illustrated American: The producers of the finest wares in the world concede the United States to be their greatest market. The nobility of Europe consume, of course, a great quantity of these productions, but in this day and age their demands are out a drop in the bucket compared with those of the dressers of this country.

Paris still enjoys the title of "the imperial fashion center of the world." This should be changed to "the fashion center of extreme dressing" and extreme dressing is in bad form here. We are today infinitely superior to the French so far as manufacturing of the proper kinds of clothes to wear is concerned both for the male and female race, and will equal them in manufacturing fabrics.

Any of our New York ladies who have made a study of dress will tell you she secures more prompt service, more artistically created gowns in New York than she does in Paris.

And at this day and age you may go west where you expect to find crude dressing, and you will see plenty of people as well if not more tastefully dressed than you are; they have through their shops just the same access to foreign markets as we do; and certainly the same knowledge of styles; and are oftentimes more proficient in their vocations. There is always a class of new people in the West and in New York who continually boast of having their goods made abroad, etc. But it is conceded to a class who never were anything and are trying to be somebody and don't know how. There is nothing so thoroughly disgusting to a lady who has been dressing for several seasons than to hear the old old boast from the lady who is so very, very new. I have all my gowns made abroad, etc. It is the signal of newness, the cause of tatters, and that almost impolite change in the conversation. Go to Paris and come back visit the watering places here and you'll find people from all over the United States dressing infinitely in better form than you are.

COOPER SHOP IN FLAMES.

Plant of the Hennepin County Barrel Company Burned.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 24.—Yesterday afternoon fire broke out in the dry kiln connected with the large establishment of the Hennepin County Barrel company, located on Fourteenth avenue and covering the territory between Fourth and Fifth streets, and spread almost in the twinkling of an eye, through the entire structure.

Nearly the whole block between Fourteenth and Fifteenth avenues and Fifth and Sixth streets is covered by the shops and warehouses of the Hennepin County Barrel company and the North Star Barrel company. It looked at one time as if both plants were doomed to destruction, but the flames were finally brought under control and were confined to the structure in which they broke out.

The insurance amounts to $21,500; of this $13,000 is on raw material, $5,000 on building, $2,500 on machinery and $1,500 on the engine and boiler. About ninety hands were employed, of whom sixty were members of the company. The whole property was valued at $75,000, and the capital stock is $100,000, of which about $47,000 is paid in. The company was organized in 1885.

A FEUD IN GEORGIA.
It Resulted in Two Women Being Outraged and a Man Badly Beaten.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 24.—Advice from Carrollton state that a band of masked men last night visited four houses on the Alabama line and whipped several people almost to death. Two women were outraged and several men brutally beaten. The locality is in the mountain section where there are many moonshiners.

The trouble seems to have grown out of an old feud. Several of the eleven men charged with participating in the outrages have been willing to accept a reduction of 2 1/2 per cent in wages, but Mrs. Bowen was outraged by one of the party.

The trouble seems to be an outgrowth of a lawsuit between a family named Beauford and a Mrs. White over some property. Two of the Beaufords are under arrest. Mrs. White was one of those assaulted. The persons arrested vigorously deny any knowledge of the affair. Some of them are prominent citizens.

WILL END ON MONDAY.
The Longest Fight Ever Known in the History of the Cotton Trade.

MANCHESTER, Eng., March 24.—An agreement has been reached by which the great cotton strike will end on Monday.

The Federation of Master Cotton Spinners and the Amalgamated Association Cotton Spinners met yesterday to discuss terms for a settlement of the strike. The spinners were willing to accept a reduction of 2 1/2 per cent in wages, but some of the masters insisted upon a 5 per cent reduction.

It was the refusal of the spinners to accept this latter reduction that precipitated the strike, which resulted in the suspension of between 11,000 and 15,000 spindles. Finally it was agreed that the spinners should accept a reduction of 7 pence in the pound in their wages.

The masters agreed to again start their spindles Monday, and thus has ended one of the longest fights ever known in the cotton trade.

A TRAIN DITCHED.
Attempt of Train Robbers to Rife an Express Train.

MENARD, Ind., March 24.—An attempt was made at an early hour Wednesday morning to wreck and rob a Grand Rapids & Indiana express train east of this city in Randolph county.

At a point two miles south of Winchester the road crossed a gang of mounted robbers with a wagon was in waiting.

The train passed over the rails in safety, but a freight train that followed was ditched and great damage was done. Two of the train men were badly injured.

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED.
A Man Perished in a Burning House and Murder Feared.

FRANKFORD, Mich., March 24.—Fire Tuesday night destroyed the store building owned by James Gallagher and occupied by John Lockhart as a grocery store and meat market.

Mr. Gallagher, who slept in a room on the second floor, was overcome by smoke and perished. As he was supposed to have a considerable sum of money with him, there is a suspicion that there was foul play.

MAY SELL SOME BONDS.
Mr. Morgan Will Dispose of Government Bonds, if Necessary.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Despite denials from Washington, there is good authority for the statement that J. Pierpont Morgan of the banking house of Drexel, Morgan & Co., who sailed Wednesday in the Niagara for Europe, has a commission from the government to arrange for the sale of bonds abroad, if an issue becomes necessary to replenish the treasury stock of gold.

The bonds would be issued under the refunding act and would bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent. The bonds would probably command a premium of 12 or 15 per cent.

Hotel Pokegama Burned.
GRAND RAPIDS, Minn., March 24.—Fire broke out in Hotel Pokegama at 12 o'clock yesterday. At 2 p. m. it was burned to the ground. It was the largest hotel in Grand Rapids and the loss is $15,000, with an insurance of $7000.

The origin of the fire is a mystery but the indications strongly point to incendiarism.

A Lynching May Occur.
WEST PLAINS, Mo., March 24.—There will probably be a lynching here today. A farmer named Fayo was locked in jail last night charged with the murder of his 16-year-old daughter. He had been beating the girl with a club for a week and today she died. Her body is a mass of bruises and sores.

An Old Engineer Gone.
ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 24.—Chas. Thomas, the engineer who pulled the first train over the Niagara Falls division of the New Central road, died in this city yesterday.

Indians' Self Torture.

Suspended by ropes fastened to cliffs out in the heart, the Indians dance and throw all their weight upon the ropes. Any sign of suffering or weakness condemns him to a "saw," and he must die the work of a "saw," and associate only with "saws."

THE "HOCKEY A-TIM" OR TORTURE DANCE.

If he stands the test without complaint or sign of suffering, he is cut down and considered a "brave." His wounds are then dressed with Indian Oil and Kickapoo Indian Salve, enabling them to quickly heal. He also takes copious draughts of Kickapoo Indian Sagwa to allay the fever and revive his strength, and thus avoids serious consequences.

Dyspepsia suffer more horrible torture than the red men with all their savage rites and customs ever conceived. The frightful Pangs of Indigestion, the Horrid Nightmares, the Nervous Apprehension and Dread which a Disordered Stomach Produces, has no parallel in savage life.

That Tight Feeling about the Chest, Palpitation of the Heart, Shortness of Breath, Headache, that Gnawing in the Pit of the Stomach, and Feeling at Times as if a Stone was Wedged There, that Fear as if "something awful" was going to happen; Dread, Misery, Despair. Finally in a fit of despondency, a Shot or a Plunge into the river, and another suicide is mourned.

Nature in its boundless mercy has put in our way for the stomach's restoration to healthy condition a remedy employed by the Indians, and known to them as "Sagwa," resorted to by them not only for the cure but for the prevention of such troubles. This medicine is widely known as

We have them—and in the new "eminence" and "green" shades, and that's saying a great deal, as they are the most scarce article of merchandise in the market today, owing to such a vast demand for them in the East. In New York city they have raised the price to $3 a pair and they are selling most speedily at that. Those we have will sell at the ordinary price, $2.25, while they last.

AMONG THE RAILWAYS

A. F. Priest Assumes the Position of Master Mechanic of the Missabe & Northern Road.

Two Switch Engines Purchased, One by the Biwabik and One by the Mountain Iron Company.

Capt. H. C. Braden, of St. Paul, Takes a Position With the Missabe Road—Other Matters of Interest.

Master Mechanic A. F. Priest has assumed his new duties on the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway. Mr. Priest used to hold a similar position on the Eastern railway and also with the Chicago, Great Western. He is also the inventor of the celebrated Priest flange, a most valuable device for flanging and clearing the rails.

Captain George Whipple, of St. Paul, has not been appointed train master of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern as has been stated. The officials of the road and Mr. Whipple himself deny the rumor, and the captain says he "doesn't know what the duties of the position are."

Capt. H. C. Braden, of St. Paul, has been appointed to a clerkship on the Duluth, Missabe & Northern and will be stationed at Oneco. He will check the material used in the construction of the new ore dock.

Trains on the Duluth & Winnipeg are but slightly delayed and diverging lines are on time. Two switch engines, one for the Mountain Iron company and the other for the Biwabik Mountain Iron company are stuck in the snow heaped railroad yards at Superior. They will be dug out today and delivered probably tomorrow. They are Pittsburg make, 17x21 cylinders, with 41 inch drivers and weigh 72,500 pounds.

THE THIRD REGIMENT.

Officers Must be Competent or They Will be Reduced to the Ranks.

The officers and men of the Third regiment are working very hard to bring the regiment up to the highest possible point of efficiency and discipline. The Third always was a hard worker, and just now seems to be inspired with a spirit of work. Col. Shandrew and Lieut. Col. Johnson propose to make periodical visits to each one of the company stations until camp. All the commissioned officers of the regiment are given to understand that they must be thoroughly competent to carry out their part of the work at camp, and if it appears that they cannot they will be reduced to the ranks as soon as they return home. The Third is enthusiastic for the next camp, and will send a good many men there.

As Capt. Braden is coming to Duluth to live and has plenty of military ardor, it is not at all unlikely that he may yet be the major of the Third regiment, to fill the vacancy made by the promotion of Maj. Johnson.

The St. Paul Dispatch says: "Several of the companies of the Third are now in charge of young officers who are eager to make a record for themselves, and are working with great energy. It has taken a new lease of life under Capt. Person. A. of Duluth, is commanded by Lieut. Hildwell, B. of Anoka, is in command of Lieut. Dunning, and Lieut. Wold is in command of H. of West Duluth."

Private Hatch, of company C, of the First, has been appointed sergeant major of the Third.

Mayorality Contest in Superior.

The mayorality election is greatly agitating Superior just at present. There is a strong sentiment in favor of the election of Martin Pattison, formerly mayor, but the Land and River Improvement company is fighting it. The opposition is at ten, however, not being able to settle on any candidate who is willing to make the run. John W. Scott, present mayor would like to be re-elected, and W. E. Hochle is hustling for a nomination. The Democrats have no man in view although several names are mentioned.

Taylor's Case Passed.

Joseph A. Taylor, who is charged by Dr. Edmunds of Chicago with obtaining money under false pretenses, appeared in court in that city yesterday for trial. The state was not ready to proceed and the case was passed, despite the protest of Taylor's attorney.

AMUSEMENTS.

AL. G. FIELD'S MINSTRELS.

The Al. G. Field minstrels will face the footlights at the Lyceum theatre on Monday and will present a program of varied excellence. The company roster exhibits many of the bright lights of the minstrel firmament, among whom are Al. G. Field, Frank E. McNish, Harry Shunk, Tommy Donnelly, Clayton and Jenkins, W. A. Junker, Chester Nymms, the Mignani brothers, Eldora, M. Foy, Doc Quigley and Joe Reider. The vocal department is said to be exceptionally strong and is composed of some of the best of American tenors.

"The White Squadron."

All classes of play-goers will find pleasure in the new spectacular drama, "The White Squadron." Nearly all of the scenes are imposing novelties. In two of the animated stage pictures—the Congress of the Navies and the Public Square in Rio Janeiro—two hundred persons appear on the stage at one time. Equally handsome and realistic are the superb settings, showing a despoiled monastery, the spacious harbor of Brazil's capital and the formidable war ships composing the white squadron moving majestically under sail and steam. "The White Squadron" will be presented at the Temple on Monday and Tuesday evenings.

Carmenita's Dancing.

"The Prodigal Father" appears at the Lyceum on Tuesday evening. Carmenita, the Spanish dancer, is with the company. The music of each of the famous Carmenita's dances is piquant and exquisitely catchy, as indeed is all Spanish music. "The great danceuse prefers to play her own castanet accompaniment, and in this performance she is as successful as she is in her remarkable dances. It is only a scintilla who can handle the very small but not altogether easily manipulated castanet, that is, to be successful in keeping the right tempo with orchestral embellishment. Simultaneously with the twirling of the body, Carmenita never misses the right clinking of her castanet in its proper place.

Marshall P. Wilder.

Marshall P. Wilder, the inimitable humorist, who will entertain at the Lyceum is a very popular man and has lots of friends wherever he appears. The Chicago Times says of him: "The spontaneity of Wilder's wit is what most highly recommends him to the humor loving public. Where he gets his stories is an unending cause of wonderment to those who know him best. Of course, we do not mean to say that he never indulges in a chestnut, but he never tells the same story twice the same way. He is a mimic, too; he can imitate the manner and voice and methods of speaking of anybody he meets, whether they have peculiarities or not. Talk of Irving! he can do Irving so perfectly that Helen Terry herself could not tell the difference. But Wilder is not a buffoon by any means."

"The Industrial Revolution."

Professor Charles Ziehl, B. D., instructor in history at the Chicago university will deliver his lecture on "The Industrial Revolution" at the Bethel for the Workingmen's club this evening. Upon the success of this lecture will depend the securing of other noted speakers to give lectures.

AN ATHLETIC CLUB.

A Report That One is to be Started in Duluth.

The St. Paul Globe of yesterday said: Sam J. Hawkins, of Duluth, proudly assured a party of friends whom he met at the Windsor hotel yesterday afternoon that the breezy and hustling city from which he hails will soon follow the example of the "other large cities of the country in the organization of a first-class athletic club."

"Of course," he said, "we don't expect to make the winning bid for the Gorbett-Mitchell affair, and it is not likely that we will try to bring off any of these big fights, even after we get going. We do intend, however, to have an athletic club and the gentlemen of our city take sufficient interest in sports of the better class to make it a success. Last fall we erected one of the finest club houses and rinks in the country for skating and curling, and now we propose to provide for those amusements which do not require ice. It is proposed to give periodical athletic entertainments, say once a month or once in sixty days, to consist principally of wrestling, boxing, running races and tumbling."

Looking for Opium.

Special Revenue Inspector C. A. Munn raided Sam Wo's laundry on lower Tower avenue in Superior yesterday in search of smuggled opium. Four Chinamen were found hitting the pipe. Several opium cans and a cancelled stamp were found which were confiscated and sent to the United States district attorney at Madison.

Wanted to Die.

Pete Gallagher, the St. Paul & Duluth freight conductor, who had both legs crushed Tuesday, died early yesterday morning in the hospital at St. Paul. Both legs were amputated but the sufferer could not rally from the shock; in fact said he did not want to live a hopeless cripple. Mr. Gallagher has two brothers, both railroad men.

A BIG CANAL PROJECT.

The Plans For a Deep Channel Between Lake Erie and the Sea.

A Dispatch to The Herald yesterday stated briefly that there is a bill before the Canadian parliament to incorporate the North American Canal company, Chauncey Dutton, of Pittsburgh, who is the promoter, being associated with prominent Canadian capitalists, and the object being to build a wide, deep channel, with the fewest possible locks, between Lake Erie and the seaboard.

Additional advices received today state that the channels will be so wide and deep that the largest lake vessels could steam through them at full speed. There would be but seven locks between Lake Erie and the terminals, and but four between Montreal and New York, and the locks would move two vessels at the same time, one ascending while the other was descending. It is proposed to obtain a charter from the state of New York and make a canal from Champlain to tide water in the Hudson river. No United States charter would be required, as the work would be entirely within the state of New York.

A vessel leaving Lake Erie would descend to the Niagara river and Lake Ontario, descend the St. Lawrence, the Cornwall canal and Lake St. Francis, pass via the Chateaugay and St. Louis sections and Lake St. Louis and the Lachine canal to Montreal. Her time would be thirty-two hours. If she was destined for New York, her total time would be sixty hours, and she would continue her southerly course via the Chateaugay section, taking Champlain and the Hudson canal and river.

The Only Line That Does It.

The St. Paul & Duluth railroad is the only line running three daily trains between Duluth and West Superior and St. Paul and Minneapolis. Is the only line running a fast limited train to St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Is the only line making connections with three daily trains to Chicago and all points East. Is the only line running through and separate sleepers to St. Paul and Minneapolis without change, and is the only line that can sell you a ticket to any point and check your baggage through.

It Was a Goodsend to Him.

J. F. Nelles, the lucky person whose ticket was drawn February 1, 1891, at M. S. Burrows & Co., and who received the $100 in gold, was a very happy fellow when he was given the substantial token of the firm's liberality. He is a poor man and was out of a job and this unexpected windfall seemed to put new life and hope into him, and after putting on one of Burrows' elegant $15 suits and expressing his hearty thanks, he took his departure saying that no matter where he was he would always remember with all his heart the Great Eastern of Duluth.

John Christie, job printer, has removed from 20 West 1st street to 16 East Michigan street. Telephone 362.

No doubt it surprises many how Huberg Bros., the jewelers at 1801 West Superior street, can sell so many of those finely adjusted railroad watches at such very low prices. But they believe in small profits and quick sales. If you need a watch come and see us. Can save you money.

World's Fair Visitors.

An intending visitor to the coming World's fair at Chicago need have no fear as to the possibility of securing satisfactory accommodations, at reasonable rates, at either the many hotels or residences listed in a neat pamphlet entitled, "Homes for Visitors at the World's Fair," compiled at great expense and published by a trustworthy Chicago firm. This book contains a list of about 6000 private families who will accommodate visitors in Chicago during the time of the fair, viz: May 1st to October 30th; gives their names and addresses, and number of rooms each will have to spare. The book also gives a list of the hotels and their locations; has twelve full-page, large-scale maps, each representing a section of the city, so that with this information before him the intending visitor himself can, at leisure, select the quarter of the city in which he would prefer to stop, corresponding in advance with one or more families in that locality with regard to rates and the accommodations desired.

The Wisconsin Central lines will in due time publish low excursion rates to Chicago and return for this occasion, while its double-daily passenger train service including through sleeping and dining cars to Chicago, will as usual be at the head of the list in every particular. To help you in fixing in advance upon your place of residence while attending the World's fair, we have placed in the hands of our agent at your station copies of this work, which may be obtained at 50 cents per copy.

WILL SHIP EXHIBITS

Four Car Loads Will Be Sent From Duluth for the World's Fair on Tuesday Next.

Two Cars Will Carry Ore From the Two Ranges and Another the Fish Exhibit.

The Fourth Car Will Carry the Natural History Exhibit of the Whole State.

World's Fair Commissioner H. B. Moore is authority for the statement that a portion of the Minnesota exhibit from this section of the state will leave for Jackson Park in Chicago next Tuesday. In the assignment will be two cars of different and carefully selected specimens of iron ore from the different ranges, one car of the fish exhibit prepared by Dr. Sweeney and one car comprising the natural history exhibit from the whole state.

The articles are packed, labeled and handled with the greatest care and reflect a great deal of credit on the parties who collected them, as well as on the state which has so much more just like them within her borders. The Minnesota exhibit is being prepared quite rapidly and will all be in perfect readiness by the time set for opening the fair.

PREPARING FOR WORK.

Board of Trade Directors Select a Building Committee.

The directors of the board of trade held a meeting yesterday afternoon and appointed the following gentlemen as a special building and finance committee to carry out the wishes of the board in regard to a new building, as indicated at the recent election: George Spencer, George Ruple, A. D. Thompson, Franklin Paine, Ward Ames and John Macleod. The committee is holding a meeting this afternoon to subdivide the work. It is the intention to go ahead at once, and it will not be long before the board will have a handsome new building on the corner of First street and Third avenue west.

DOCKS AT CONNEAUT.

Probability That Mesaba Ore Will Be Handled There Instead of at Duluth.

It is more than probable that in the near future the Mesaba ore which will go down the lakes in the wheelbarrows will be landed at Conneaut, O., instead of at Cleveland. This town is springing to the front as a lake port and is having quite a boom just at present. The syndicate which controls the American Steel Barge company and which entered into the contract with the Merritts owns large coal fields in Western Pennsylvania. The Pittsburgh, Shenango & Lake Erie railway takes these fields and the coal is brought to Conneaut. The Merritts and the syndicate are said to control this road.

Work has already been commenced on a large coal dock 700 feet wide and 1000 feet long and this summer the fleet of ore carriers will undoubtedly be bringing coal from there. This road is claimed to be the shortest route between the coal fields and any Lake Erie port.

The Municipal Court.

In municipal court this morning the drunks were Ed Matthews, Gus Skiewsky and Jack O'Brien. The first received a suspension of sentence, Jack O'Brien's hearing was postponed until he had sobered up. Skiewsky's trial was set for 2 p. m. this afternoon, he pleading not guilty. John O'Brien, charged with vagrancy, denied being guilty, whereupon his trial was also set for 2 p. m.

Have a Wrong Idea.

The postoffice has had with the Eastern Minnesota road relative to putting on mail service to the jobbers' union. The department seems to have gained the impression that the only service desired between Duluth and Hinckley. This is not the case. The service on this road is particularly desired so that better connections may be had with Princeton, Elk river and other towns.

Young Ladies Entertain.

Misses Nellie and Maggie McLeod entertained a select company of their friends at their home, 632 West First street. The evening was spent most pleasantly in games, music and other amusements, after which, not far from the midnight hour, was served a dainty little supper.

Last Opportunity!

No time to be lost, sale ends TOMORROW, SATURDAY NIGHT. I am well aware that the BLOODY MONDAY SALE is the topic of town talk. I have nothing whatever to do with any other sale that is going on in the city at present. I have lived in the beautiful city of Duluth for the past eight years, and have always conducted a straight-forward business. It was for business reasons that I was necessarily compelled to make this sacrifice sale, as I have told you before. I do not advertise any fire sale, or do not say that I have any goods to sell that have been in a fire. Every article that is for sale in my store is worth ONE-HALF MORE MONEY than I ask for it. If any person or persons make a purchase in my store and take it home and become dissatisfied with the article, they can return the SAME and get it exchanged or get their money refunded. I have put on a extra force of help, and promise one and all to supply their wants to their heart's content, trusting the public will continue to bestow their blessings on me in the future,

I remain, Truly Yours,

How Rhodes of the Coal Combine [Kept Track of Dealers Selling Under List Prices.

Retail Dealers Frightened by the Threats of the Combine and Their Memories are Poor.

The Piedmont Avenue Assessment [Bill Has Passed Both Houses and Awaits the Governor's Signature.

Leavitt's Bill for Taxing Iron Ore Amended to Five Cents for First Five Years.

St. Paul, March 25.—[Special to The Herald]—Evidence lately taken before the coal combine committee goes to show that spotters were hired by J. J. Rhodes to spy out retail dealers who might be selling coal at prices below those fixed by the combine. E. W. Bonham swore that he had been employed as a spotter and had been given a list of Minneapolis retail coal dealers when he was to call upon and secure coal, if possible, at cut rates. The retail dealers have been thoroughly frightened by the threats of the combine and their memories fail them whenever asked questions of a vital nature upon the coal combine.

The normal school committee has reported in favor of the bill for a new normal school at Tracy.

Senator Daugherty had the Piedmont avenue assessment bill passed under suspension of the rules. Allen's amendments were adopted and the bill now goes to the house for concurrence.

Mr. Stevens introduced a bill amending the divorce laws, making willful desertion sufficient ground for divorce.

Mr. Donnelly introduced a bill to prevent suits at law being brought against legislators or officers for acts performed in the discharge of their duty, which was made a special order for 12 m. to pass under suspension of rules.

Leavitt's omnibus tax bill came up for consideration this morning. It taxes parlor sleeping cars, gas and water companies, express companies, and from one cent for the first five years and from one cent for the first five years and from one cent thereafter. Senator Daugherty spoke against the bill. It also provides that the bill will be returned to the treasury of St. Louis county each year. The bill is still in committee of the whole.

In the pine land investigation, Matt Clark, the land commissioner, was put upon the stand and facts were developed that land was sold on credit and was in danger of destruction by fire, notice of the possibility of which was given to him by C. A. Smith, the man to whom the pine land was sold. The land was sold at a time of year when there was no danger. The law provides that a bond shall be filed for double the amount of the cost of stumpage and in this case it was only made for $2500, one-tenth of what it should be. The state auditor never sent anyone to check the amount of the cost of stumpage and in this case it was only made for $2500, one-tenth of what it should be. The state auditor never sent anyone to check the amount of the cost of stumpage and in this case it was only made for $2500, one-tenth of what it should be.

The Piedmont avenue bill with amendments was considered in the house and the bill sent to the governor for his signature today.

Mr. Sikorski introduced a bill in the house providing that no person shall be prohibited from wearing their shirts outside their pantaloons, and if such Celestial disobeys the law he is to be fined from $1 to $10 and forfeit his pigtail.

The house yesterday passed the Cairns primary election bill by a vote of 34 to 1. The negative votes included one Ramsey member. The others were country Democrats. There were 27 absentees. The bill will apply only to St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth and there was very little opposition to it.

The capital punishment bill, to abolish the death penalty, passed the house yesterday afternoon.

The Mills Lacs investigation committee met yesterday afternoon and had before it F. M. Cowles, the Sullwater lumberman who sold to Mr. Mulvey, one of the witnesses for the state auditor in this investigation a section of land for $4 a thousand within eight miles of a log-running stream. His evidence will be used to offset the evidence of Mr. Mulvey. The committee expects to report by the middle of next week. Hob Dunn, the chairman, says the report will find the charges true and will direct the attorney general to collect from C. A. Smith &amp; Co. at the rate of $4 a thousand for all the lumber they have cut on the section. The report will also find that there has been no sale, since the sale was made was clearly illegal, having been made contrary to the law.

The senate yesterday passed the Wyman factory inspection bill, after a slight amendment. The bill was at once sent to the house, which will have no delay in concurring in the senate amendment. All that now is lacking to make the bill a law is the governor's signature, which undoubtedly will not be withheld.

The joint legislative coal committee held a long executive session last evening, after which it was given out that no further attempts would be made to get John J. Rhodes and Edward N. Sanders to give any more testimony. Members of the committee said they had sufficient evidence to convict several people of perjury and criminal conspiracy in violation of chapter 10 of the general laws of 1891, and that Attorney General Childs will have the papers ready in a few days for presentation to the courts.

The conspiracy cases which involve both Minnesota and Wisconsin, brought under the federal trust laws in the United States district court, and the perjury cases in the state courts.

The charter commission met yesterday to consider section 41, relative to the election, appointment and duties of officers. The commission amended the section by adding the proviso that any gift received by an officer in violation of the section shall be deemed corruption in office, and any officer accepting such gift shall be punished according to a prescribed code and shall thereafter forfeit all right to hold office. An amendment to section 80 was also adopted providing that the city treasurer, and any bank or trust company holding city moneys, shall file their bonds in the office of the city clerk, as heretofore.

The department of state has received from Minister Snowden, for presentation to W. E. Curtis, the decoration of commander of the order of Isabella, Católica given by the government of Spain in acknowledgment of his work in connection with the exposition.

JUDGE MORSE PLACED.

A Leading Michigan Democrat Made Consul at Glasgow.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The president has decided to fill the important position of consul at Glasgow, Scotland, by the appointment of Allen B. Morse, of Michigan. His principal opponent was Mr. Oostley, of Illinois, who formerly held the place.

The funeral services over the remains of Col. Eliot F. Shepard will take place Tuesday at his late home, Rev. John Hall, of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, will conduct the services.

Dr. J. W. McLane and Dr. Charles McBurney, the physicians who administered the ether to Col. Shepard yesterday, denied themselves to all inquirers last night after issuing a brief bulletin. Both gentlemen were interviewed this morning. Dr. McLane said: "I am not reticent because there is anything to conceal. The statement I have made already covers everything there is to be said."

Dr. McLane is the family physician. The first inhalation of ether produced dangerous symptoms and the administration was immediately stopped. He rallied, but at 4 o'clock he began to sink and died at 4:20 of edema of the lungs.

Dr. McBurney was willing to go a little more into details. "There was nothing about Col. Shepard," he said, "to indicate that the administration of ether would be attended with danger. Nevertheless, of course, we took all the precautions possible, and the patient died at 4:20 of edema of the lungs."

Dr. McLane said: "I am not reticent because there is anything to conceal. The statement I have made already covers everything there is to be said."

Dr. McLane is the family physician. The first inhalation of ether produced dangerous symptoms and the administration was immediately stopped. He rallied, but at 4 o'clock he began to sink and died at 4:20 of edema of the lungs.

Dr. McBurney was willing to go a little more into details. "There was nothing about Col. Shepard," he said, "to indicate that the administration of ether would be attended with danger. Nevertheless, of course, we took all the precautions possible, and the patient died at 4:20 of edema of the lungs."

ELIOT SHEPARD DEAD

The Leader of the Movement for Closing the World's Fair on Sunday Died Suddenly.

An Operation Was to Be Performed on Him and Ether Administered With Fatal Results.

Funeral Services to Take Place Next Tuesday and Rev. John Hall to Conduct Them.

NEW YORK, March 25.—Col. Elliott Fitch Shepard, editor of the Mail and Express, died suddenly yesterday afternoon at his home, No. 2 West Fifty-second street. His death followed the administration of ether by Dr. Charles McBurney and the family physician, Dr. J. W. McLane, who were about to make an examination to ascertain whether the colonel's suspicion that he was suffering from stone in the bladder was correct.

Elliott Fitch Shepard was born in Jamestown, Chautauque county, N. Y., July 25, 1833. He was educated at the university of the city of New York, admitted to the bar in 1855 and for many years practiced in New York city. In 1861 and 1862 he was aide-de-camp on the staff of Governor Edwin D. Morgan, was in command of the department of volunteers at Elmira, N. Y., and aided in organizing, equipping and forwarding to the field nearly 50,000 troops. He was the founder of the New York bar state association in 1876, which has formed the model of the organization of similar associations in other states. In March, 1888, he purchased the New York Mail and Express.

The funeral services over the remains of Col. Eliot F. Shepard will take place Tuesday at his late home, Rev. John Hall, of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, will conduct the services.

Dr. J. W. McLane and Dr. Charles McBurney, the physicians who administered the ether to Col. Shepard yesterday, denied themselves to all inquirers last night after issuing a brief bulletin. Both gentlemen were interviewed this morning. Dr. McLane said: "I am not reticent because there is anything to conceal. The statement I have made already covers everything there is to be said."

SPRING OPENING
Of the Duluth Business University Will Occur on Monday, April 3—its Graduates Hold the Best Paying Positions in the City.

The spring term will begin at the Business University on Monday, April 3. There is a better time to take a commercial, stenographic or telegraphic course than during the spring and summer months and no better place to attend than the Duluth Business University.

Our graduates are foremost in securing and retaining the best paying positions in the city as accountants, stenographers, and office assistants.

Business men realize the worth of our graduates and the demand for them during the past few weeks has been much greater than we could supply.

This should be sufficient incentive for all ambitious young persons to enter at once and take one or more courses with us. No young person should hesitate as it is an indisputable fact that commerce rules the world today and more persons are engaged in it for their living than in all other callings combined.

This better the case and our individual and collective welfare being dependent on our efforts as businessmen, we should we or how can we afford to remain indifferent to the really practical part of our education. The Duluth Business University stands at the head of its class as a practical training school wherein young people can properly prepare themselves for the business walks of life. Remember the location 107 and 109 West Superior street. Visitors always welcome.

Dig Suit Started.
New York, March 25.—The members of the New York Associated Press have sued the Western Associated Press for about $200,000 with interest, due on unsettled accounts of collecting and distributing the news reports in the far West under an agreement that expired on Jan. 1. The agreement was made in 1892 for five years and was renewed in 1897 for the same period. The suit is the result of an examination of some of the books of both associations and the preparation of a statement of the relations that existed between the associations, with an estimate of the amounts that were withheld by the Western Associated Press during the existence of the contract.

Demand His Resignation.
LINCOLN, Neb., March 25.—Governor Crouse has demanded the resignation of Attorney General George H. Hastings for malfeasance in office in connection with the frauds in the state institutions, threatening to secure his impeachment should he decline to resign. The attorney general refused. The demand and refusal were exchanged yesterday in the executive departments and were overheard and given publicity by a visitor waiting in an adjoining room.

THE INJUNCTIONS GRANTED.

Important Decision Regarding a Strike at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, March 25.—A decision adverse to the interests of the Amalgamated council and the presidents of the different labor organizations was rendered today by Judge Billings of the federal court in the suits growing out of the great strike here in November.

Judge Billings says the organization of the strike and the acts of the union were unlawful and in violation of the act of congress prohibiting combinations, whether of labor or capital, in restraint of interstate or foreign commerce.

The defendants are liable to criminal prosecution. The injunctions asked for are granted. The decision is regarded as of great importance.

TALES MEN HEAVILY FINED.

Fines Aggregating $20,000 Imposed by Recorder Smythe.

NEW YORK, March 25.—Recorder Smythe yesterday imposed fines aggregating about $20,000 on talesmen summoned for examination in the Buchanan murder case, who had failed to answer the summons when called to be questioned concerning their qualifications as jurors.

The recorder has been plainly irritated since early in the week at the slowness with which a jury was being secured, and at the frequent necessity of ordering extra panels of talesmen for examination.

When the hour for adjournment arrived last night and only eleven jurors had been secured after five days' effort, no less than 219 talesmen had been examined. Besides these men who had answered to their names in obedience to the summons, almost an equal number had ignored the summons.

Accordingly, just before adjournment last night, Recorder Smythe stated that he imposed a fine of $100 upon each of the talesmen who had been personally served who had failed to answer to their names after they had twice been called.

There is every reason to believe, from the manner of the recorder during the week and when he imposed the fines, that he will not listen to flimsy excuses, and that the fines will stand as a warning to all others who may in the future be summoned as jurors.

A SENSATIONAL CASE.

Precminent Chicago Banker Co-Respondent in a Divorce Suit.

CHICAGO, March 25.—Ex-Congressman Ransom W. Dunham today filed a bill in the circuit court for divorce from his wife. The bill is a sensational one, charges being made of the gravest character and the co-respondent of the bill being a prominent banker of this city.

Behind the bill is an action against the banker which has not yet been filed, in which $50,000 damages will be claimed by Mr. Dunham for the alienation of the affections of his wife.

There will be other sensational developments than those of a slight violation of the marriage vows.

Property interests involving many thousands of dollars will be concerned, and in this connection Judge Horton today issued an injunction restraining the disposition of property by the principal defendant or any of the one or two co-defendants. Mrs. Dunham is in Dakota at present.

STRICKEN BY APOPLEXY.

The Brazilian Minister at Washington in a Critical Condition.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Baron de Aguiar de Andrade, Brazilian envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary in Washington on a special mission, was stricken with apoplexy and paralysis last night and lies at his rooms in the Arlington hotel in a critical condition.

The Baron had attended the performance of the "Sail Alarm" at the National theater and fell just as he was descending the steps. He was placed in a carriage, taken to his apartments and a physician and watchers summoned. Dr. Marguerite found that apoplexy had been followed by a stroke of paralysis, and at noon today he regarded his condition as very serious.

Baron Andrade is the oldest diplomat in the Brazilian service. He is here at the head of the commission which will present to President Cleveland the Brazilian side of the controversy between his country and the Argentine republic over the boundary line in the Missionero country.

To the Union and Non-Union Workmen and the People of Duluth in General.

We, the Retail Clerks' Union No. 3, R. C. N. P. A., respectfully ask your aid under the following circumstances:

You are aware of the fact that all the larger retail stores close evenings at 6:30 except Saturdays and Mondays, and thus give their employees four evenings of the week for recreation and enjoyment. For this we are thankful. But of late a number of small stores have sprung into existence, (as well as several fake unions and bankrupt stock sales) who never close at night, while there is a person on our streets, and who, for that matter, do not even close on Sundays.

A committee from our union, in pursuance of action on our part, endeavoring to protect legitimate merchants, who close evenings, waited on these small storekeepers asking them to close like the others. That committee succeeded in getting promises from them that they would close, provided we could get one of their number, one B. J. Cook, who has two small stores, one 522 West Superior street and the other at 9 East Superior street to close also. That committee waited on this man, when they received anything but courteous treatment from him, so that by his refusing to treat with our committee we have been unable to accomplish anything.

We ask you, fellow citizens, not to trade at any stores that remain open after 6:30 evenings, and to let the said B. J. Cook, in particular, see by your action that you love the spirit of fair play and justice. With the help of the Duluth public, we have been able to close up stores of greater consequence than those of this worthy and keep them closed. Respectfully,

The Retail Clerks' Union No. 3, R. C. N. P. A.

J. I. WALKER, President No. 3.

At a regular meeting of the Retail Clerks' union No. 3, R. C. N. P. A., held Tuesday, the 21st inst. It was resolved that we lay before the Trades and Labor assembly the foregoing communication and ask that said assembly take action thereon, we being affiliated with it under the A. F. of A., and to take such further action with reference to said B. J. Cook as may seem fit.

Retail Clerks' union No. 3, R. C. N. P. A.

J. I. WALKER, President.

Whereas the Retail Clerks' union, No. 3, R. C. N. P. A., who are affiliated with the assembly, have brought before their grievance against one B. J. Cook who persists in keeping open his stores at No. 9 East Superior street and No. 522 West Superior street, evenings, although other merchants agree to close.

And whereas, it is our duty to protect all merchants who recognize union labor and uphold the Clerks' union.

Be it resolved, that we hereby call on organized laborers of the public in general to trade only with stores that close at 6:30 evenings, and to have no dealings with said B. J. Cook in particular.

And further resolved, that all delegates to the assembly report these resolutions back to their different unions for further action on their part.

Dated this 23rd day of March, 1893.
JAMES McDOWELL, President, Trades and Labor Assembly.

Is injurious, but nothing gives strength like a pure old port wine. "Royal Ruby Port," so called for its royal taste and ruby color, is particularly adapted for invalids, convalescents and the aged. Sold only in quart bottles for $1, while cheap wine is sold by the gallon and gives a larger profit to the seller, but less to the user. This wine is absolutely pure and has the age without which no wine is fit to use. Be sure you get Royal Ruby, $1, in quart bottles only. Sold by S. F. Joyce, druggist.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN. March 25.—Cloudy weather with light snow showers in most sections of the country this morning. Among one of the few clear places is the western end of Lake Superior, while snow showers are falling at Marquette, and the temperature is below zero at Duluth and Sault Ste. Marie.

There is no decided depression this morning, but what may develop a storm seems to be forming over Western Montana. An area of high barometer covers the Dakotas with the center near Pierre.

There has been a very decided fall in temperature over most of the Northern states during the past twenty-four hours averaging between twenty and thirty degrees, while a rise of limited extent is over the Dakotas and Western Montana, where the temperature is below zero at Bismarck and 10 at Moorhead, Huron and Pierre. The warmest place is at Knoxville, Tenn.

Although the conditions are very uncertain this morning, the probabilities are for fair weather today and tomorrow, with slightly lower temperature today, and warmer tomorrow.

The temperature registered 31 here at the warmest time yesterday and fell to 12 during the night, registering 11 at 5 o'clock this morning.

DELETH, March 25.—Fair today and probably tomorrow; slightly cloudy today, warmer Sunday; light variable winds.

H. H. BRONSON, Local Forecast Official.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—For Minnesota and Wisconsin: Generally fair; warmer; cooling, followed by warmer in Eastern Minnesota, variable winds.

The Waterways Question.

On the seventh page of this issue will be found an interesting article on the waterways question, written by Edward Farrer, of Toronto, who is by far the ablest editorial writer in Canada and has no superior in this country. Mr. Farrer is one of the leaders of the movement in the Dominion in favor of continental union, and this article is an argument in behalf of that movement. The Canadian Northwest is regarded by him as one of the great factors in ultimately solving the question of annexation, because the successful development of the great territory, rich in agricultural resources, cannot be successfully performed without the co-operation of the United States.

But even if annexation were a fact, it would be necessary to solve the question of cheaper transportation of breadstuffs, a question that is of as great importance to the farmers in the American Northwest as it is to their cousins north of the boundary line.

Mr. Farrer takes the view which the Herald has repeatedly emphasized that the most direct and only practicable route from Duluth to the sea is by the Canadian canals and the St. Lawrence river. The St. Lawrence is nature's own route and it is hardly possible to improve upon it. Nay more, it is impossible to surpass it even at the expenditure of many millions because no artificial route can be created that will be as direct and short and operated at as low cost as that by way of the St. Lawrence.

The season of navigation on the great lakes is comparatively short, and a quick passage from the lakes to the Atlantic is essential in order that transportation may be cheapened. As against any other route that has been proposed, the St. Lawrence has an advantage nearly equal to one round trip for a vessel each year. What a great saving that means in the fixing of freight rates! A vessel can see at a glance. It would cost about $200,000,000 to deepen the St. Lawrence canals so as to make them suitable to carry vessels of deep draft, and Canada is in no position financially to perform this great work, with federal and provincial debts now aggregating $50 per head of the population and municipal indebtedness greater per head than that of the United States.

Obviously then, annexation must precede the opening of this route, unless an arrangement could be made for joint international control and improvement of the canals. Such an arrangement seems very improbable, and therefore we must look to annexation for the solution of the problem. One can easily see how annexation would be of great benefit to the people of both countries, and no community on either side of the boundary line would be more benefited than would Duluth.

The wheat-raising plains of the Northwest Territories would quickly be peopled with settlers, and for all this great region Duluth would be the entrepot, while annexation would also result in the early deepening of the Canadian canals and the opening of a direct deep waterway from Duluth to the Atlantic, cheapening the transportation of breadstuffs from this port and likewise reducing the freight charges on the goods and merchandise brought here as return cargo. This will be the result some day, and meantime we must patiently wait and watch the growth of the movement, which has recently made rapid headway, for continental commercial and political union.

The News Tribune has issued its annual, which has been long due. The patience of those who awaited its appearance has been well rewarded, as it is a really excellent publication and a credit to its publishers. The review of the improvements and developments of Duluth and vicinity for 1892 is very complete and well written and the original half-tone engravings are artistic. Extended references are also made to the future growth of this region, and the opinion is expressed, which agrees with that of all careful observers, that this will be the greatest year in Duluth's history.

The Pension Bureau.

The statement that President Cleveland may select Judge Lochren of Minneapolis to be commissioner of pensions seems to have considerable foundation, although the judge himself has not been an applicant for that or any other office and professes to know nothing about the story. There is no doubt that Judge Lochren would be a splendid man for the position, although it is somewhat doubtful if he would accept an office which is one of the most arduous and trying in the government service, and has almost invariably been connected with a scandal of some description.

It is notorious that several of these scandals which obscured the reputation of the commissioners were without foundation, being created out of revenge by the pension agent sharks who infest Washington and were not permitted by the commissioners to practice their rascalities as far as the pension bureau could prevent them. Several of the scandals, however, have been the direct result of having men at the head of the bureau who, although personally honest, were incompetent to handle the vast business under their charge. President Cleveland is said to be looking for a man about whose ability there will be no doubt, and Judge Lochren seems to possess the qualities that he is seeking in a commissioner.

A Washington dispatch says that President Cleveland, speaking to Representative Enloe, of Tennessee, made the important statement that he would appoint "no demagogic politician" to be commissioner of pensions. It is inferred from this significant announcement that the president will appoint to the office of commissioner of pensions a man more closely connected with business than with politics. In fact he has expressed his intention to divorce the office from politics and to select a commissioner who will conduct it purely on business principles. A number of names for appointment to the commission have been presented to Mr. Cleveland, and it is said he is proceeding warily in the hope of selecting a man who can keep his skirts clear of the unpleasant notoriety which has come to the office in recent years.

Judge Lochren is not a "demagogic politician," while his ability as a lawyer is unquestioned and he would be certain to conduct the office on business principles without regard to politics. He is likewise a Grand Army veteran and of spotless personal reputation. Certainly, President Cleveland could hardly do better than by appointing Judge Lochren.

Rights of Policemen.

Mayor Wright of St. Paul has fined a policeman $50 for entering a private residence without a warrant. This is a pleasing circumstance. Many officers have in the past violated the individual liberty of the citizen by breaking into private apartments without any legal authority, and they have not even been reproved for their illegal and high-handed proceeding. It is an old maxim that "a man's house is his castle" and not subject to forcible entry, yet almost every day in the year some private apartment is broken into by patrolmen and detectives who have no stronger authority for their actions than suspicions of wrongdoing. It has frequently happened that innocent and respectable people have been grossly insulted in this manner, and had they exercised their right of shooting down the law-breakers when they forced an entrance the law would have upheld their action.

Policemen, as a rule, have a very faint idea of their rights and authority, and in the matter under consideration custom permitted with impunity has given an utterly false conception of their brief authority. Mayor Wright has taught one policeman a lesson that he will remember, and if other officers will profit by the example, much good will have been done. The chief of police of Duluth might profitably give his subordinates a lesson on their duty in this respect, because there have been numerous instances here of such unlawful conduct on the part of officers.

The railroads have put in force new grain rates from South Dakota points, which discriminate against Duluth and in favor of Minneapolis. The railroads cannot be blamed, however, as they followed the order of the interstate commerce commission. The discrimination cannot last very long, however. The injustice of the rates will quickly cause their abolition. The farmers are now compelled to pay 4 to 5 cents more per bushel to send their wheat to Duluth, which is a gross injustice.

Duluth's bank clearings for the past week show an increase of 47 per cent over the corresponding week of last year, while the Minneapolis clearings show a decrease of 10.6. Again it seems necessary to inquire, does Minneapolis droop?

Saginaw, Mich., has a young woman known as "Jennie, the Hungry," who goes about forcibly seizing and kissing defenseless young men. Is this what is causing the removal of so many prominent lumbermen from Saginaw to Duluth?

A Nice Point.

A new argument for Sunday opening of the World's fair has been put forth. Repudiation and forfeiture is alleged on the part of the United States of the contract which required Sunday closing as a condition of the grant of 5,000,000 Columbian half dollar pieces as a gift to the fair.

The sum of $570,880 was asked to pay the expenses of awards and medals. This is a matter under the jurisdiction of the national people, and instead of making the appropriation, as in honor bound to do, congress voted that this sum should be paid out of the $2,500,000 souvenir coins voted to the local board during the first session.

Consequently congress attempted to lay hands on money already appropriated for the use of the local board and to turn it over to the national commission for its uses. "That," declares the Chicago Herald, "is a clear breach of contract, committed by those who were too loath to permit working people to visit the fair on Sunday. By this breach of contract local directors are doubtless released from their obligations."

There is no doubt some pretext will be found to open the fair on Sunday, and this point will serve as well as any other. Public opinion will sustain the management in opening the fair.

Col. Shepard Dead.

The sudden death of Col. Elliott F. Shepard, editor of the New York Mail and Express, removes from earth a man of strong individuality. He was frequently the butt of ridicule for his religious beliefs and his strange idea of putting a scriptural text at the head of his editorial columns. It has been charged that this was a business move to increase the circulation of his paper among the ultra-religious, but there was no evidence that the column was not as sincere as the Winnipeg merchant who erected a new store building several years ago and had engraved on its front "The earth is the Lord's, and the fullness thereof."

The demand for the opening of the World's fair on Sunday found in Col. Shepard a determined opponent, and as president of the American Sabbath association he labored hard and earnestly to prevent Sunday opening, making several lengthy arguments before congressional committees in support of his position and having much to do with organizing the closing movement throughout the country. He probably did more than any other one man to secure the closing clause in the appropriation bill for the World's fair.

Two weeks ago Mrs. Felt, of New York, was buried. She was married last June and thirteen persons sat down to the wedding banquet. Mrs. Felt is the third to die, the others being her father and the groom's best man. And yet there are people who laugh at the fatality attending thirteen.

BRANCH FOR SUPERIOR

Minnesota Railroad Commissioners Agree to Open an Inspection Office Across the Bay.

All Work Performed There Must, However, be in Charge of the Duluth Office.

Two Dwelling Houses on Tenth Avenue East Destroyed by Fire Early This Afternoon.

The Superior board of trade held a meeting yesterday afternoon to take up the matter of adopting the Minnesota inspection and discharging the Superior Board of Trade inspectors and weighers.

A letter was received from the state board of railroad and warehouse commissioners in answer to one sent by the board directors asking that offices for weighing, inspection and registration be opened at West Superior. The commissioners said:

"We should be pleased to grant your request in so far as to extend such facilities as would enable the members of the board or any person interested in grain shipments and receipts at West Superior or Superior to secure prompt and complete information in regard to weighing and inspection of grain at this point and thus obviate the necessity for securing such information from Duluth in the past. For this purpose a branch office can be established at West Superior for the issuance of certificates of weighing and inspection of Superior grain and for the cancellation and registration of warehouse receipts. The main office of weighing and inspection would necessarily under the law remain at Duluth and all work performed at Superior pertaining to the department would have to be controlled by those in charge of the several offices in Duluth.

"Your request that the officials of the state located at Duluth shall be required to report to your board of trade daily all statistics of grain received, on track, inspected in store, etc., and that the statistics of Duluth and Superior shall hereafter be kept separate is regarded as reasonable and we will endeavor to meet your views in the matter."

The letter brought up considerable discussion and several members of the board were adverse to accepting the proposition. A motion to discontinue the Superior board of trade inspectors and weighers at the end of the present month and recommend them to Chief Inspector A. C.
Clausen, of Minnesota, as responsible persons well able to fill their former positions, carried.

A motion was also carried to have the Minnesota inspectors open an office in the trade and commerce building and to stamp all certificates of weighing or inspecting in Superior with the Superior.

It is almost certain that the bill providing for Wisconsin inspection will be passed, says the Leader. The members feel that this is the best that can be done for the board.

TWO HOUSES BURNED.

Two dwellings on Tenth Avenue East Destroyed This Afternoon.

Two dwelling houses at Tenth avenue east and Ninth street burned to the ground this afternoon about 10 o'clock.
The fire caught supposedly from a defective flue in Dick Hayes' house. It burned very quickly and a cottage adjoining belonging to O. Swenson caught fire and was also consumed. A dwelling adjoining was singed somewhat. The Hayes house was worth about $100 and insured for $500. The Swenson house was worth about $200 and insured for $250 with the same amount also on household goods. The fire department started a line of hose 2500 feet long but it broke frequently, badly hampering the men.

DOES NOT LIKE THE WEST.

Impressions of a Man Who Went West to Locate.

George T. Copp has just returned from the Pacific coast where he went to locate. His impressions of the western country were not very favorable, however. He says:

"If Washington and Idaho are good countries the country about Duluth is a paradise, and if they can build a city there they can build a New York here.
There isn't over 5 per cent of the land there any good for agriculture. They talk about manufactures, but no one seems to know what they want to manufacture or what they will manufacture it out of. I lost what time and money I put into the trip, and have saved several from making the same mistake since my return.

For mechanics there is almost nothing to do. Common labor is monopolized by Japanese, Chinamen and Italians. The country is overrun with outlawed men and women of low repute. There are more men, I believe, working at the head of the lake here than in all Washington and Idaho, except in mines and possibly railroad construction. I found many of the silver mines shut down.
Business of all kinds is overdone there.

No man should leave Duluth if he wants business. If he goes to Washington or Idaho or any of the Western localities which railroads are booming so he will have to feed on larks and come back like the prodigal son."

CHARTERS FOR ORE AND COAL.

Fifty Cents Offered From Cleveland to Duluth for Coal.

It is reported from Buffalo that Mitchell & Co., of Cleveland, have secured a charter for all of the ore to be delivered at Tonawanda this season. The boats will probably be a portion of the Gratwick fleet. No rate is given. A Cleveland paper states authoritatively that sales of lesser ore aggregating 300, 000 tons have been made. It is said that the transactions include 50,000 tons of Chapin and 50,000 of Aurora, the latter bringing $3.75 a ton the former $4.25.
Vessel men are holding off for last season's rates, but shippers insist that there must be a cut, as sales of ore are being made at a cut of 50 cents from last year's opening price.

At Cleveland several vessels have been placed for coal to Milwaukee and Chicago, the rate to both points being 55 cents. The steamer George Spencer and consort, B. L. Pennington, were placed for Chicago, and the steamer J.
W. Moore for Milwaukee. On the head of Lake Superior 50 cents has been offered at Cleveland, but carriers are hesitant to accept cargoes to that lake because of the uncertainty attending the opening of navigation. However, the steamer Superior and consort Sandusky are loading coal at that point for Marquette.

The Canadian Pacific Railway company has closed a contract with the Cleveland dealers and W. L. Scott, of Erie, for 135,000 tons of coal to be delivered during the coming season. The Erie firm has agreed to deliver 25,000 tons at Ft. William and Morris Mills worth & Co. will deliver 78,000 tons at Ft. William, Heron Bay and Rosport.
The Cuddey-Mullen company will ship
20,000 tons to Aurora Mills and Owen
Sumid. The coal shipped to Heron Bay and Rosport last season was carried on contract. The steamer N. K.
Fairbank and the schooner Tontona carried most of it. The rate to Ft. William last season was 45 to 50 cents.

Marine Matters.

It is now thought possible that the Anchor line will add the steamer Con-cepcion to its Lake Superior fleet, which includes the India, China, Japan, Philadelphia and Gordon Cammell. The steamer Concepcion is now in the Pacific.

In some Duluth circles the philanthropy is made that vessels will not be able to reach there before May 5.

Capt. Thomas H. Stafford, late mate of the Northern Wave, will sell the steamer Apton this season, and Capt. S.
E. Chatterton the Portage. These are as yet the only boats in the Union line, but it is expected that others will be chartered.

A Buffalo correspondent writes: Fred S. Doty, formerly with the Chicago and Northwestern, has been here and has been appointed general passenger agent of the Western Transit line. Very large lake line running passenger boats between Duluth and Chicago. The agents all along the line, and if people don't go to Duluth and back again for six weeks before August it will be strange.

Agitating the Merchants.

The merchants of the city are beginning to wake up to the fact of the presence of several auction stores in the city.
Yesterday afternoon Messrs. Mendenhall and Burrows called at the mayor's office to discuss the matter. The commissioner was absent. He stated this morning to a Herald reporter that he did not know what had become of the bill introduced into the legislature authorizing the imposition of a license on vendors and transient dealers but apparently felt that such a regulation would be a sweet boon to a community and its regular merchants.

H. P. Barbour and wife to the Standard

scribed as the w 1/2 of the n 1/4, the e 1/2 of the w 1/2, the w 1/2 of the w 1/2, the n 1/2 of the w 1/2 and the w 1/2 of the w 1/2, section 2-28-76. The property was originally leased by the Cincinnati Iron company to H. P. Barbour.

THE TREND OF TRADE

The Wheat Market Here Today Was Quiet

Whole Session.

Serious Damage to Winter Wheat in Illinois and Southwestern Kansas by the Recent Storms.

The wheat market opened firm today but advanced for May and strong and unchanged for July, as compared with yesterday's close. It advanced a few cents, but not to the extent indicated by the news. The New York clearance today indicated 200,000 bu. of wheat, and the clearance for both coasts were 700,000
bu. Cables reported spot wheat quiet and poor demand, with sellers willing to make concessions. More news came to winter wheat in Illinois was reported, and Omaha wired that W.
C. Cross, a reliable grower, says that in the southwestern part of Nebraska wheat is largely winter killed and in the 100 acres in Kansas county in wheat, which he will plow up and plant in corn. Following were the closing

DULUTH TO THE OCEAN

The Problem of Cheaper Transportation is One of Absorbent Interest to the Western Farmers.

Deepening the St. Lawrence Canals to Give a Free Run From Duluth to the Atlantic.

The Canadian Route is Nature's Own Route and it Can Hardly be Improved Upon.

Edward Farrer, the well known Toronto editor, who is now one of the leaders in the rapidly growing movement for continental union, has an article in the New York Sun on the waterways question, that is of great interest. Mr. Farrer opens his article with a consideration of the Canadian Northwest as a factor in solving the question of annexation, pointing out that that section cannot be developed successfully without the cooperation of the United States. He continues:

But even if annexation were accomplished, it would be necessary in view of the low price of breadstuffs, to solve the problem of cheaper transportation. That is a question in which the American farmers of the West are just as much interested as the farmers of Northwestern Canada. The latter have tried to open an ocean route to Europe by Hudson's Bay. At their instance the Dominion government sent a steamer in the summer of 1881-5 to test the navigability of that route for commercial purposes. The distance from Churchill, on Hudson's Bay to Liverpool is 2,700 miles, or no further than from New York to Liverpool. For two centuries the Hudson's Bay company has sent one or two vessels a year to York Factory with supplies, the return cargo consisting of furs. It was found by the expedition that open navigation could not be depended on for more than three, or at most, four months in the year. Hudson's Strait and Hudson's Bay are open for a longer period, but the mouth of the strait is often blocked for a time by ice. The icebergs, brought down by Arctic currents, which appear to cover the strait in his most sanguine moments never dreamed of.

A leading Montreal shipper says that the distance from Duluth to Port Arthur by the St. Lawrence is 2,700 miles, or no further than from New York to Liverpool. For two centuries the Hudson's Bay company has sent one or two vessels a year to York Factory with supplies, the return cargo consisting of furs. It was found by the expedition that open navigation could not be depended on for more than three, or at most, four months in the year. Hudson's Strait and Hudson's Bay are open for a longer period, but the mouth of the strait is often blocked for a time by ice. The icebergs, brought down by Arctic currents, which appear to cover the strait in his most sanguine moments never dreamed of.

Latterly, public attention has been diverted from this seemingly impracticable venture to the much more feasible plan of deepening the St. Lawrence canal so as to give vessels of the largest size a free run from Duluth and Port Arthur to the Atlantic. The Canadian Northwest and the Northwestern states now agree in regarding that as a measure of vital importance to their common welfare. Canada alone cannot afford to undertake the work, and the United States cannot do it without the consent of Canada, but the union of the two countries would at once clear the way for action.

Here it may be well to say that while Capt. Fother's expedition and the expedition of the Hudson's Bay route a committee of the Canadian senate made some interesting discoveries about the region known as the Great St. Lawrence basin lying between the organized territories of the Canadian Northwest and the Arctic ocean. Hudson's Bay contains factors, fur traders and experts told an astonishing story, which has been confirmed by recent explorations. The Mackenzie basin covers an area of 1,200,000 square miles; in other words, it would make five states each as large as Texas, or you might carve it into six each the size of the German empire. It has a coast-line of 6,000 miles and a continuous lake and river navigation of 6,000.

The Mackenzie river alone is 2,500 miles long. This immense wilderness is rich in minerals, coal, iron, copper, gypsum and petroleum. Its only inhabitants are a few Indian tribes and its only exports are furs. Its fisheries are said to be inexhaustible. It contains forests of larch, white spruce, balsam and poplar. Professor Macoun, of the Canadian service, states that wheat weighing sixty-eight pounds per bushel grown there took a prize at the Centennial exhibition of 1876, and that the country produces luxuriant crops of potatoes, beans, peas, barley and red-top grass. The great length of the day in those northern latitudes produces rapid vegetation. During the agricultural features, the committee found that 100,000 square miles are barren, while of the remaining 80,000 about 320,000 are suitable for wheat and barley and 510,000 for pasturage.

The report says: "Throughout this arable and pastoral area latitude bears no direct relation to summer isotherms, the spring flowers and the buds of deciduous trees appearing as early north of Great Slave Lake as at Winnipeg, St. Paul and Minneapolis, Kingston or Ottawa, and earlier along the Peace, Liard and some minor western alluvials of the Great Mackenzie river, where the climate resembles that of Western Ontario. The native grasses and vegetables are equal and in some districts superior to those of Eastern Canada. The prevailing southwest summer winds of the country bring the warmth and moisture from the southern side of the north cereal growth, and sensibly affect the climate of the region as far north as the Arctic Circle and as far east as the eastern rim of the Arctic Ocean. How is this vast new land to be accounted unless by the extension of American institutions, carrying with them American energy and capital, to the Arctic ocean?"

To come back to the St. Lawrence canal, a competent engineer in the Dominion canal department estimates that it could be deepened to 21 feet for less than $200,000,000. A lake steamer of the latest type, loaded to 10 feet draught, would carry about 4,500 tons of cargo, where with a draught of 14 feet 3 inches, the usual limit for American upper lake craft passing through Lake St. Clair and the St. Mary's canal, she now carries only 2,875 tons. It is difficult to determine with accuracy the saving that would be effected if vessels carrying 4,500 tons could go from Duluth to tide-water or across the ocean without breaking bulk, but good judges think the rate on wheat from Duluth to Montreal would be reduced at the outlet to four cents per bushel. The cost of building a canal on American soil near the Falls of Niagara, and of providing a deep-water channel to the harbor of New York has been estimated by somebody at $100,000,000. Others think that if the scheme be practicable at all, it would cost nearer a thousand millions.

At any rate, the Canadian route is nature's own route and it would be hard to improve on it by the more lavish outlay. But, as has been said, Canada could not raise $100,000,000 or any such sum for deepening the St. Lawrence canals. Her net federal debt is already $50 per head, and her provincial debts $10 more, while her municipal indebtedness, though not ascertainable from the blue books, is greater per head than that of the United States. Even if she could borrow $200,000,000 she would not derive anything like an adequate benefit from the work unless the political boundary were torn down and her people and their resources allowed to participate in the commercial and industrial life of their own continent.

James Fisher, a member of the Manitoba legislature, has written a pamphlet in which he suggests that the enterprise should be carried out by the United States and Canada jointly, but not by the United States alone. Dives could not very well form a partnership of that dimension with Laramie without absorbing him. The project is greater in importance to the two countries than any other which can be imagined, but obviously political union must precede it. Canada would benefit beyond calculation. Montreal would soon be one of the principal entrepôts of the world, and it would then be possible to effect such a development in the Northwest as Sir John Macdonald in his most sanguine moments never dreamed of.

A leading Montreal shipper says that the distance from Duluth to Port Arthur by the St. Lawrence is 2,700 miles, or no further than from New York to Liverpool. For two centuries the Hudson's Bay company has sent one or two vessels a year to York Factory with supplies, the return cargo consisting of furs. It was found by the expedition that open navigation could not be depended on for more than three, or at most, four months in the year. Hudson's Strait and Hudson's Bay are open for a longer period, but the mouth of the strait is often blocked for a time by ice. The icebergs, brought down by Arctic currents, which appear to cover the strait in his most sanguine moments never dreamed of.

The St. Lawrence route from the Straits of Belle Isle, where vessels pass from the Gulf of St. Lawrence into the open Atlantic, is 2,700 miles long. From Montreal to Duluth is 1,300 miles. The tide runs as far as Three Rivers, 55 miles east of Montreal. The Canadian canal lies between Montreal and Lake Erie. They are the Lachine, Beauharnois, Cornwall, Farrar's Point, and the Lake Erie and Welland canals. Their total length is 71 miles. The locks or height directly overcome by their 53 locks is 555 feet. From Belle Isle to Liverpool is 2,700 miles, making the distance from Duluth to Liverpool 4,000. The largest of the canals is the Welland, 27½ miles, between Lake Erie and Lake Ontario, which has cost to date $23,750,000. It can be used by vessels drawing 14 feet of water. The other canals lie east of Ogdensburg and Prescott, and are 43½ miles long.

These canals, which have thus far cost $17,750,000, are being deepened to admit vessels of fourteen feet, but at present they can only accommodate craft of nine feet. Cargoes are transhipped to barges at Ogdensburg and Kingston. A new canal, the Voignes, is being built to supersede the Beauharnois. The entire capital cost of the St. Lawrence canals has been $120,000,000, but large sums have also been spent in dredging shoals in the river channel. Between Montreal and Quebec, 150 miles, there are some forty miles of shoal at twenty different places, the worst shoal (17½ miles) being in Lake St. Peter which is formed by the widening of the river.

All these obstacles have been overcome and the largest vessels now sail to Montreal, making it the chief seaport of Canada, notwithstanding that it is 1,000 miles from the ocean and nearly 100 miles above the wash of the tide. To secure a 21-foot channel, it would be necessary to dredge Lake St. Louis, Lake St. Francis, and some of the other reaches in the river between Montreal and Ogdensburg, but the main job, of course, would be the deepening of the seventy-one miles of canal. A considerable expenditure would also be necessary west of the Welland for deepening the American canals and also in the Great Lakes, where the need need not detain us just now.

Canada has made a beginning of the Trent River canal, which would shorten the route from Duluth to Montreal by 250 miles. The Trent navigation consists of a chain of lakes and rivers extending from Trenton at the mouth of the River Trent on the bay of Quinte Lake Ontario to Lake Huron. The cutting of a deep navigable channel from Lake Ontario to Lake Huron was commenced as long ago as 1857, but was abandoned for lack of money. Of late the Dominion government has spent a million on certain sections of the route, but is not in a position to provide the ten or fifteen millions that would be required to complete the work. It would be easy for the United States to do so.

The Ottawa and Rideau canals connect Montreal and Ottawa by the waters of the Ottawa river, and Ottawa with Kingston by the Rideau navigation. Built for military purposes they are now of commercial value. The Rideau and Champlain canals connect Montreal and Lake Champlain. The Champlain canal at Whitehall, N. Y., affords connection with the Hudson river. The distance from Montreal to the international boundary is eighty miles, from the boundary to New York City 330.

The total mileage on all the canals of Canada, and all have now been roughly described except the St. Peter's canal in Cape Breton, the Murray in the Bay of Fundy, and the canal that her magnificence on the Canadian side of the "500," has been $68,500,000. They do not pay costs of operating and repairs, much less a return on the borrowed money invested, but they help to develop the country, and would do so in an inconceivably greater degree if it were part and parcel of the United States. No country is so well supplied with lakes and rivers. You can take a canoe at any point on the St. Lawrence, and strike the Porcupine and Yukon, and its tributaries, thence to the Ottawa shelf of rivers, and on to Lake Huron and Lake Superior, from which you can reach Lakes Winnipeg and Manitoba, the Saskatchewan, and the Great Mackenzie, and either emerge on the Arctic ocean at Mackenzie bay or strike the Porcupine and Yukon and terminate the journey at Bering strait, having traversed 100 degrees of longitude. The St. Lawrence is a great river and canals nor her 15,000 miles of railroad, on which she has spent $100,000,000 of public money, can bring prosperity and civilization to the sparsely populated country crossing the line.

As a British colony, she is fighting against manifest destiny, against the goods and the increasing number of her people, and against the fact that the United States government has always appreciated the value of the St. Lawrence route. One of the conditions on which the United States entered into the reciprocity treaty of 1854 was that the St. Lawrence and its canals should be opened to American vessels. The fruitless negotiations for the prolongation of the treaty Canada was asked and agreed to enlarge the canal. By the treaty of Washington, 1871, the use of the St. Lawrence river was granted and forever assured to the citizens of the United States, and Canada agreed to give to the representative of the United States, no sooner had the English gentry were most pleasant and appreciative passengers, for our vessel was to carry them from Toronto to Port Arthur.

The last time I was on board, about 20 per cent being ladies. Our boat left Toronto at 11 a. m. We reached Owen Sound at 3 p. m. Amusing Experiences With a Party of Englishmen Who Traveled on a Canadian Pacific Steamer.

They All Must Have a "Bawth," And Jumped Into Owen Sound Harbor to Get It.

One of Them Made the Waiters Mad and They Threatened to Throw Him Overboard.

"In 1885, I was employed on the Athabasca, then commanded by Capt. Foote and ran as one of a line of steamers in connection with the Canadian Pacific railway," remarked George Potter, as he cleared his throat preparatory to an attempt to march a wild West story narrated by a Herald reporter.

"That summer, all Canada was stirred up over the approaching visit of the Royal Scientific association of England to America. The plan was to combine personal pleasure and the interests of science in a trip across the continent from ocean to ocean. The Dominion government appointed several of the citizens most distinguished in public affairs to strike the Porcupine and Yukon and terminate the journey at Bering strait, having traversed 100 degrees of longitude. ## LATE NEWS FROM LONDON.

NEW YORK, March 25.—The Post's London cable says: There is an interesting correspondence in the columns of the Times yesterday. Lord Selbourne, writing to Sir Henry James, expresses surprise and incredulity at the latter's assertion in parliament a few days ago that Confederate agents got wind of the government's intention to prevent the selling of the Alabama, by tampering with the crown lawyer's opinion thereon during an indirect and careless transit to the government.

Sir Henry James replies, maintaining that the record facts will substantiate the main point of his story, that Great Britain would never have had to admit negligence or pay an indemnity, if the opinion had been promptly and securely forwarded.

The Ulster agitation is assuming a form calling seriously for the intervention of the government. The secret committee has issued a manifesto from Belfast, summoning the royal Irish constabulary to attend a conference whereat they may arrange to organize themselves, despite all rules of the service to the contrary. The manifesto adds that those who are punished for partaking in the movement will receive a cash indemnity.

THEY COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Two Americans Lost Heavily at Monte Carlo and Killed Themselves.

MONTENAPOL, March 25.—Further facts touching upon the suicide at Monte Carlo of the two Americans named Well and Robb, of Duluth, Minn., have come to light. Every day the entire system of the Monte Carlo Casino and gambled. In four days they lost $15,000 and apparently by the time they had lost a small attempt to recoup their losses.

The statement that they had killed themselves on Monday night was erroneous. Robb, it was learned, sent a telegram to a Mr. White at the Hotel Helier in Paris. The contents of this telegram have not been divulged. After the dispatch of this message, they proceeded to the Casino and again gambled. They continued to lose heavily.

Later in the day Robb received a telegram which he showed to his friend Well. The men conferred together for some little time. They then retired from the Casino and went to a retired spot in the Casino grounds and killed themselves. The Casino officials are as usual reticent about the matter.

WRECKED A TRAIN.

A Deliberate Attempt to Wreck a Baltimore & Ohio Express.

PITTSBURGH, March 25.—A Washington, Pa., special says: An attempt, partially successful, was made to wreck the west bound Baltimore & Ohio express at a side track near Fairview station. A special engine was standing on the siding, and some unknown person exploded the switch light, forcing it into the switch. The express dashed into the engine with terrific force, breaking every window in the train besides other damage. The passengers were thrown from the seats, but were none frightened than hurt.

A search was made for the man who threw the switch but he had disappeared. The train was delayed half an hour until another engine was procured.

COUNTY RECORDS BURNED.

NEWTON, Kas., March 25.—Last night the vault in the registrar of deeds office was broken open and the county records destroyed. A hole was made through a two foot brick wall into the vault with a pick. The records were piled on the floor, surrounded with kerosene and set on fire. The loss cannot be made good for less than $100,000.

CONVICTED OF MURDER.

DENVER, Col., March 25.—Antonio Wood, the law murderer of Joseph Smith, was found guilty of murder in the second degree yesterday. The boy wept when the verdict was read, the first time he has broken down during the trial. He shot Smith in the back last November. The boy had been considered insane and this was the second trial of the case.

NYE ON HIS TRAVELS

His Pen Falls When He Writes About the Royal Gorge, a Great Canyon in Colorado.

Something About the Sable Porter on the Sleeping Car and the Work of His Life.

The Silver Question as it Appears in the West Touched up and a Woman's Story.

WESTWARD HO, March.

Did you ever see a porter on a sleeping car make up a berth? It does not look like anything hard to do, and yet if you try to make up 20 berths and have them look tidy you will find that great beads of perspiration are pouring down from your brow. I am watching one at his work as I sit in the car. He is a black man, with a table and a wash basin and an inconspicuous but earnest air, as one might be he were putting a summer kitchen on the universe.

I LOVE TO SIT IN A CAR THIS WAY.

One of these little blackamores is making a berth for a single lady whose face reminds me of a dream I had when a child and had washed down a quart of green gooseberries with a pint of warm milk. She has two cords at the back of her neck which run up into her raven black hair as far as the eye can reach. Some of her hair will not remain up, but comes out in a shy way about her ears, like a bunch of timothy on a vacant lot. The porter is a perfect Hebe in figure, and as he gets warmed up to his work you can tell where he is. Yet he is graceful in his work, and when he is done the berth into which I go looks almost like a calla lily with a humming bird in it.

I am the humming bird. When Mr. Pullman put forth his great success in traveling and sleeping, he provided a place for a humble, simple race of people who are fitted exactly to this work. The new furniture he introduced has become familiar now—viz., the African by descent and the porter by birth.

Oh, what a great, ghastly, white, still and solemn spiritual column the earth here has up at Leadville, Colo. Over 10,000 feet, two miles and a quarter, above the sea level lie the mighty vertebrae of a continent. Here dwell the avalanche and the man who defies all money but silver. Even the conductors on the railroad hesitate about taking anything but silver here.

I had no idea that the silver question had aroused such a feeling in the west. A silver dollar told me yesterday that a very little spark would let off an explosion in Colorado and the mining states that would echo around the world. It could command 25,000 troops in a few hours, he said. The present price of silver meant a loss of a dollar a day to the miner and closed many good mines.

Wall street is blamed for all this, and great capitalists are looked at askance. Twice this happened to me in Denver. It is a great problem for the new and victorious administration to solve.

I have often laid awake at night thinking of Mr. Cleveland up at Lakewood in his room trying to write his inaugural address and some one tapping at the door to ask for an office just as he has almost invented a new phrase like innocuous desuetude for the new era, and then so many other things, like the sugar test islands and the silver question, and I start up wildly and say to myself: "Who would envy him? Who would make the long fight in November to take up in March such an unwelcome job?"

There are no "rest" stimulate our ears to catch the president. I would have been in public on the stage, at a mere pittance, yet knowing that I was doing good and earning $750 per week for it, him to be president of the United States with cockroaches in the east room and red ants in the cabinet. Speaking of these household pests, let me say that I never heard of a better illustration of feminine character than the other day up at Laramie.

A young man whose sister is visiting him came home the other night and was scared out of his wits by finding her at midnight in her nightgown prowling around the outside of the kitchen with a coated revolver waiting for a burglar to come out at the back door. Sure enough, he soon came out and was captured by the two and the revolver. He was sent over to the jail, and then the brother asked why this slender young lady in her nightgown had gone around outside the kitchen. "Why didn't you go in by the inside door?" her brother asked her. "Why," she said, "you don't know as much as I thought you did. There are mice in the kitchen."

Speaking of the rat, the mouse and the cat, we have been told for 19 years that cats cannot live at Leadville owing to the radiation which increases the heat of the action and finally insects the brain, resulting in one of the most horrible of deaths. The death of a cat brought to Leadville has always been regarded by eastern people as one of the saddest sights to be seen.

I inquired a good deal while there regarding this matter and found that the cat does live at Leadville, and in private houses many of them are as happy and well as elsewhere. "But there are no rats," said my informant. "We have mice, but no rats."

That evening at the theater a large boy ran into my dressing room and stole a cork of soap while I was dressing. Cats, it is said, cannot live at the top of Pike's peak. Possibly they cannot. Neither can anything else. Speakers and singers experience great difficulty at both Aspen and Leadville on account of the hyperbolic conditions there. They rasp and become hoarse, and sometimes unconsciousness follows.

Dr. Dugan was once in the audience when it was suddenly discovered that the queen of the ballet had become unconscious in her dressing room. He was summoned. Around him he found 20 or more danseuses ready to faint and clustered about the head of the ballet, who lay there gasping in her rich purple costume. He looked at her a moment, as the physician might have done 30 years ago when he told the mother it was a girl. Then he called for a bucket of water, and in a moment life and health returned to all the dancers. They were real well and glad to go on with their work.

The dress of premier danseuse often costs thousands of dollars, but is more fitted for a house dress than anything else. It would be a poor costume to use in climbing Pike's peak.

In 1893 an avalanche came down the mountains, filling the valley with snow and improved farm property as far as the main entrance of the Hotel Jerome. All that saved Aspen was that she was not present at the time. Aspen is a beautiful city, but the air is so rarefied that a tenderfoot gasps like a dying sucker on the grassy beach.

Canyon City is also romantically situated at the entrance to Grand canyon. It has everything that heart could wish except more tourists. Hot and cold springs, with or without mineral in them, are ready for the invalid who craves a new kind of water to soothe in.

There is one spring which was famous for its healing powers centuries ago, and the Indians came from all over North America to bathe in it and show off their new clothes.

The people who wish me to say that since the springs have been entirely refitted with fresh towels, canals, brushes and soap. The change is noticeable and agreeable.

I cannot do justice to the Royal gorge, which is near Canyon City and named after the lunch counter at Omaha. My pen falters.

I quote from a livery stable man of Canyon City: "The Royal gorge! Whatever there is in the grand canyons to surpass the other canyons of the Rocky mountains, whatever there is to put the Swiss 'Vie Malt' in the shade, is found in the first five miles that lie west of Canyon City. Here is where the cliffs are vertical and where rays of sunlight never enter. This canyon and chasm ranks with Niagara and the Yosemite, among the greatest wonders of America. No words can enable the imagination to realize the stupendous and gloomy grandeur of these scenes. It is as if the Almighty in his wrath had riven the mountains to make a sepulcher for the sun, and the ancient sun, as the centuries roll away into the ocean of time, comes every day a little while and shines into the great abyss calmly and pensively, like a passing martyr smiling into his own grave."

The impression which the scene makes upon the scene is uncommunicable. The almighty grandeur thrills the soul with a subtle and anxious feeling of mystic unutterable, of tragedies that have evoked the best of nature. The waters know the undisturbed secret of their mother's voice and rush in turbulent anger from the scene. Winds are loam here which voice is moaning undertones through the passages of the chosen sons of the earth, and grief, too sorrowful to be spoken aloud. This spectacle is a majestic lamentation in granite and may be seen from one of my carriages, costing only $2 per hour, including the driver.

At the meeting in the parsonage of Williston church, for four years previous to this date Mrs. Clark had gathered about her a band of boys and girls for Christian nurture and work. This band was called the Mizpah circle, and from this circle came many of the original members of the first Christian Endeavor society, is Mr. Pratt says. "Mizpah was the birth of the Christian Endeavor movement." Most truly has Dr. Clark said that Mrs. Clark rocked the cradle in which the society was born.

At the meeting in the parsonage Dr. Clark read the constitution to those present, explained the pledge, and 57 signed as active members and six as associate members. Mr. W. H. Pennell, now of Boston and one of the trustees of the United society, was the first to sign the pledge and constitution.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning March 25. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—Promise meeting. (Read a promise that you have tested.) Isa. xli. 10, Math. xxi. 22. In this promise meeting but one peculiarity of divine promises is emphasized, and that is the faithfulness of them. "God's promises are sure" is the keynote of our topic. In Isa. xli. 8, the prophet says, "The grass withereth, the flower fadeth, but the word of our God shall stand forever." In Math. xxiv. 35, Jesus says, "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but My words shall not pass away." In each of these the characteristic of certainty is prominent and pre-eminent, first, as to the promises of God, and, second, as to the promises of Christ.

1. The promises of God that have been fulfilled. "The word of our God shall stand forever," says the prophet, and the history of man re-echoes the statement. God has been faithful to all His promises. When man sinned He promised the world a Redeemer. The promise has been fulfilled in Jesus Christ. The promise to Noah that the world should not again be destroyed by a flood, the promise to Abraham of a covenant, people and country, the promise to be with His people Israel so long as they were faithful to Him, the promise "while the earth remaineth" of "seedtime and harvest, cold and heat, summer and winter, day and night," the promise to be with the widows and fatherless, have all been abundantly fulfilled, and well may it be said of the promises of God, "He is faithful that promised."

The promises of Christ that have been fulfilled. "My words," says Christ, "shall not pass away," and history also corroborates the truthfulness of His declaration. Christ has fulfilled the promises that He made when upon earth—that the gates of hell should not prevail against His church; that to all who would come unto Him He would give rest from sin; that when two or three of His followers were gathered together in His name, to be in their midst; that when He would go away He would send another comforter and guide, even the spirit of truth, and His great promise, "Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world." The promises of the Son have been as certainly and faithfully fulfilled as those of the Father.

2. The logical inference. The only logical inference from these manifold facts is that divine promises will always be fulfilled. Pastoral fulfillment in the past and present is our firm assurance of faithful fulfillment in the future. Many precious promises have been fulfilled, many are daily and hourly being fulfilled, and many are still to be fulfilled, such as the coming of the Son to judge the world and to receive to Himself the faithful of God. God's faithfulness should inspire us to faithfulness in return and to unlimited confidence in His word. "Let us hold fast the confession of our faith without wavering, for He is faithful that promised" (Heb. x. 23).

Bible References.—Gen. xxiii, 9-12; 1 Kings viii, 56; Ps. lxxxix, 3, 4; Math. vi, 4, 5; Luke xii, 32; John xx, 21; Acts xiii, 22; Rom. vi, 11; 1 Cor. i, 20; 2 Cor. i, 17; Tit. i, 2; Heb. ix, 1; 2 Tim. i, 1; 1 Pet. i, 4.

The Birth of Christian Endeavor. Twelve years ago Feb. 2, quietly and without ostentation, was born the first society of Christian Endeavor. Twelve years have nearly passed, and there is scarcely a land on the globe that has not such societies, and there is scarcely a language of a civilized nation in which the constitution has not been translated. God has multiplied the seed sown until now we have 1,400,000 fellow members in over 22,000 societies, and never was the outlook so bright for Christian Endeavor as it is to-day. The only feeling that should animate our hearts is one of devout gratitude to Almighty God. There is no room for self congratulation or for boasting. All that can be said is with deep humility to exclaim, "This is the Lord's doing."

Williston church, Portland, Me., the birthplace of Christian Endeavor, had been organized three years when Dr. Clark accepted its pastorate. The church was the outgrowth of a mission Sunday school and a branch of the State Street Congregational church of Portland. Rev. Burke P. Leavitt, recently of the Lincoln Park church, Chicago, was its first pastor. Its present pastor is Rev. Dwight M. Pratt, author of "A Decade of Christian Endeavor."

The Christian Endeavor society was organized in the parsonage of Williston church. For four years previous to this date Mrs. Clark had gathered about her a band of boys and girls for Christian nurture and work. This band was called the Mizpah circle, and from this circle came many of the original members of the first Christian Endeavor society, is Mr. Pratt says. "Mizpah was the birth of the Christian Endeavor movement." Most truly has Dr. Clark said that Mrs. Clark rocked the cradle in which the society was born.

CARMENCITA COMING

The Great Spanish Dancer Will Appear in "Duluth With 'The Prodigal Father'" Next Tuesday.

"The White Squadron," "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and Lewis Morrison at the Temple Next Week.

Field's Minstrels at the Lyceum on Monday—Marshall P. Wilder, the Humorist, on Wednesday.

Next week will be a lively one at the theaters and will make up for the quiet of the past two or three weeks. The appearance of Carmencita, the great Spanish dancer, will probably arouse greater interest than any other attraction, although Lewis Morrison ought to draw as well. She comes with "The Prodigal Father," a farce comedy, and will be at the Lyceum on Tuesday evening. On Monday Field's minstrels will give a performance at the Lyceum and on Wednesday evening Marshall P. Wilder will give one of his inimitable entertainments. On Saturday evening the Cornell university boys will give a concert.

"The White Squadron" will open the week at the Temple, playing Monday and Tuesday. In addition upon the bill "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will be presented both afternoon and evening. On Friday evening Lewis Morrison will present "Faust" and on Saturday evening "Richelieu."

FIELD'S MINSTRELS.

The Lyceum Will Give Its Patrons an Evening of Minstrelsy.

The merry lays of minstrelsy will resound at the Lyceum theatre on Monday, March 27. The attraction booked and announced is the A. G. Field Famous American Minstrels, and the entertainment is said to be the best in its particular line now touring the country. A. G. Field is the bright star of the aggregation, but scarcely less conspicuous in brilliancy is a secondary black face luminary, who is also prominently mentioned on the bills. Frank E. McNish has no equal as a darkey imitator, and a funnier man under a mask of sinister line would be hard to find. As a conversationalist, a talker to the audience, a burlesque orator and an ingenious initiator of the sinner pure cotton-field darkey, Frank E. McNish has few equals.

Besides him in the roster of comedians are Allen P. May, Tommy Donnelly and Geo. Jenkins. In addition upon the bill are mentioned a number of clever specialists. Among them are the Mignani brothers, musical hostlers; Jo. E. Lewis, the Apollonian wonder, and Kennedy and Wonder, the elastic comedians. The company carries a large band and orchestra and will give a grand spectacular parade Monday at 11:30 o'clock, also a concert in the evening. The magnificent settings of the "first part" are said to be something never before equaled in modern minstrelsy.

"THE WHITE SQUADRON."

The Great Patriotic and Romantic Play Which Has Won Great Popularity.

"The White Squadron," the great patriotic and romantic spectacle, which made such a hit at the Fourteenth Street theatre, New York City, and which cost A. V. Pearson over $50,000 before the curtain rose on the first performance, will be presented for the first time in the city at the Temple Monday. The production here will be identical with that in New York. Patriotic spectacle and melodrama all find place in "The White Squadron." The play itself has a national tone and appeals to all classes of theater-goers.

The scene of "The White Squadron" opens in Brazil. A man-of-war from each of the principal nations in the world arrives in the harbor of Rio Janeiro to protest formally against the holding of their various citizens by organized bands of brigands in Brazil. In act three takes place the congress of navies. Act four is in the Brazilian mountains. In this act are introduced six South American lamas.

During the action of the third act over 150 people are used on the stage. To properly present this great spectacle the company carries four loads of special scenery. "The White Squadron," with its boldness of conception, its wonderful third act, its dramatic strength and its picturesque quality is a work which is most fascinating in its many attractive features.

"The White Squadron" will be given on Monday and Tuesday evenings.

"THE PRODIGAL FATHER."

Carmencita, the Great Spanish Dancer, is With the Company.

The beautiful and entrancing Spanish dancer, Carmencita, will appear at the Lyceum on Tuesday evening in conjunction with Glen McDonough's enormously successful comedy, "The Prodigal Father," under the management of Messrs. C. B. Jefferson, Klaw and Erlanger. The phenomenally great success which attended Carmencita and the comedy at the Broadway theater, New York city, surpassed anything known for years. The delightful Spanish dancer and Messrs. Jefferson, Klaw and Erlanger's comedy company will give here an exact repetition of their New York performances. Carmencita, who has enthralled the very highest of New York society for three years, can depend upon a hearty welcome. The New York Herald has likened her to the subtle paintings of Gaudier. Her dancing, indeed, is divine, and she sings to a degree and captures the beholder. To the entrancing Spanish music of Alphonso Piretti, Carmencita dances the Cachucha as it has never been danced before by any living danseuse. Of Spanish birth, and brought up and trained in the royal court of Spain, as it were, she possesses all the elegance, grace and subtle charm of her splendid nationality, which traits are quickly discernible even on her first entrance. Her dance "Santitas" calls for all the serpentine and sinuous movement which can only be expected from a Spanish dancer whose life and very soul seem to be wrapped in the gracefulness of perfect motion.

Carmencita will appear between the second and third acts of the comedy, "The Prodigal Father," from the pen of Glen McDonough. The fun of the piece never flags from the rise to the fall of the curtain, and both the New York press and public have declared it one of the brightest and most charming of comedies.

Besides the great Carmencita, Messrs. Jefferson, Klaw & Erlanger's company includes George Delmon, George L. Boniface, Jr., Cecil Kingstone, Walter Thomas, George Gaston, Frank Caldwell, Blanche Chapman-Ford, Cora Macy, Hope Ross, Marguerite Franklin and Little Irene Franklin.

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN."

Stetson's Double Monster Company at the Temple Next Wednesday.

The version of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" interpreted by Stetson's Double Monster company, which will exhibit at the Temple Wednesday afternoon and evening, March 29, has met the special approval of Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, the immortal authoress of that world-famed drama, from the fact of Manager Stetson's adherence to the original text, which is a complete deviation from the custom of other "Uncle Tom" managers, who interpolate so many attempted gags, stale jokes and vulgar witticisms into their renditions that scarcely a vestige is left of the never-to-be-forgotten work. Aside from the great worth of the company, every act will be presented with new and elaborate scenery, painted by the master scenic artist of the world. The excellent company, two comical Toppies, the two ludicrous musical Toppies, the elegant scenery, the novel mechanical effects, the ferocious blood-brained, two brass band, the celebrated Lone Star quartet will all unite in making the engagement a most notable one.

MARSHALL P. WILDER.

The Famous Humorist Coming to the Lyceum Next Week.

Marshall P. Wilder, one of the most clever humorists and entertainers that ever stood before an audience, will appear at the Lyceum Wednesday evening. The Chicago Times says of him:

"Wilder has made more fun than any American humorist since Artemus Ward. He not only says funny things, but he is funny. He was born so and he can't help it, and we are glad he can't. He is a natural and the cause of mirth in others. He says funny things; he does funny things; he has been called a joke personified. We do not know exactly where he was born, but he imagines that he arrived on this sublimity sphere some what after the manner of James Russell Lowell's mocking bird, by running down a brook of laughter through the air. However this may be, soon after his arrival people began to laugh at him and laugh with him. He is welcome everywhere, and generally knows how to behave himself, but he is a bad man to invite to a funeral, unless, indeed, to make up one of the company in the last comedy on the way to the cemetery, for it will be remembered that Charles Lamb said that there were no jollier people to be met with than those who had seats in the carriage farthest from the hearse."

Miss Lotta Gilman, who will be remembered as the prima donna of the Calhoun Opera Company, is with the company and also Miss Cecelia Woolsey, a musical phenomenon, and Edwin F. Kendall, pianist.

LEWIS MORRISON.

He Will Appear at the Temple Next Friday and Saturday Evenings.

One of the finest attractions of the year at the Temple will be Lewis Morrison who appears on Friday and Saturday evenings of next week. Of Mr. Morrison's portrayal of Mephisto, it may be said that a more faithful conception of the character has never been given. His work is happily free from all manner of isms. Mephisto to Lewis Morrison is like Rip Van Winkle to Joseph Jefferson, it being a character of his own creation. Mr. Morrison, as an actor, ranks with the best in the profession.

One of the features which adds much to the general effect of the production is the perfection of the stage apparatus. The scenery used is appropriate and ingenious and in connection with the electric appliances, cadence and mechanical effects, combine to make a production the like of which is rarely seen on any stage. The Bucken scene in the fourth act is a masterpiece of realism and a sight once seen is not easily forgotten. In this, Mephisto is discovered upon a craggy height—the central figure—in a shower of falling meteors, directing with a star-tipped wand the revel of the mops and lost spirits. The costumes throughout are elegant.

On Saturday evening Mr. Morrison will be seen in "Richelieu."

THE CORNELL BOYS.

Concert at the Lyceum Saturday by the University Club.

The forty young men comprising the Glee, Banjo and Mandolin clubs of Cornell university will give one of their excellent and enjoyable concerts at the Lyceum on Saturday. This is the first appearance of the clubs in this city, and their Duluth friends—of which there are many—are making active preparations to entertain the boys royally. The clubs have been materially strengthened by the addition of new members and their relishing college songs, bright catchy banjo music and the sweet "Robin Hood" waltzes of the Mandolin club have won for them glowing press notices all over the country. The coming concert will without doubt be a great success.

Some Future Attractions.

Nat C. Goodwin in "A Gilded Fool" is is booked for an early date at the Temple, and Wm. H. Crane, one of the foremost comedians of the day, will also play an engagement with Mr. Condon in the near future.

Barlow Bros. Minstrels, one of the oldest minstrel organizations on the road, will be at the Temple the first week in April. Many old time favorites will be seen.

AN ACTRESS AND A SINGER.

Two Talented Women on the Stage Who Are Rising Rapidly.

Emily Bancker, the leading lady of that particular kind of Charles Frohman's comedians which is now performing "The Wedding Day" in private life Miss Thomas W. Riley, her husband being the well known comedian. Miss Bancker was born in New York city and made her debut on the stage at the age of 15 in a very brilliant performance called "The Pavement of Paris." She was the ingenue of the company, and most of her work since then has been in that line.

EMILY BANCKER.

Miss Bancker's next engagement was in St. Louis, Missouri, where she remained one season, leaving to accept an offer from the Hamiltons for their "Voyage in Suisse." During this tour she met Mr. Riley, to whom she was married during the second season.

Miss Bancker's reputation had reached the ears of Miss Rosina Vokes, and that lady secured her for leads in her company. She remained with Miss Vokes two seasons, when she joined Charles Frohman's forces, playing one of the widows in the "Dissonance-Gillets" farce. "Mr. Frohman transferred Miss Bancker to 'The Junior Part,' and when 'The Wedding Day' was put on she took the only available part, which, however, is entirely unworthy of her ability.

Unlike most actresses, Miss Bancker is not at all afraid of dress, and her apparel on the stage is always modest, though in excellent taste. Neither is she stage-struck—she was when she adopted the profession, but she has not been since, and now thinks of the theater only when she is in it. Her only fail is horseback riding, which she considers both beautiful and enjoyable. Miss Bancker is an only child, and her mother travels with her a great deal. At present her husband is a member of the same company as herself. She is the first member of her family to adopt the stage as a profession.

Miss Bancker is slight, tall, graceful and exceedingly pretty. Her manner is easy and unforced, and her smile is sufficient to put a visitor at ease within a moment. In conversation she is agreeable and is never at a loss for a reply to a query.

Lillian Elma is an English woman by birth, but an American by choice. She was born in London Sept. 13, 1868, and appeared on the stage for the first time at an early age merely as part of a picture in a spectacle. She lived in Manchester until 1881, when she came to America, where she received her education. When she was 10 years of age, Miss Elma appeared in a melodrama entitled "Only a Farmer's Daughter," which was written by her brother-in-law, Elliott Barnes. Later on she was a joint star with Mr. Barnes in a repertory of his dramas.

Miss Elma has chosen good deal of suitable work. Among some of the best known companies with which she has appeared are those of Barry and Fay, Hoyt and Thomas, Verand, Jarboe, Evans and Hoy and Gns Williams. While she was a member of the last named company, Miss Elma was in 1890 married to Francis J. Crilly, a Philadelphia lawyer.

LILLIAN ELMA.

The union was not a happy one, and in 1890 Miss Elma secured a divorce from her husband. She had at the time the stage temporarily and entered the National Conservatory of Music for the purpose of cultivating her voice for grand opera. She had intended to remain in the conservatory for several years longer than she did, but was unable to withstand the temptation of a very flattering offer held out to her by Gus Williams to create the prima donna role of Annie Condon in his new play, "April Fool."

She is now more in New York assisting, possibly, pursuing her musical studies and during the coming summer will probably accept an offer which has been made to her by a prominent manager to become the prima donna of a large comic opera company which will be organized to give the old favorites on an elaborate scale. Strange to say, Miss Elma does not like the stage and would leave it if she could afford to do so. She is a great student and reads whenever she is not studying. She has a high opinion of her own great facility and power.

Miss Elma pleads guilty to being what she calls a "phonograph crank," and she has a magnificent record in her room which she uses in the testing of her voice and also as a source of amusement. Miss Elma has a strong, pretty face and a beautifully rounded figure. She has no children, and this, she confesses, is the greatest regret of her life.

THE STORY OF MALTA

Interesting Features of the Wonderful Island and Its History Are Related by Mr. Ballou.

Biography of James G. Blaine, Which is Being Written by His Literary Executor, Gail Hamilton.

A New Novel From Farjeon's Clever Pen is Now in Press—The April Magazine.

M. M. Ballou, one of the most indefatigable of modern travelers, whose books have been read far and wide, not long ago made a protracted visit to Malta and studied the many interesting features of the island and of its history. The results of his study are embodied in "The Story of Malta," which has just been brought out from the Riverside Press and is for sale in Duluth by the Duluth Book and Paper company. The average tourist has not been attracted to Malta, and little realizes the pleasurable experiences which await the intelligent and observant visitor. Mr. Ballou's book cannot fail to inspire in many of his readers a desire to visit this wonderful island in the Mediterranean.

The Henry Bill Publishing company, of Norwich, Conn., has been entrusted with the publication of the biography of James G. Blaine, which is to be written by Gail Hamilton, Mr. Blaine's literary executor, a writer of world-wide fame and literary ability, who is better qualified to write the biography of Mr. Blaine than any other person. It will be a large octavo, with about 400 words per page, clear type, illustrated with fine engravings by the best artists, and substantially bound.

Gail Hamilton has for years been a member of the Blaine family. She has known the inner and outer life of the man who stood as the foremost American statesman and political leader. She had his respect and confidence; she was made by him his literary executor, and to her care were confided his papers, letters and all his historical and biographical remains. Her skill and her remarkable power and attractiveness, with a force and vividness of style which are the envy of her literary colleagues and the attainment of none, she undertakes to make this number as attractive as it is readable.

Workington's Illustrated Magazine comes to hand with a generous supply of good things for the entertainment of its rapidly growing circle of readers. The April number of this vigorous young magazine is the best that has yet been published, its table of contents showing great diversity of material and a most excellent list of contributors. The interest and value of its leading articles, its exceptional literary quality of its stories, poems, and department matter, are admirably supplemented by the fine press work and artistic illustrations which make this number as attractive as it is readable.

Houghton, Mifflin & Co., of Boston New York and Chicago, announce the publication of the Riverside Primer and Reader. Although this book is intended for use in primary schools, it is of special interest to the general public in that it claims to be the only reading book that child will accept as a preparation for the reading of good literature. The last twenty-three pages of the book are devoted entirely to that literature which the child has heard told him, but has never before had given him in such a shape that he could read it.

Cassell's popular "Sunshine" series of choice fiction has just made the following important additions to its list: "Mistress of the Mill," by Jules Verne; "The Case of the Cat," by Edgar Allan Poe; "The Case of the Cat," by Edgar Allan Poe; "The Case of the Cat," by Edgar Allan Poe.

The April issue of Lippincott's is mainly devoted to Columbus and the exposition. The complete novel, "Columbus in Love," by George Alfred Townsend ("Gat"), and the feature story, feelingly the great discoverer's relations with Beatrice Enrieux. The novel is fully illustrated. William Litcher tells "What the Publicity Department did for the Columbian Exposition." A portrait of Maj. Moses P. Handy accompanies this article.

Julian Hawthorne attempts "A Description of the Inexpressible,"—the buildings of the fair, and Frederick M. Bird characterizes "The Religion of 1903" and that of Columbus. The non-Columbian papers include one by Edgar Salas on "Sappho," an installment of M. Crofton's "Men of the Day," covering A. A. Frode, Gounod, Dr. Farrar, Gen. Howard and Congressman Holman; and an illustrated tale by Annie Flint—"Abraham's Mother," which is the second in the series of Lippincott's Notable Stories. The poetry of the number is by Florence Earle Rates, Owen Wister and Robert Lowman.

The third part of Mrs. Catherine's serial, "Old Kaskaskia," which opens the March number, continues in the Monthly, is full of interest, and leaves the reader at a point which will make him wish that the next number of the magazine followed at a shorter interval than a month. The author's story is not only of historical interest, but its vivacity and vivid way of drawing character and describing events make this story rank as the best work she has done.

As it happens, fiction is not otherwise represented in this number of the magazine, unless we include Elizabeth Hallam's clever sketch of negro life, called "Mammy's Wonderful Luck." Edward Everett Hale's first paper on "The College Days" is written with much brightness. Another paper of reminiscence interest is a charming essay by H. C. Merwin "On Growing Old," while Dr. William Henry Furness offers some "Random Reminiscences of Emerson," which throw new light on the personality of the philosopher of Concord. Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston.

"Playing With Fire" is the title of a bright little story translated from the French and printed in the Argument of March 20. It tells of a pretty young widow and a lad of 18, who are thrown much together at a summer resort. Their platonic friendship, under the influence of a combination of instances, suddenly changes to a warm feeling, and it takes a clever piece of presence of mind on her part to bring them safely out of the affair.

The North American Review for March contains a number of important articles upon subjects that are engaging public attention at the present moment. Hon. J. M. Kaul, secretary of agriculture, contributes an interesting paper on "American Farming a Hundred Years Hence," a subject on which he is peculiarily well fitted to write. The question of Hawaiian annexation is authoritatively treated from two different points of view, first by Lorrin A. Thurston, ex-prime minister of Hawaii and chairman of the Hawaiian annexation commission, who points out the "Advantages of Annexation" in an able and forcible manner, and, secondly, by George Ticknor Curtis, who sums up the case against annexation in a concise article entitled "Is It Constitutional?" Under the title of "Fads of Medical Men" Dr. Cyrus Edison, sanitary superintendent of the New York health department, writes entertainingly of the different cure-alls and patent medicines which have from time to time enjoyed an ephemeral popularity.

The "Art Aspects of the World's Fair," as set forth by Isabel McDougall in the leading illustrated article in Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for April, makes a beautiful and impressive showing of the wonderful White City at Chicago. Two other articles in this number, especially noteworthy from a pictorial point of view in addition to their literary interest, are Dr. Popoff's "Russian Folk Songs" and Charlotte Courson's "Bavarian Highlands." "From Ashes to Palms" is a study in Lenten lore, with some curious illustrations of Paschal customs in Europe. Other attractive illustrated papers are: "Birds in Flight," by Selby Hart Woodworth; "A Celestial Farm on Long Island," by Don Seitz; "The Symbolism of Lines," by J. Carter Beard; and ex-Mayor Oakley Hall's reminiscences of "The New York Fanny Kemble." A second installment of Etta W. Pierce's new serial story, "Jack of the Light," is given, together with short tales and sketches by David Ker, Katherine Strickland, Charles L. Crandall, Serena Townsend, Mary A. Denison, Eleanor Wadell and others.

"Tiny Trotter" is a story of Australian life by E. W. Hornung, with a turn at England to give it contrast. It is a love story, of course, Tiny being the heroine and the manager of her father's sheep ranch the hero. The author's style is fresh and attractive, and the book promises to be a favorite. It is from the press of the Cassell Publishing company.

The Northern Pacific hotel agent will in due time publish low excursion rates to Chicago and return for this occasion, while its double daily passenger train service, including through coaches of both classes (standard and tourist) to Chicago, will as usual be at the head of the list in every particular.

To help you in fixing the exact place your place of residence while attending the World's fair, we have placed in the hands of our ticket agent at your station a book compiled by perfectly trustworthy parties, called "Homes for Visitors to the World's Fair." This little book, which you can purchase for fifty cents, contains a list of about 600 private families who will accommodate visitors in Chicago during the time of the fair, viz: May 1st to October 31st. The book also gives a list of the hotels and their locations; has twelve full-page large scale maps, each representing a section of the city, so that with this information before him the intending visitor himself can, at leisure, select the quarter of the city in which he would prefer to stop, corresponding in advance with one or more families in that locality with regard to rates and the accommodations desired.

Dr. Buckley in His Notes of a Zingap Tour. A gentleman of peculiar appearance seated himself opposite to whom I had had the pleasure of an introduction years ago. It was Mr. Marshall P. Wilder, the ventriloquist, humorist, delineator, the witty entertainer who has demonstrated the ability to succeed against heavy odds. Entertaining on the platform, if possible he is even more so in private conversation. Unlike many professional humorists, whose repertoire is manufactured with the utmost pains and exhausts all they know, he is spontaneous, responding in the by-play of conversation to a mixture of sympathy and shrewdness worthy of Artemus Ward. None of the multitudes that hear him every night as he lies to and fro through the land can be said to have been as interested as I was. If I had not noticed him that he was being interviewed, it would be easy to divert the readers with some of his unparalleled reminiscences of Europe and America. But perhaps the statement would have checked the flow, and as it was not made it would be desirable to state anything that was said.

PALM SUNDAY TOMORROW.

Special Devotional Exercises To Be Held All Next Week.

Tomorrow will be Palm Sunday, the sixth Sunday in Lent. In the Catholic churches the palms will be blessed and distributed among the communicants. The Episcopal churches will be decorated with palms.

Next week will be Holy week. Special devotional services will be held in all the Christian churches. During the latter part of the week the services in the Catholic and Episcopal churches will become especially solemn and impressive.

In New York the importation of real palms for Palm Sunday has begun and the dealers are now busy spreading the leaves and weaving them into curious and beautiful designs. When cut the leaves are closed and come in the thick semi-circular branches that are torn apart by the wind.

The first and simplest method of using the original solid leaf for decoration is to cleave the branch apart so that the separate leaves fall flat like the sticks of a fan. But after this is done the leaf can be plaited into almost any conceivable design. The central leaves can be left standing and the lower ones cut, so when the lateral leaves are woven straight out from the branch there is a cross of palm, or by complicated plaiting the side leaves can be brought into small basket like cups around the central leaves and used to flank the altar with bunches of light yellow green.

Such decorations are much in demand for Catholic homes. The ceremony of blessing the palms, one of the most imposing of the Roman Catholic church is performed after the decorator has finished his work, and of course, such leaves are distributed gratuitously.

DOCTOR AND PATIENT.

Paine's Celery Compound Cures Where Physicians Fail.

The position of the physician who deals with the nervous and the feeble, the pain-worn, the hysterical, the sleepless, is one of the utmost gravity. Prolonged strain of mind and body, or of body, is apt to result all too quickly in sudden collapse.

One of the greatest physicians the world has ever seen, who was for years the most prominent man upon the faculty of Dartmouth, realizing the extent of the physician's responsibility, set about to discover a remedy that should build up the nervous system, and cure the ills that result from impoverished blood and diseased nerves. He discovered that greatest of all remedies, Paine's celery compound, and submitted the formula to fellow physicians.

There was no secret about it. The formula from that time till now has been furnished, whenever asked for, to reputable physicians, and they have time and again examined it, and knowing that it is good, have recommended it to those who are sick.

No other remedy was ever so highly endorsed, and so generally used and recommended by physicians.

DR. J. LITTLEJOHN.

Dr. William Home, who for a dozen years has been one of the most prominent editors of, and writers for, medical journals, writing in May of last year, said:

"I have been using Paine's celery compound for six weeks for myself and wife. I am like all graduated M. D.s, opposed to proprietary remedies. I was induced to try the celery compound after reading Commodore Howell's letter. I feel conscientiously inclined to testify to the high quality of the celery compound. I am just finishing the sixth bottle. I have recommended the compound to many.

"For five years I have been afflicted, each season, with excessive nervousness, so sensitive was I that any little noise caused me to start and flutter. This extreme nervous condition induced a most unpleasant affliction of eczema, a partly nervous disease with me. For five seasons I have been full of itching, red, eruptive spots. Three weeks ago this condition came upon me again, but with much more excessive nervous prostration. I had been taking the Paine's celery compound. My unpleasant nervous condition is entirely gone. I sleep well and have a good appetite. My dyspepsia is gone and I easily digest all I eat.

"I enclose the case of Mr. Littlejohn of Janesville, Wis.

"Some six years ago last June, Mr. John Littlejohn complained to me of a peculiar sensation in his head and neck, right side. I examined him closely and told him he had a blood clot at the base of the brain, I thought, or a small tumor pushing upon the nerves at the base of the brain.

the brain. I recommended him to one of the best physicians, Dr. J. B. W. He went, and the doctor made his diagnosis. I saw the doctor the next day, and he said he had found some undue pressure at the base of the brain. Dr. W.'s diagnosis was the same as my own, although we had neither of us known anything of the other's diagnosis. There was some unsteady twitching of the facial muscles on the right side, and especially of the right eye.

"Mr. Littlejohn seemed to be completely unbalanced and 'jerky,' and quite unsteady. This is a truthful statement of Mr. Littlejohn's condition. He tried every available remedy by the recommendation of some eight or ten physicians in Janesville, Chicago, and Milwaukee and other places. All the treatment failed to relieve him. I recommended Paine's celery compound. It completely cured him."

"I had been a traveling man for a great many years, and the exposures and worry that follow business transactions, caused me to break down with nervous prostration so that for several days they thought I was dying. Besides this, I had the creeping paralysis in my left arm, hand and side so that they were almost entirely useless, and I had a most severe case of catarrh to the extent that it almost destroyed my eyesight and ruined my hearing. I had no sense of taste whatever for two years. I had all this so that I was used completely up for five years, so you can judge of my condition. And after all of these doctors' failings, I finally cured myself by using Paine's celery compound."

Is there a sick person who can afford not to try a bottle of this wonderful remedy?

DON'T DELAY!

To succeed in any enterprise nowadays it requires originality of thought and a boldness of enterprise, combined with tact, ingenuity and skill. The phenomenal success attained by the Copeland Medical Institute is largely due to the broad-gauged manner in which its business is conducted. When you pause to think of the many thousands of suffering people who can never afford to pay the price asked by many specialists, what could demonstrate more true generosity and sympathy than the exceedingly low rate made by this institution, thus enabling all to get the best treatment known to medical science, and at the hands of physicians who have spent their lives in the study of their specialties. It is with pardonable pride that the physicians of the Copeland Medical Institute point to the work they are doing in this community. The testimony of patients who from week to week give some indication of its extent and character, but its real scope and nature can only be learned from the hundreds of patients who are receiving treatment under these physicians. Bear in mind the fact that the present offer made by this institute will not hold good after

NASAL POLYPI.

Tumors of the Nose That Obstruct the Breathing.

Many cases of nasal obstruction are due to the formation of small tumors, or polypi, in the nose. When these tumors are present in sufficient amount to totally obstruct the passages, the mouth is forced to perform the functions of the nose, which it does imperfectly, as it was intended for another purpose. The functions of the nose are to warm and moisten the air in passing to the lungs, which, if not warmed and moistened properly, but of patient's lungs, cold and dry, may give rise to any of the various lung troubles such as asthma, bronchitis, pneumonia, phthisis, etc.

There are a great many people who would rather suffer with a nasal obstruction and breathe through their mouths a lifetime than submit to a surgical operation. It must be admitted that the old-fashioned operation for the removal of polypi was painful in the extreme, but nasal surgery has kept a steady pace with the advancement in other branches of medical science, till now the operation for the removal of nasal polypi has been simplified to a degree in which, in point of pain and loss of blood, the patient is conscious all the time.

To illustrate the amount of distress caused, the remark is quoted of a gentleman who lately submitted to an operation for the removal of nasal polypi. He said: "There was no more pain or discomfort than that occasioned by being shaved by a first-class barber."

The following case of Mr. John Goggin, who resides at 62 West Superior street, is related to show the distress caused by nasal polypi and the simplicity of their removal when done by a skilled specialist.

His story is as follows: "I suffered for a number of years with obstructions in the nose—the doctors called them polypi. Sometimes I could get a clear breath through the passages and at other times none at all. It seemed to me to be worse in damp weather, when the tumors would swell up and discharge a thin, watery fluid, that kept me applying my handkerchief continually. I suffered with dull, heavy headaches over the eyes. Sometimes I could get a clear breath through the passages and at other times none at all. ### IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

Everything Seems to Indicate an Active Awakening from the Lenten Depression After Next Week.

A Reception on the Remodeled Steamer Osifrage is One of the Prospective Social Events.

A Grand Ball May be Given in the New Passenger Whalerback Christopher Columbus.

There's a sort of quiver in the social world, a kind of premonition of the whirl of awakening which will take place in a little over a week, and while the present is very dull, the future looks rosy enough to satisfy the most fastidious. There are rumors of a couple of new sketching clubs, also a midsummer canoeing trip on a large scale in which a number of well-known Duluth ladies and gentlemen will course o'er Gitchee-Gumee and take in the entire north shore in their ramble.

World's fair parties are beginning to be formed and the two big pleasure steam yachts, the Picket and Nautilus, will have social parties for Jackson Park. The Osifrage owners will give a reception on their beautifully fitted out boat in about ten days to which a very select party of people will be invited, and it is said that a grand ball will be given on the big whaleback steamer, the Christopher Columbus to which the best people of Duluth and Superior will be invited.

Winter amusements are about over and society is fully prepared to don the Easter-like garb of rejoicing.

THE OLD AND THE NEW

An Old Railroad Man Has Something to Say About the Great Improvement in Sleeping Cars.

He Compares the Old Milwaukee Sleeper Madison With One of the Compartment Cars.

Few Homes Today Have Such Conveniences and Comforts as Do These Palaces on Wheels.

"A few months ago the famous old sleeper Madison which used to run between Milwaukee and Prairie du Chien in the early days of sleeping cars on the Milwaukee road, was in the St. Paul coach yards," said a well known railroad man a few days ago, "and to the railroad men who were conversant with its history, it was quite an old timer. It was a gorgeous affair in its day and was called a 'palace on wheels' by the Milwaukee Sentinel when it first made its appearance. I don't remember exactly but I think it was old Jimmy Little, who was engineer of locomotive No. 6, who pulled the train. I know Aleck Rogers, afterward superintendent or something of that kind, was conductor, and Fred Underwood, now general manager of the Soo line, was baggage man, and I well, I was the excuse who acted in the capacity of brakeman. The excuse wasn't a good one, though, for Rogers gave me the grand bounce at the end of the round trip. Oh, yes; I had almost forgotten the fireman, 'Young' Jimmy Little, one of the finest men who ever 'pulled a plug' or 'hooked her up' on a heavy grade. Young Jimmy was firing for his father then but was one of the best of fellows."

"The old sleeper was of the same old-fashioned type, a saloon sandwich or a cup of boiling chowchow. In the brief period of time allowed—generally about five minutes in reality, but nominally half an hour—the new car drove all those unpleasant things into the dusty archives of forgetfulness, only to be talked about by the happy passengers of the compartment car over their well-cooked breakfast in the adjoining dining car."

In cars of the old type frightened mothers or parents grew weary of huddling their children close to them because open doors were so near and there was so great an opportunity of accident to the tottering "dearies," but in the new compartment car the little ones can roam about the whole train with absolute safety, the vestibules making one continuous room with careful attendants for each ingress or egress at every stopping place.

The unlearned, but comprehensive summing up of a freight brakeman who inspected the old and new cars and delivered his opinion in the buffet of the Northwestern train, was incoherent but it was repeating: "Them vanished kyars is getting too d—n tip for anything!"

Awfully beautiful the flowers are at Anderson's, florist, Merchant's hotel.

The Only Line That Does It.
The St. Paul & Duluth railroad is the only line running three daily trains between Duluth and West Superior and St. Paul and Minneapolis. It is the only line running a fast limited train to St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Is the only line making connections with three daily trains to Chicago and all points East. Is the only line running through and separate sleepers to St. Paul and Minneapolis without change, and is the only line that can sell you a ticket to any point and check your baggage through.

"Formerly the traveling family undressed behind curtains which swayed with every vibration of the train but in the new car each family, if desired, could be absolutely alone, in a separate room, or if one room was not sufficient to accommodate the party two or more rooms could be thrown en suite. The old sleeping car had an uncomfortable straight-backed seat in a corner where two lovers of the weed could smoke at the same time while other would-be smokers would have to await their turn. Meanwhile the aroma of the good, bad or indifferent tobacco would gently but persistently filtrate into the body of the sleeper and tickle the olfactory of sensitive females or straight-faced preachers, who believed that the smoke from burning tobacco was but the simile of the hereafter environments of the users of the weed 'nicotina'."

The new sleeper or compartment car had no smoking compartment, but instead had a companion car attached to the sleeper and dust-proof vestibule where perfect ventilation made smudging impossible and confined the smell, if any to the car itself. The old sleeper had no provision for gastronomic or mental comfort or reflection but the new one had a library and reading room attached where the latest and best of the illustrated weeklies could always be had free of charge and each compartment had portable tables where a comfortable meal could be served from the buffet car to those who wanted privacy or were unable to move about.

World's Fair Visitors.

An intending visitor to the coming World's fair at Chicago need have no fear as to the possibility of securing satisfactory accommodations, at reasonable rates, at either the many hotels or residences listed in a neat pamphlet entitled, "Homes for Visitors at the World's Fair," compiled at great expense and published by a trustworthy Chicago firm. This book contains a list of about 6000 private families who will accommodate visitors in Chicago during the time of the fair, viz: May 1st to October 30th; gives their names and addresses, and number of rooms each will have to spare. The book also gives a list of the hotels and their locations; has twelve full-page, large-scale maps, each representing a section of the city, so that with this information before him the intending visitor himself can, at leisure, select the quarter of the city in which he would prefer to stop, corresponding in advance with one or more families in that locality with regard to rates and the accommodations desired.

The Wisconsin Central lines with its time publish low excursion rates to Chicago and return for this occasion, while its double daily passenger train service, including through sleeping and dining cars to Chicago, will be usual at the head of the list in every particular.

To help you in fixing in advance upon your place of residence while attending the World's fair, we have placed in the hands of our agent at your station copies of this work, which may be obtained at 50 cents per copy.

Swickley, Penn.: We had an epidemic of cholera, as our physicians called it, in this place lately, and I made a great hit with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. I sold four dozen bottles of it in one week and have since sold nearly a gross. This remedy did the work and was a big advertisement for me. Several persons who had been troubled with diarrhea for two or three weeks were cured by a few doses of this medicine.
